GERMAN BOLSHEVIKI OVERTHROW EBERT

YEGGS ROB OWL STORE IN OAKLAND; GET $2000

Professional Safe Blowers Saw the Way Into Establishment Through Ceiling From An Office Located Above It

ROLL SAFE TO REAR AND USE EXPLOSIVES

Sensational Burglary Follows Similar Robberies of Same Concern in Other Cities in Which Adept Methods Used

By sawing a hole through the floor of Dr. J. A. Lesoine's operating room, which is on the floor above the Owl drug store at Thirteenth and Broadway, burglars last night effected an entrance, blew open the safe and secured about $2000 in cash, which represented the receipts of Saturday and Sunday.

The robbers must have known their ground thoroughly as they cut the hole through which the entrance was made at a point where it was impossible to observe their movements from the street. The safe, which was located in the front of the store in the balcony, was rolled to the rear and there blown open. The job was a clean one and is unquestionably the work of a gang who have been robbing Owl Drug Company stores all along the coast.

Stores at Sacramento and Stockton have been robbed within the past two weeks and only four days ago a clerk in an Owl drug store at Portland, having occasion to reenter the store after closing hours, was startled to see a saw methodically cutting away at a spot in the ceiling. He called the police, but the robbers evidently got wind of the fact that they were discovered and made good their escape.

ROLL SAFE BACK, THEN BLOW IT OPEN

The exact method of entry was effected as follows: The robbers jimmied their way into the offices of Dr. J. A. Lesoine, who occupies the floor above the Owl drug store at Thirteenth and Broadway. They then entered one of the operating rooms and sawed their way through the floor.

They then dropped down through the hole, which is about two feet long and one foot wide. Dropping to the balcony of the store they at once got hold of the safe and rolled it back to the rear of the balcony, where it was drilled and blown open.

Inspector Richard V. McSorley, who was detailed on the case, stated that the work on the safe was identical with that found at both Stockton and Sacramento and the fact that the men used a saw, brace and bit to cut through from a floor above would seem to show that it is the same gang that has been operating in other cities.

The gang seems to make Owl drug stores their specialty. They are also able to get the "lay of the land" before they start work.

DROP COMES ON FLOOR OF OFFICE.

One of the features of the robbery and which would indicate that a quick get-away was made, is that on the floor of Dr. Lesoine's office they dropped three coins, one penny, one dime and one 50-cent piece.

H. F. Hart, assistant manager, refused to say just what amount was taken, other than that it was probably close to $2000. He fixes the time of the robbery as after 10:15 o'clock last night. In discussing the case he said: "I made it my business to see that everything was all right at 10:15 last night before going home. I know that the robbers must have delayed their work until after I left. Of course the way they made their entry and getaway it was impossible that any one in the store during the last few minutes that we were open would have had any suspicion of the robbery.

GANG EXPERIENCED; GLOVES ARE USED

"The hole which was cut was at a point where it was the least likely to be discovered from the street and they were in a position, after rolling the safe to the rear of the balcony, to work with the greatest deliberation, as they were safe from all prying eyes."

That this gang are old experienced hands is further evidenced by the fact that they wore gloves, thus rendering it impossible for the police to detect them by their fingerprints.

The premises, according to Inspector McSorley, who is working on the case, were thoroughly studied by the criminals and every move was planned beforehand. The police are convinced that the same gang blew the safe at the Owl store in Sacramento last month, when $1750 was secured. A few weeks later the Goddard Theater safe was blown and over $1500 was taken.

The police are completely baffled,

LIEUTENANT FRANK L. MULLER, Oakland man, taken captive on U-boat and returned to England when diver fleet surrendered.

OAKLAND LAD, DIVER CAPTIVE, IS RETURNED

Lieutenant Frank L. Muller, son of Henry Muller, 1684 83d avenue, Oakland, was taken on board the German submarine Deutschland from the torpedoed American army cargo ship Ticonderoga, September 30, and was brought to Harwich yesterday by the U-boat, according to Associated Press despatches today. With Muller was Julius H. Fulcher, who was wounded severely in the thigh when the Ticonderoga went down, according to the Harwich correspondent of the London Daily Express. He escaped on a raft and was picked up by the U-boat. Lieutenant Muller was taken aboard by the same boat, but Lieutenant Fulcher did not learn of his presence until some days later.

QUESTIONED ABOUT AMERICAN TROOPS

"They gave me a drink of brandy and questioned me about American troops and other things," said Lieutenant Fulcher in an interview. "I was then taken to the forehead, where I had to sleep with not less than thirty-five German sailors who lived in this dungeon. The first bath I had was when a rain squall hit the submarine while I was on deck.

"On the eighth day of my captivity Germany sent a peace note to President Wilson, and on the eleventh day the submarines were recalled from the American coast. On the thirteenth day we encountered a Norwegian vessel to Australia. She was captured and sunk after her provisions had been transferred and the crew turned adrift in a small boat 1000 miles from land.

"We fired sixty shots at an English sailing ship two days later, but two British cruisers appeared and we submerged to a depth of 150 feet. The cruisers dropped depth charges and the submarine trembled.

"On October 26, when the U-boat was recalled, I had been on board twentyfive days. When I arrived at Kiel I was told I would be sent home by way of Copenhagen, but later two officers came and told me I could go to England on one of the surrendered submarines if I wished. I accepted gladly and found that the U-boat was the same one which had torpedoed my ship.

FULCHER BROUGHT BACK ON SAME BOAT

"The Germans treated me very well, but I have come to the conclusion that if a man can stand twenty-five days on a German U-boat he can stand anything."

Lieutenant Muller was brought back on the same boat with Lieutenant Fulcher.

Three San Francisco bay men were victims of the sinking of the Ticonderoga, the former German liner torpedoed by an enemy submarine in midocean, September 30.

The Ticonderoga victims were Lieutenant Muller; Sprague S. Magruder, 2416 Webster street, San Francisco, paymaster on the liner, formerly employed with Shreve & Company and a member of the Olympic club, killed, and Frank Sanvorn, brother of Mrs. R. H. Kinney, 141 Fourth street, Richmond, missing.

Lieutenant Muller is one of seven sons of the Oakland resident, four of whom are in the service. The lieutenant was an enlisted man in the army transport service and received his commission when the United States entered the war. He is aged 27 and unmarried. The brothers in the service are Major William Muller, at American Lake; Walter G. Muller, a cadet at West Point Military Academy, and George A. Muller, enlisted. Henry A. Muller, another brother, married, resides in Oakland, and Albert the youngest, is a student in a Dominican order seminary in Washington, D. C.

"You must write us," shouted one of them.

HARWICH, England, Nov. 25 (by the Associated Press).—In the presence of Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, twenty-eight more German U-boats surrendered. This was the most imposing flotilla to haul down the German flag thus far. It included several very large submarines and four of the cruiser type, one being nearly 350 feet long.

The noted cruiser submarine Deutschland U-153 was among the number. She carried two American officers who had been rescued from the American army cargo ship Ticonderoga, torpedoed on September 30 last. The officers were taken to Kiel by the Deutschland, which was returning from a three-months' cruise in American waters, and were landed at Harwich.

DENSMORE WILL TELL STORY TO GRAND JURY

Director-General of the U. S. Employment Service Promises to Return to San Francisco to Testify at Hearing

FOUND IN SOUTH AFTER THREE DAYS

Says Judge Griffin's Letter to the Governor "Puts Things Strong Enough;" Will Visit Seattle Before His Return

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—J. B. Densmore, director general of the United States employment service, whose report last Friday to the secretary of labor attacked the conduct of public officials of San Francisco, today promised to return from Portland to answer the subpena issued by the grand jury, which has announced an investigation into the charges he made.

Densmore was found in the north after a three-day search. According to despatches he spent yesterday in Portland and conferred with representatives of the Metal Trades Council concerning questions at issue between members of the council and their employees in the shipyards.

"Judge Griffin's letter to Governor Stephens, recommending a new trial for Thomas J. Mooney seems to put things strogly enough and to corroborate my report on the case made to Secretary of Labor Wilson," said Densmore. He declined in advance of the official release of the report at Washington to discuss it further.

Densmore said that after the conclusion of his business here today he would depart for Seattle and later would return to San Francisco to answer the subpena. He said, however, the date of his return to San Francisco was uncertain.

McCARTHY SENDS WIRE TO NORTH.

Foreman McCarthy of the grand jury wired the chief of police of Portland to locate Densmore and send him back. He also sent the following message to Densmore:

"J. B. Densmore, Director General United States Employment Service, Department of Labor, Portland, Ore.: The grand jury of the city and county of San Francisco has issued a subpena for you to substantiate the charges contained in your report to the secretary of labor, published in the Call on Friday, November 22. Will you please advise and wire the date and hour of your return. The grand jury will arrange to meet you immediately upon your arrival. Please wire my expense. W. H. McCARTHY,

"Foreman Grand Jury."

McCarthy last night said:

"The subpena for Densmore was issued on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock and it was given to Detective Hearn.

"John Doe subpenas also have been issued for every one of his assistants. We intend, if possible, to have every one of these men before the grand jury tonight. We do not know their names, but unless Densmore appears with his assistants before the grand jury to tell what he knows, I can promise that there will be something doing."

WORD AWAITED FROM DINGEE.

In the meantime further word was awaited from William J. Dingee, whose charges against former Justice of the Supreme Court Frederick W. Henshaw were incorporated into the report of Densmore. Dingee intimated that he would have other disclosures to make.

Found at the home of a friend in Porterville, Dingee, when asked to reply to the statement of Henshaw that Dingee once repudiated the charges he made against the judge and other men of prominence, said:

"I don't propose to enter into a controversy with Henshaw at this time. All I care to say is that when I get ready to make another statement it will be one that will raise the hair off the heads of a lot of people in San Francisco. It will be a waste of time to try to get me to discuss anything connected with this and collateral matters before I am ready to do so. My affairs for the present will keep me in Porterville, and I don't know when I will return to San Francisco. In the meantime I will not permit myself to become involved in long-distance discussion with Judge Henshaw or other persons."

British Warships Start for Kiel to Enforce Armistice

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A flotilla of British minesweepers left the Firth of Forth at 9 o'clock this morning for Kiel to open up a passage for one battleship and a squadron of allied destroyers, which will soon be despatched to the German people to see that the remainder of the German fleet is disarmed and interned, according to the terms of the armistice.

The British squadron will be commanded by Vice-Admiral Browning and will comprise the dreadnaught Hercules and ten destroyers. American, French and Italian admirals will accompany Vice-Admiral Browning.

Wilhelmshaven will be visited as well as Kiel.

PETITION FOR IRELAND IS SENT WILSON

Sponsored and signed by Archbishop Hanna, Bishop Cantwell and Bishop Grace, and bearing the signatures of all the 800 Catholic pastors and priests of California who are American citizens, including the presidents of Catholic colleges and the provincials of the various Catholic religious orders, a petition espousing the political freedom of Ireland, to be presented by Senator Phelan to President Wilson before the President leaves for the peace conference, was forwarded to Washington today.

Similar petitions from the Catholic hierarchy and priests in every diocese of the United States are being signed today by approximately 20,000 prelates and priests, to be despatched in quick succession to the White House in support of the appeal from the San Francisco diocese.

The petition follows:

That, whereas, the people of the United States have, in accordance with the constitutional laws of the said United States, entered into this world war;

And, whereas, our President, his excellency, the Honorable Woodrow Wilson, commander-in-chief of the forces of the United States, has declared that our object is not territorial aggrandizement, or the maintenance of secret diplomacy, or the old struggle for the balance of power, so-called; but the self-determination of all nations, small as well as great;

And, whereas, the Irish nation is the oldest nation in Europe and the closest connected with these United States;

Therefore, we, as here below signed, as American citizens, in accordance with our constitutional rights, petition his excellency, the President, to use the unique position of the United States at this conjuncture to the end that:

The claims of Ireland to be a free and independent nation in the fellowship of nations shall be acknowledged by the United States;

And the place of Ireland in whatsoever congress may be gathered after the war to agree on the future of the people may be assured by the influence of the United States in such measure that Ireland may stand in equal conditions with Poland and Serbia and Belgium and all the wronged nations of the world.

U. S. TAKES BAN OFF SHOPPING FOR CHRISTMAS

All requests that have been made heretofore to restrict Christmas buying were called off today by Washington.

The restrictions had for their object the conservation of labor and stores in delivery systems and the avoidance of congestion on transportation lines busy with hauling troops, material and supplies necessary in the war, but the armistice has brought a change.

The following telegram was received from the Council of National Defense by the State Council of Denfense, making this announcement this morning:

"As one of the steps essential to the rapid establishment of normal after-the-war conditions, the Council of National Defense should and hereby does lift its ban in connection with holiday buying in the desire to give a natural impetus to the re-employment of those normally engaged in the production of holiday material and in the holiday trade."

French Envoy to Accompany Wilson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—French Ambassador Jusserand will accompany President Wilson to the peace conference, it was learned authoritatively today.

BAVARIA PUTS WAR BLAME ON GERMANY

Former Ally of Kaiser Holds That He Started the World Conflict; Kurt Eisner Is Speaker for New Republic

FIRST DOCUMENT OF PROOF IS SHOWN

Minister at Berlin on July 18, 1914, Knew of Ultimatum to Be Forwarded to the Serbian Government

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Full blame for the war is laid upon Germany by Kurt Eisner, head of the new Bavarian republic, who is making public state documents to confirm his accusation.

"I blame Germany, and the German people agree with me," declared Eisner at Munich, according to a Basle despatch to the Petit Parisien today.

The first of the documents promised by the head of the South German republic to prove the culpability of the Central powers has just been made public. It is a memorandum from the Bavarian minister at Berlin, dated July 18, 1914, stating that the Berlin government had determined upon sending an ultimatum to Serbia.

The ultimatum was postponed, the memorandum said, to enable Poincare of France and M. Viviani of the French cabinet to get out of Petrograd, where they were paying an official visit.

It was recognized in Berlin at the time that Serbia could not accept the terms of the ultimatum.

CLAIMS OTHER PAPERS EXIST

Herr Eisner claims the discovery of other important diplomatic documents. The Bavarian president demands that southern Germany have her own voice in the peace conference and that Berlin shall not speak for the southern states.

The Austro-Hungarian ultimatum to Serbia was despatched on July 23, 1914.

VIENNA, Wednesday, Nov. 20 (by the Associated Press).—Difficulties attending the process of returning to a peace footing after a great war are illustrated here. Munition factories have been shut down, throwing out of work hundreds of thousands of men and women, who have little prospect of obtaining employment because of the lack of coal. Cold weather has already begun and snow has fallen in Vienna.

PROFITEERS ARE ALSO HIT

While the streets of the city are bright and the theaters and opera are open, well-dressed people are walking or using street cars, as cabmen demand from $2 to $3 a ride. This is all on the surface. There is untold misery in the poorer quarters, with a constan cry for bread, of which there is provided half a loaf a week. The price of a shirtwaist is $100, stockings cost $5 and a suit of clothes $150. The profiteers are also hit, the industry of weaving paper into material for the manufacture of men's and women's clothing having virtually collapsed. This material, which once sold for 6 cents a yard, is now being dumped on the market at any price.

BASEL, Nov. 25 (Havas).—The Hungarian government has requested the allies to hold an immediate discussion of peace terms, according to reports reaching Swiss territory.

Edwards to Replace Retired U. S. General

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Assignment of Major General Clarence R. Edwards to succeed Major General William M. Crozier in command of the northeastern department, with headquarters at Boston, was announced today at the war department.

The resignation of General Crozier, former chief of ordnance, with 42 years of service to his credit, was announced yesterday.

Pershing Boom Is Launched in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25.—A campaign for the election of General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, to the presidency in 1920 was formerly launched in Ohio today by the incorporation of the "Pershing Republican League."

Furniture Factory Limits Removed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Restrictions on the manufacture of furniture, which were to have gone into effect January 1 next, were today revoked by the War Industries Board.

Soldiers and Workmen Rule Berlin, Declare Socialistic Republic

LONDON, Nov. 25, 5:10 p. m.—The allies are considering a joint application for the extradition of the kaiser, said a news agency despatch from Belgium today.

(By International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 25.—German radicals led by Karl Liebknecht have overthrown the republican government at Berlin, headed by Chancellor Frederick Ebert, according to advices from Berne and Copenhagen to the Sketch today.

Turmoil prevails in the German capital, the despatches said.

(The followers of Liebknecht are known as the Spartacus group and are in sympathy with the Russian Bolsheviki).

The Spartacus group is in complete control at Dusseldorf, Solingen and Remschied, where they have arrested the city officials, it was stated in a despatch to the Daily Mail.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 25.—An agreement has been reached between the German Soldiers' and Workmen's Council and the government, it is officially announced in Berlin.

The agreement provides:

"First—All political power is to be in the hands of the German Socialist republic and the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council.

"Second—Their aim is to defend and develop what has been accomplished by the revolution and to suppress all counter revolutionary activity.

"Third—Pending the election of representatives of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils to an executive council of the German republic, the executive council in Berlin is to exercise its functions.

"Fourth—Th appointments and dismissals of all members of the various legislative bodies of the republic are to be made by the central executive council, which also has the right of control.

"Fifth—Before the cabinet appoints assistant ministers, the executive council must be consulted.

"Sixth—A convention of deputies drawn from the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils is to be summoned as soon as possible."

BOLSHEVISM ADOPTED IS VIEW IN LONDON

LONDON, Nov. 25.—This morning's newspapers display prominently the German advices regarding the agreement between the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council and the government, which is regarded as a development of the greatest importance and as tantamount to the overthrow the Ebert-Haase combination and the adoption at least theoretically of the existing Russian system.

The Copenhagen correspondent of the Central News wires that the central government at Berlin called many troops to that city and that the downtown buildings are packed with soldiers.

Earlier advices said that stores of ammunition were collected in Berlin for use against the extremists, but that the city was quiet on Saturday, following a two-day burst of fighting when the Bolsheviki attempted a coup.

The German internal situation is highly critical and a military coup d'etat is almost certain unless the returning troops vigorously support the Berlin government, said a Munich despatch to the Daily News.

The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily News quotes the German war food department as saying that the food situation is satisfactory. Belief is expressed, adds the correspondent, that General Barth and German politicians exaggerated the peril to obtain an easy and speedy peace.

On the other hand the Copenhagen correspondent of the Central News reported Berlin advices as saying that the pope has appealed to Anglo-French episcopates and the French government for a modification of the armistice terms "in view of the famine in the Rhine districts."

COUNTER REVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITY THREATENED

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 25.—The Berlin Workmen's and Soldiers' Council has issued a proclamation claiming provisional control of the entire country for the purpose of suppressing attempts at a counter-revolution, a despatch from that city announced today.

Other despatches reported that Oldenburg, Bremen, Hamburg, East Arlesland and Schleswig-Holstein have formed an independent republic with Hamburg as the capital.

A Geneva despatch said that all communications between Berlin and Switzerland had been interrupted.

The Spartacus group has been warned by the Notefahn Zeitung to beware of a counter-revolution in Berlin, declaring thta troops had been brought into the city to provoke the extremists and then turn machine guns on them.

The Daily Mail, while pointing out the analogy to the developments in Russia, suggests that the new step is a part of a big bluff, "aimed at persuading the allies that the old Germany is defunct."

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 25.—Adherents of the Spartacus group at Berlin attempted on Friday evening to seize the Berlin police presidency. Several persons were killed or injured.

ZURICH, Sunday, Nov. 24.—The counter revolutionary movement in Austria is progressing to such an extent that the national council has placarded the streets, warning the public against it. It is said that the monarchists are resorting to all kinds of methods to excite distrust of the council and trying to frighten the people by the prospect of allied occupation, according to a Vienna despatch to the Frankfort Gazette.

Anti Bolshevik General Cuts Down Wires

VLADIVOSTOK, Sunday, Nov. 24 (By the Associated Press).—General Semenoff, who has been the anti-Bolshevik leader in the Trans-Baikal region, has interrupted wire communication between Omsk, the seat of the all-Russian government, and Vladivostok. He asserts his jurisdiction over the Amur, Usalie and Trans-Baikal districts and has established headquarters at Chita.

General Semenoff, and Admiral Kolchak, supreme head of the all-Russian government, have not been on friendly terms. Semenoff, however, is friendly toward General Horvath, one of Admiral Kolchak's strongest supporters.

WAR HOSPITAL OPENS IN EAST; TO TREAT MANY

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The biggest military hospital of its kind in the world was formally opened here today. To the 500 wounded men who made up the first contingent of patients, there will be added 250 during the day and probably as many more tomorrow. The new hospital—Base Hospital No. 3—occupies the big building that formerly housed a department store at Sixth avenue and Eighteenth street. The hospital has accommodations for 4000 patients.

It will be used as a debarkation hospital.

Bill Hohenzollern Doesn't Please Dutch

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—William Hohenzollern, erstwhile German kaiser, is about as popular in Holland as the Spanish flu, according to passengers of the Royal Holland liner Hollandia, which docked here today. It was the impression of those on board the liner that William and the former crown prince both will be run out of the Netherlands unless they voluntarily seek another haven of refuge.

"The German people will never permit their government to get them into another war," declared Dr. Frederick Albert, formerly attached to the Chilean legation at Berlin, who is on his way home from the German capital. "They have had enough war. With them the present armistice is equivalent to permanent peace."

Colonel House and Staff Are Still Ill

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Colonel E. M. House, American representative to the inter-allied conference, is still confined to his bed with the grippe. Several members of his staff also are down with the epidemic.

The Americans have taken the Hotel Crillon, facing the Place de la Concorde and adjoining offices formerly occupied by the American Red Cross. This gives the Americans a frontage of nearly a block.

Steamer Is Badly Injured in Storm

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Norwegian steamship Nils arrived in port today with one side crushed in above the water line as the result of terrific storms encountered at sea four days ago.

The steamer Carib, which has been aground off Long Island for several days, has been floated and will be brought up to her dock today.

Debs Trial to Be Speeded by Court

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Department of justice requests to expedite hearings of appeals of Eugene V. Debs of Ohio, Socialist leader; James A. Peterson of Minnesota and Jacob Frohwork of Missouri from convictions of violating the espionage law were granted today by the Supreme Court.

The hearings were set for January 6, 1919.

Parliament Session Is Ended by King

LONDON, Nov. 25.—King George dissolved parliament today.

The national election of a new parliament will be held on December 14.

ALSACE ENTIRELY OCCUPIED BY ALLIES

Lost Provinces Again in the Hands of French; Turkish Capital Also Entered; Black Sea Points Freely Entered

U. S. PRISONERS "FED UP" BEFORE RETURN

Yank Armies, Crossing Line, Meet Huns; Friendliness Is Shown by Former Enemy Peoples As Boys Move On

By FRANK J. TAYLOR, United Press Staff Correspondent.

STRASSBOURG, Nov. 24 (Night).—The lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine are again wholly French, through the formal occupation of their capital today by French troops. The population received the poilus with great enthusiasm.

Evidence was obtained today that the Germans are taking American prisoners to the rear to fatten them up on good food before liberating them, as a result of an investigation by a German prisoner commission, which is afraid to permit the return of the Yankees in their present emaciated condition. The Americans have been working for months in mines fifteen miles from the front, laboring eleven hours a day without sufficient food or clothing, according to officers who escaped rather than wait for their delayed liberation.

According to these officers, the conditions in the enlisted men's camps and their treatment were atrocious.

Eugene Scroggy, of Des Moines, an aviator of the "gimpers" squadron, who was wounded and taken prisoner, was liberated from the Karlsruhe prison camp for a day by the Germans that he might act as their plenipotentiary in arranging the possible sending of prisoners directly across the Rhine, instead of through Switzerland. He was accompanied by a British colonel and a French major.

These plans are now developing. Scroggy returned to the Boche guard waiting at a Rhine bridge, to keep his parole.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The French now hold the line of the Rhine from Selz southward to the Swiss border, a distance of nearly 100 miles. This is a little more than a quarter of the line to be occupied.

According to the latest official reports, the general line of the advance extends as follows:

East of Arondenck, east of Moll, east of Diezt (occupied by the Belgians); Avennes Huy, Bomal, Grand Menil, Beho (occupied by the British); Luxemburg-Prussian border to region of Diekirch (occupied by the French); Luxemburg-Prussian border to Lorraine frontier (occupied by Americans); Buzendorf, Volkingen, Saarbrucken, Saardemund, Butsch, Reichshen, Selz; line of the Rhine to the Swiss border (occupied by the French).

PARIS, Nov. 25.—General Franchet de Ewperey entered Constantinople yesterday on the battleship Patrie, it was officially announced today.

His staff of twenty-three officers accompanied him.

General de Ewperey was commander-in-chief of the allied armies which conducted the offensive that put Bulgaria out of the war and aided in the defeat of Turkey and Austria-Hungary.

The Bosphorus having been cleared of mines, allied warships have entered the Black sea and visited various ports from Varna around the southern coast to Nova Rossysk.

ROME, Nov. 25.—Italian troops have occupied Innsbrueck and Landeck, it was announced today.

These cities are in Austrian Tyrol, outside the specific zone of operation provided for in the Austrian armistice. Innsbrueck is directly north of Trient and only ten miles from the German frontier. Landeck is forty miles west of Innsbrueck.

FRIENDLINESS SHOWN IN OCCUPIED LANDS

AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 25 (By the Associated Press).—The German frontier was crossed at several places today by American signal corps units and ambulance workers. Short trips were made into Rhenish Prussia, where the inhabitants are reported to have shown the Americans every consideration.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Field Marshal Haig's report tonight of the British advance says:

We reached today the German frontier immediately north of Luxemburg. Our general line along the frontier lies south of Beho, Grandmenill, Bomal, Huy and east of Avennes.

ASKS FOOD AS HALT TO BOLSHEVISM

VIENNA, Nov. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Declaring that there is pressing need in Austria for assistance from America and the allies, former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary insisted today that the danger of Bolshevism is very great in his country. It was in conversation with a correspondent of the Associated Press that the former sovereign told of the peril which is impending.

The former emperor, his wife and five children are at Ekertsau Castle. With them are a few faithful men and women, including Count Alexander Esterhazy, former chief of court to the emperor, and Naval Captain Zedank.

As the correspondent entered the gates he was met by Captain Zeedank and conducted through a lofty hall to the second story of the castle, where he was received by the former emperor. Charles wore a general's uniform and was apparently vigorous, but lines about his blue eyes gave hints of stress of recent days. He appeared to feel that great tragedy that has come through the collapse of his empire, but he cordially greeted the correspondent.

The former emperor spoke first in English and then lapsed into French.

SPEED IS URGED.

"I authorize the Associated Press to say that not a single day should be lost by America and the allies in helping the people here, so grave is the situation," he said. "During the war one of my pre-occupations was the task of obtaining food for the soldiers and people, but notwithstanding all my efforts, it is most distressing to find there is none left for them. If America and the allies do not recognize this fact, suffering here will be very great within a few weeks. Indeed, it is already so and every day we o not use in the endeavor to get food is a doy lost.

"We have done our best and more cannot be done. If food and coal are not brought we shall have disorder in Vienna. Possibly that disorder from Russia which we call Bolshevism, will come. Looking back, we may recall that Bolshevism started in Russia because of the lack of food. I think it in the interest of the allies to aid us, as Bolshevism, when started, may spread and become a danger to the allies, too.

"Regarding the future—I cannot speak of the past—I can only repeat that I feel I did my duty. However, I do hope that peace will bring good fortune, happier days and a better understanding among all peoples."

NO BITTERNESS.

During the interview the former monarch did not show bitterness toward the allies or America, because of their military victory, though it may be inferred that he is heart-sore over the loss of his army and also over his failure to preserve his empire intact. He feels that the breaking up of the empire into small groups of nations is bound to bring economic and political disaster to all, and that some sort of a central government is necessary for their common interests.

Charles inquired if President Wilson was well. He expressed no surprise when told that the President's hair had grown whiter since the United States entered the war, seeming, himself, to feel the undermining strain of the great conflict.

Owl Safe Robbery Reveals Experienced Yeggmen Did It

declaring that the men made such a study of their work and took such precautions that there is hardly a clew to work on.

One clew that may lead to the apprehension of the robbers was this morning given by Dr. Lesoine. Dr. Lesoine says that during the last week three different men have come to his office to have work done. Each man insisted on waiting for the operative who worked in the room through the floor of which the hole was cut.

SUSPICIONS ARE NOT AROUSED BY INCIDENT.

Asked if this dod not arouse his suspicions Dr. Lesoine said:

"No, it did not. Men come here at various times and have work done that pleases them so well that they afterward insist on the same chiropodist doing it again. I, of course, thought nothing of this and was only pleased that my work was being so well appreciated. My loss will be about $50, though the robbers might have secured considerable had they taken my cash register, which, as it happens, had considerable money in it at that time."

The robbers entered by the last door in the Lesoine suite. To do so they had to move Dr. Lesoine's desk, standing in front of this door, which is never used.

The burglary was discovered this morning when Miss E. Wilson, cashier of the Owl company, went to the safe to open it. She noticed that the safe was missing. She stood for a moment in perplexity and then cried:

"Mr. Hart, where is the safe?"

Hart, who thought the girl had suffered a mental lapse, replied:

"Why, it's where it should be, over in the corner."

Miss Wilson rubbed her eyes, felt of herself and then said:

"Well, it is not. It's been stolen."

An investigation showed that the safe had been hauled to the rear of the balcony and there blown open. The police were then notified and an investigation made by Inspector Richard McSorley.

Football Banquet Wednesday Evening

The California Alumni of the University of California will hold their annual football banquet next Wednesday evening, the day before the big game between California and Stanford, at the Commercial Club rooms in San Francisco. Judge Henry Melvin will be one of the principal speakers and Governor Stephens has been asked to attend.

Other Oakland men who will be present at the banquet are Judge Waste, District Attorney Ezra Decoto, Attorney Milton Schwards, Wigginton Creed, Robert Fitzgerald and Judge Everett Brown. President Benjamin Ide Wheeler and Dean Gayley will be among the guests of honor.

Shows How Dictaphone Worked Engineer Explains "Mystery"

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Among the various reports as to how microphones were attached or installed in the offices of Dirtrict Attorney Charles M. Fickert in the Hall of Justice, his law office in the Kohl building and McDonough Brothers' phone in the back room of a saloon at Clay and Kearny streets, the most plausible one was that advanced by a prominent telephone engineer today.

"The three telephones 'listened in on' by the investigators of Mr. Densmore are those in District Attorney Fickert's office on the Sutter exchange, that in the Kohn building office, 430 Montgomery street, Kearny 783, and that of McDonough Brothers, Kearny and Clay streets, Douglas 179, they have three separate exchange numbers, Sutter, Kearny and Douglas, are carried through one system of telephone subways down Montgomery to the main Bush street telephone exchange building of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

"Access to the phone wires of these telephones might have been had through a manhole to the subway at Montgomery and California. They could have been tapped and the dictaphone wires carried into the Clunie building on California between Montgomery and Kearny where three dictaphones and the recording cylinders with attendant stenographers could have been installed.

"As to the microphones that was even more simple and if there is any curiosity on the part of the District Attorney he would probably find this instrument attached to his own phone, as well as to the telephones under the numbers. The removal of four screws back of the plate carrying the telephone mouthpiece reveals an ordinary telephone transmitter. This could have been removed by a psuedo telephone repair man and a highly sensitized microphone adjusted to a maximum radius of twelve feet, substituted the ordinary telephone wires on the inside of the uprights, being then reattached to the lisening-in device. The disconnecting trigger could be removed and the telephone immediately became a perfect transmitter of all conversations in the rooms where the telephone was installed to the dictaphone where the listener-in did the disconnecting by hanging up his own phone and ringing the bell in one of the three offices when they were called up by outsiders through the aid of a hand generator.

"The most perfect result, according to the alleged transcript of dictaphone conversations was had in the district attorney's office in the Hall of Justice, due to his deep booming voice and the fact that most of his conversations with those in his office were had while seated at his desk, the telephone being toward him and probably never more than a short distance from his mouth."

Business Men to Celebrate Victory

Oakland business men will celebrate the Allied victory over the Hun, and the removal of the ban on public meetings at the Chamber of Commerce commercial club rooms in Hotel Oakland tomorrow noon, when the Oakland Advertising Club reopens the noon-day luncheon series with a rousing session. Seat reservations have been made in large numbers at the Chamber of Commerce offices, and indications point to a capacity house.

F. W. Kellogg will be the leading speaker. Kellogg was a member of the first party of American newspaper editors and publishers invited by the British Government to make a tour of the front line trenches in Europe, and the Allied grand fleet in the North Sea. He will tell of the interesting incidents of this trip, and in addition, since he has had an opportunity of discussing post war plans with a number of European leaders, he will outline some of the ideas these men have on the post war conditions.

The Advertising Club has designated Tuesday as Oakland Post Day, and after the opening remarks by President Hamman, and one or two committee reports, the day's program will be turned over to the staff of that paper. The invitation of the Advertising Club is extended to all Oakland business men, whether they are members of the Chamber of Commerce or not. Luncheon will be served promptly at 12:15 o'clock, and all planning to attend should be in their seats before that time. Reservations for places at the tables should be made at once with the Chamber of Commerce, Hotel Oakland.

University Will Conduct Lectures

Oakland educational and literary circles are much interested in the establishment of a University of California extension lecture center in the main library, Fourteenth and Grove streets, where internationally famous lecturers will appear from time to time during the fall and winter months.

The series will be opened by Prof. Ian B. Stoughton-Holborn of Merton College, Oxford University, beginning Monday, December 2, at 8 o'clock. Professor Holborn will give eight lectures, once weekly, on "The Inspiration of Greece—the Greatest Stimulus for Progress," and on other subjects of world interest at this time.

On Wednesday afternoons from 3 to 4 o'clock, beginning December 4, he will lecture on Robert Browning in the Oakland museum. Three years ago he addressed capacity audiences on this subject at the summer session of the university.

Registration for the course may now be made at 301 California Hall, where single admissions may also be secured. their own home.

Railroad to Renew Debt With New Note

The Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway was granted authority by the State Railroad Commission today to issue a $40,000, 7%, note to the California National Bank at Sacramento, renewing a note for a similar amount which was authorized by the Commission in September, 1917. The note was secured by eighty-six Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway bonds. The new note is to be secured by the same bonds.

The supervisors of Contra Costa county have asked the Railroad Commission to close two grade crossings over the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway Company's tracks which are non-essential to the traveling public.

Tax Collector to Keep Open Nights

Commissioner W. H. Edwards, of the Revenue and Finance Department, announces that he has arranged to keep the city tax collector's office open all this week (except Thursday, Thanksgiving Day) until 9 o'clock p. m. to accommodate taxpayers who cannot call during the day.

Taxes become delinquent Monday evening, December 2, at 6 o'clock p. m. City tax collector suggests that all those who intend paying their taxes by check will save themselves unnecessary delay and wait if they will mail their bills together with check or money order and receipts will be sent by return mail.

NO ACTION TO FOLLOW LOBBY ROW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—No action will follow the physical encounter between Fremont Older, editor of the Call, and District Attorney Charles Fickert in the lobby of the Palace Hotel, last night, according to Older today.

Two versions of what happened just before Fickert struck Older are current today. According to one interview, Fickert says Older grinned when the two met. In another statement the district attorney is credited with the statement that the editor made a move toward his hip pocket.

Fickert floored Older, he admits.

According to witnesses, he tried to kick the prostrate man, but was prevented by Fred Berry, assistant district attorney, who also is under fire in the Densmore dictograph charges.

Older, said witnesses, picked himself up and went to his room, for which he registered earlier in the night on arriving in the city from Cupertino.

Discussing the encounter last night, Older said:

"I had heard many rumors that Fickert had been on a 'tear.'

OLDER TELLS OF ENCOUNTER

"Last night I came up from Cupertino and registered at the Palace. About 9 o'clock, after visiting my editorial offices, I walked along the side street near the hotel, entered the bar and was walking along the lobby near a stockbroking office when I came across Fickert, Berry and his companion.

"Fickert's face was flushed. He had been drinking, I imagine; but I would not say that he was drunk. Recognizing me, he came to a full stop.

"'You ————!' he cried.

"With this exclamation, Fickert made several wild passes at me. I warded off his blows. Then he struck me. I cannot remember if he hit me in the shoulder or the jaw, but I went to the floor. Fickert started to kick me—in fact, he raised his foot and tried, but Berry pulled him off."

Older said the affair was over in two minutes.

"I picked myself up," Older said. "By that time Fickert and his two companions had departed."

Older declared he would not institute any charges against Fickert.

FICKERT GIVES HIS VERSION

"He just took a mean advantage against me," the editor said. "Fickert is comparatively a young man. Many rumors have come to me relative to Fickert's intentions of getting me. But I will not have him arrested."

Fickert said that he struck Older because when they met in the Palace Older made a move towards his hip pocket.

"We were very close to each other at the time," said Fickert. "I had heard that he had threatened to 'get' me. I struck him with my left hand—not my right hand, mind you—and he fell. That's all there was to it."

Fickert later, in discussing the encounter, said at his home last night:

"I don't wish to discuss this incident at this time beyond saying that my meeting with Older tonight was entirely accidental.

"I was passing through the Palace with Fred Berry and another man when we met. A sort of grin passed over Older's face, and I went up to him and told him, so that everyone could hear me, that he was an anarchist and that he knew I had the proof of it.

"I made him admit in the presence of the people who came up that he had associated with Emma Goldman and brought her to visit his wife at their home. When he admitted this I called him a dog.

"That led up to what happened. I struck him on the chin with the palm of my hand, and he fell to the floor and cowered there, refusing to fight.

DENIES ATTEMPT TO KICK OLDER

"While he was down I said aloud, so that everyone could hear it, that I had proof that Thomas J. Mooney cashed one of his—Older's—checks two or three days before the Preparedness Parade bomb murders. Older refused to deny this, and then I told him that any man who would make pals of men like Tom Mooney, who took the lives of innocent men, women and children with dynamite, wouldn't hesitate to lie about people in his newspaper.

"With that I left Older on the floor. I never kicked him, for I actually felt sorry for him for the way he took everything I said. I can't fight with a man who won't fight back. He can continue his fight in his newspaper. That's probably the only way he knows how."

Fred S. Berry, assistant district attorney, said:

"I have thoroughly and determinedly made up my mind to make no statement regarding the affair. I have made up my mind that if the time comes when a statement from me is required I will make one. Until that time I have not a word to say. I took the names of some people who witnessed the affair."

STOPS ANY COLD IN A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" Opens Clogged Nose and Head and Ends Grippe.

Relief comes instantly.

A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.—Advertisement.

PARIS WINS PRELIMINARY CONFERENCE

PARIS, Nov. 25 (By the Associated Press).—The conferences on the preliminaries of peace probably will be held in Paris instead of at Versailles, owing to superior accommodations and conveniences in the capital. Only formal sessions at concluding stages will be held at Versailles.

The only active sittings now going on are those of the joint armistice commission, which holds daily sessions at Spa, former German headquarters, but which now is held by the French.

French, British and German delegates attend the meetings. General Nundant represents Marshal Foch, with Commandant Sisteron as his assistant. General von Winterfeldt is the German military representative, and Matias Erzberger, who also was a member of the German armistice delegation, participates in most of the sessions.

Some of the meetings are described as having been very animated over efforts of the Germans to obtain modification of the terms of the armistice. Marshal Foch's reply was a refusal to consider a change and a despatch from Basel gives the text of the marshal's reply, which says: "No attention can be given to the demands presented in General von Winterfeldt's letter of November 21."

The joint armistice commission meeting appears to be in accordance with clause thirty-four of the armistice, which admitted the principle of a permanent international armistice commission under direction of the allied military and naval chiefs. While its duties are restricted to execution of the armistice, it is one of the preliminaries which will merge later into sessions of the inter-allied conference and the peace congress.

Brakeman Hit Him, Declares Murderer

Luis Cozrero, who wounded C. Goldman and killed Constable Dan McKinnon, will recover from the wounds which he received when he was shot at by City Marshal H. C. Grove following the tragedy at Dixon. The bullet entered the abdomen and back.

Cozrero offers as his excuse for the shooting of the Oakland brakeman and Constable McKinnon "that he was mad at being put off the freight train on which he rode from Sacramento and for which he claims he offered $3." He asserts that the brakeman hit him, whereupon he fired and ran. In a mad effort to avoid arrest he maintains he murdered McKinnon.

Cozrero has been a resident of California two years. He is a sheep herder in Lassen county.

In becoming part of the Bank of Italy's great statewide branch banking system, the Security Bank of Oakland has vastly increased its strength, stability, prestige and service-giving advantages.

While specially serving Oakland and environs, the new Bank of Italy branch is now more than a local institution—it is an important part of a bank that serves an entire state—a bank with resources of $90,000,000.00.

The business of the Oakland branch will be conducted as heretofore by the officers of the former Security Bank. The Advisory Board listed below includes some of the most important men of Oakland.

The bank is open Saturday evenings from 6:30 to 8:00 for receipt of deposits and cashing of pay roll checks.

WORLD PEACE PLANS URGED IN PROGRAM

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The League to Enforce Peace announced here its "victory program." It calls for the formation at the coming peace congress of a league of free nations possessing judicial, administrative and executive powers and functions which would be so administered as to guarantee a permanent peace.

The program, which it was announced already had been adopted by the New York League of Free Nations Association, as well as the League to Enforce Peace, was drafted by a special committee of which William H. Taft, president of the league, was chairman. Other members of the committee were A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University; Oscar S. Straus, former minister to Turkey; Theodore Marburg, former minister to Belgium; Hamilton Holt, Talcott Williams and William H. Short of New York and Glenn Frank of Boston.

In announcing the program, which is to be submitted for consideration and indorsement by all organizations and provisions favoring international reconstruction, the league made it plain that the program did not attempt to solve the details of world organization, but suggested the principles merely as a basis for discussion and criticism.

RAILROADERS OFFER M'ADOO MORE SALARY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Employees of railroads operating out of St. Louis have "chipped in" to keep William McAdoo on the job as director of railroads. They telegraphed McAdoo that they had pledged themselves for $2000 per month as part of his salary.

"Employees of the various roads operating out of St. Louis pledge themselves for $2000 per month as part of your salary," the telegram said. "We are opposed to your resignation and are heartily in sympathy with your financial straits."

The telegram was signed by Q. E. Sumner of the Missouri Pacific and H. J. Garrigan and J. H. Kirkland, both of the Wabash.

Densmore Not to Be Heard in Graft Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. — Director General John B. PUBLIC WORK MAY NOW BE CARRIED OUT

Public work, such as street work, sewering, and other necessary improvements, may soon be resumed in the bay cities where necessary, and highway construction also permitted, as the result of the announcement by John Perrin, chairman of the district committee of the Twelfth Federal Reserve district, that with the change in the European war situation favorable consideration will hereafter be given such issues. Hereafter the jurisdiction of the committee, he says, will extend only over issues of more than $100,000.

Perrin's announcement, which will clear the way for a number of needed pieces of local work, is as follows:

"In view of changed conditions abroad, capital issues committee have voted that hereafter, where material and labor are available, issues for improvement of highways, for building schools, hospitals, water, sewerage, drainage and irrigation systems and for improvement of fire and police protection, will receive favorable consideration when economic importance is shown to exist and that the committee will likewise give favorable consideration to industrial and public utility issues where the improvements contemplated are compatible with readjustment to a peace basis.

LIMIT ON ISSUES.

"The capital issues committee has also voted that hereafter neither it nor the district committee should consider or pass upon an issue or securities the aggregate par value of which issue and any other securities issued by the same principal since April 5 is not in excess of $100,000.

"This means that the jurisdiction of capital issues committee will extend over all issues of securities of whatever nature in excess of $100,000 and not over issues of $100,000 or less except when such smaller issues plus the securities issued by the same principal since April 5 are in excess of $100,000.

"For example, if the new issue is for say $15,000 and previous issues since April 5 were $90,000, the capital issues committee would take jurisdiction, the aggregate of the two amounts being in excess of $100,000. If on the other hand, the previous issue since April 5 were only $85,000 the capital issues committee would not take jurisdiction, the aggregate of the two amounts not being in excess of $100,000.

USE REGULAR FORMS.

"The committee requires all applications to be made out upon one or the other of its two regular forms: Form No. 9 application by state or subdivision thereof; form No. 10 application by individual or private corporation. Applications should be executed in quadruplicate, the original and one copy transmitted to the capital issues committee, National Metropolitan Bank building, Washington, D. C., and the other two copies to district committee on capital issues, Federal Reserve Bank, San Francisco, California.

"Forms of applications and copies of the committee's rules and regulations may be obtained from the district committee."

"TURKEY AND" TO BE SERVED TO MEN OF NAVY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving dinner for the men in service afloat and ashore will include turkey and the "trimmin's" just as at home. On battleships particularly the men will make a hotel card look ill.

The food administration today made suggestions as follows:

For the menu on the holiday for the folks at home:

Turkey, chicken, duck, goose or game, with dried bread or oriental dressing; mashed potatoes, mashed turnips, baked tomatoes, cranberry sauce, lettuce or fruit salad; pumpkin pie or steamed pudding.

Receipts of the administration call for use of molasses or syrup largely in the sweet portions of the above. The turkey market is reported well stocked.

Ambulance Corps Is Safe Overseas

Word that all of the members of the 364th Ambulance Corps, 316th Sanitary Train, 91st Division, are safe was contained in a cablegram just received from France by H. C. Squires, secretary of the Masonic Club in the Palace Hotel, San Francisco. This corps is made up principally of Oakland and San Francisco youths.

None of the members of the corps was killed and only three injured, all of whom are out of danger and reported to be doing nicely. All of these, who were previously reported as wounded, are: C. L. Archambault, Oakland; Fred Jaensen, San Francisco, and B. L. Young, Burlingame.

Harbor Department Receipts Are Shown

The receipts of the Oakland Harbor department for the month of October were $11,774.77. The dockage netted $3448 and the tolls were $5312.

The number of vessels arriving were 453. The net tonnage of the vessels arriving were 268,976.

1,200,000 MEN TO SOON BE HOME

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. — One million two hundred thousand soldiers out of the service by New Year's day is the estimate of army officers who are in touch with the mustering out process.

It is calculated that 32,000 a day will be the figure from December 1 until January 1, and after that the rate will be about 50,000 a day.

General March went to Camp Dix the other day to give instructions which, it is understood, will expedite the muster out with due regard for the preparation and forwarding to the Adjutant-General's office at Washington for the personal records of each soldier. It is reasonably certain, therefore, that there will be room in cantonments for 1,000,000 overseas troops early in the year.

It has been announced that about 250,000 have been designated for return by General Pershing, but it is not unlikely that the next announcements will give the names of many other divisions to be returned. At the present time there are on the way over not only the 10,000 aero troops released from training duty in England, but a steady stream of the sick and the wounded from France and England who are able to make the voyage.

Officers think that by spring the whole grand army except those needed for police duty in Europe will have started home. As the men will be entitled to wear their uniforms only about three months after discharge, the uniformed soldier will have disappeared by early summer.

IT USED to be the custom each fall in the majority of the twenty million homes in this great land of ours to assemble a variety of ingredients—combine them into a great creation (the plum pudding)—then bring forth the big kettle—fill with water, and plunge the puddings, bound in a cloth, into it to boil for several hours. It was a hard, tedious, trying, laborious task.

The end attained, however, recompensed after a fashion for the big labor involved. The pudding invariably was fine; and when something went wrong, the enthusiasm with which it was greeted, ushered all shortcomings into oblivion.

So much of the flavor, though, even under the most favorable circumstances, was lost, that a great number of progressive housewives in later years substituted a bucket for boiling the pudding in—the heat could go through the bucket, but the flavor could not get out. The improvement was wonderful. It, though, added to the labor—there was the problem of the bucket, and the pudding had to be boiled longer.

Then one day the revolutionary thing happened There appeared on the market, ready-made, ready-cooked, a superlative quality plum pudding in a sanitary airtight can—Mrs. Porter's Plum Pudding. It was a woman's product, made in the careful, painstaking, precise way of womankind. A woman, Mrs. Porter, conceived it and made it—to provide the more than a million homes up and down the Pacific Coast and through the mountain states with plum pudding, the excellence of which would win the favor of all, and yet relieve the housewife of the trying effort of making it.

Did housewives accept it with a smiling welcome? Some did—some didn't. There are skeptics among women as well as men. Those, however, who bought one, received such an ovation of delight from their pleased families, that they immediately bought more—and have been buying them ever since. They also have been urging their many friends to buy them.

The last few years the demand for Mrs. Porter's Plum Puddings has been such that many who wanted them had to go unsatisfied; there wasn't enough to go 'round. This year the same condition is sure to prevail—because Mrs. Porter can only produce a limited quantity of these remarkable puddings. So those who would enjoy them are cautioned to purchase a supply early. They come in 40 and 75-cent size tins—each tin bears the Mrs. Porter name; and this you are urged to look for as there are now several imitations.

News of the Churches

With their first opportunity to address full audiences, the pastors of Oakland delivered after-war sermons yesterday to thankful people. At the First Christian church, Rev. H. A. Van Winkle spoke on "Thanking God Through Our Tears," a paradox which he explained by comparing it with a child's smiling through its tears, when a disappointment has suddenly been changed to joy. Though he did not say so, the people before him furnished an apt illustration, for that was what they were doing.

As he passed "from grave to gay, from lively to serene" they were smiling through their tears and once at an impossible suggestion as to the disposition of the kaiser, the audience broke into laughter and applause.

A formal report would be inadequate. It was one of those rare occasions that make the participants feel that it would have been a misfortune not to be present. Due credit was given to everybody who contributed to the nation's victory, the people who gave, the doctors and nurses who served, the public speakers who devoted their time to war work, the newspapers who gave whole pages and yet printed only the right things at critical hours and chiefest of all the boys who freely offered their lives.

FIRT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

"The Bolsheviki are the menace of the new era as autocracy was the nightmare of the old age. After having delivered the world from despotism we must not hand it over to rough-house anarchy," said Rev. Frank M. Sisley at the First Presbyterian church in his sermon on "The Dawn of a New Era."

"That a new era has dawned upon the world is evidenced by the collapse of autocracy, militarism and materialistic religion. A line might be drawn from the palace at Potsdam to the lonely castle in Holland and the verdict given that this is the last of the blood-shot eyes of world conquerors. The terrible army that seemed invincible yesterday could not face a formidable foe for a single day now.

"Who wants another war? They who gloried in war have been charmed and hushed by this prodigal, fanatical butchery of human beings. War has brought out noble qualities, but war in its nature is an unspeakable horror. Spiritual ideals in the state and loyalty to God and reason in the citizen are the only absolute guarantees against future wars. A league of nations will work when people are educated in the spirit. It is our responsibility to begin the new era by launching a spiritual movement to make people realize that the world is not safe until men's hearts are safe in the kingdom of God.

"The church failed somewhat in the old age. The church in the new era must urge people to advance "upon their knees." The church must help to conserve what our armies have won by creating the proper atmosphere, while the arm changes the world on outside, the church must change men on the inside.

BROOKLYN PRESBYTERIAN.

At the Brooklyn Presbyterian church a harvest home thanksgiving service was held. A special feature was a new victory song by Caro Roma of New York, entitled "Ring Out Sweet Bells of Peace," which was sung by Mrs. Charles Brown. This song will be sung Thanksgiving day in the churches and theaters of New York. But it was sung from polyapse sheets for the first time in Oakland yesterday. The author, Caro Roma, is an Oakland girl, daughter of Vena S. Northey, only living charter member of the Brooklyn church.

TO MEET THE SUDDEN ATTACK OF Spanish Influenza or Grip.

An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember the three C's: A Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of Mayapple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and called Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot-bath.

To prevent an attack of bronchitis or pneumonia and to control the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric Tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric Tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid), in which a tablespoonful of salaratus has been dissolved in a quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia, to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Irontic" Tablets, or that well-known herbal tonic, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made from roots and barks, without alcohol.—Advertisement

TOO WEAK TO WORK

Vermont Woman Tells How She Regained Her Health.

Alburg, Vt.—"I was run down, no appetite, and too weak to do my housework—medicines did not seem to help me until I tried Vinol—I soon noticed an improvement, and am now well, strong and able to do my work."—Lillian Babba.

The reason Vinol was so successful to Miss Babba's case is because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, run-down system, make rich, red blood and create strength.

She Darkened Her Gray Hair

Well Known Lady Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair by a Simple Home Made Remedy

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home-made remedy made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp; is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."—Advertisement.

ENOCH ARDEN DISOWNED BY ALLEGED WIFE

Alfred Tennyson's Enoch Arden drew a happy fate compared with that of Eli W. Hawkins. When the poetic hero came back and looked through the window he saw his wife happy in the company of another husband and was consoled by her happiness.

But when Eli W. Hawkins faced his former wife, now the wife of W. L. Smith, in the courtroom presided over by Judge T. W. Harris today, she said, "You are not Eli. You are not the man I married."

In 1906 Hawkins woed and won the woman who is now the wife of Smith. They were happy together for a time and then trouble arose between them. She sued him for separate maintenance and he went away, according to the testimony.

WENT TO ALASKA.

He went to Alaska and for seven years she never heard from him and believed that he was dead.

Later she met and married Smith, and all was happiness again for a time. Then she sued Smith for divorce, demanding $500 a month alimony. She alleged cruelty and said that he had caused her to be examined as to her sanity.

Smith countered with a suit for annulment, alleging that she was not capable of marrying him because Eli Hawkins was alive when she did it.

So when the case came on for trial today Smith and Hawkins appeared before her. She admitted that she married Smith, but denied that she ever saw Hawkins before. She admitted having married a man named Eli Hawkins, but denied that the man who stood before her was he.

TEACHER IS POSITIVE.

A school teacher, who taught Hawkins as a boy and knew him throughout his life, testified that Hawkins was Hawkins, and that he was Eli Hawkins, the man who married the woman in the case.

So it is up to the judge to determine if there are two Eli Hawkinses, as like as two pears, and one of them dead.

Hawkins complicates the story by declaring that Mrs. Smith is his wife.

DAVIE SHIES AT 'PLAN QUESTION'

The Shipyard Metal Trades Laborers' Union of Alameda county this morning addressed a communication to the city council approving of Mayor John L. Davie's plan to purchase the street car system of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways Company. John L. Martin, business agent of the union, appeared before the council and supported the plan on the ground that the present transportation facilities being furnished by the company were inadequate.

Business Agent Martin was invited to speak to the council by Commissioner W. H. Edwards, and was questioned as to the adequacy of the facilities being furnished by the company. After Martin told of conditions Commissioner Edwards said:

"I desire to inform you that the city council is in favor of municipal ownership of the street car system, but we are not as yet ready to approve of the Mayor's plan until such time as he sees fit to present to this council the method of procedure he intends following. This council has gone on record in this matter when it adopted the city charter which provides for municipal ownership."

Commissioner Edwards then asked Mayor Davie what his plan was to which the Mayor replied:

"That 'plan' question annoys me."

"Yes, it seems to," replied Edwards.

NOT PLAN, HE SAYS.

"There is no plan at all," said the Mayor. "The whole question is up to the people. If they desire to vote for this measure I am in favor of permitting them to do so, but the city council seems determined to oppose the granting of this right to the people."

"Whenever the Mayor presents to this council a definite working plan we will take it under consideration, but first and foremost we have many other things to consider, principal among which are the building of new schools which are sorely needed to meet the immense increase in our city's population."

"Let the schools work a little overtime," was the Mayor's rejoinder.

THEY'RE WORKING.

"The schools are working overtime," declared Commissioner Edwards.

At this point in the discussion Commissioner Fred F. Morse entered the discussion by stating that the protest on the part of the shipworkers was not altogether justified as he had personally made an investigation of conditions at the Moore yards.

Commissioner Morse said:

"I personally investigated the conditions at the Moore yards and find that at quitting time several hundred men come out at the various gates, pile aboard the cars and many of them escape paying their fares. If they waited a matter of a few minutes they could secure ample car accommodations, but they all seem to want to ride on the first cars that leave. The result is that many cars leave the yards only half loaded while the first batch go out with men hanging on all parts of the car, on the fender steps and hanging on by their toes. This is bad policy and dangerous, besides being in violation of the city ordinance forbidding riding on roof and fenders of cars."

Missing Girl Is Located With Friends

Miss Ellen Fields, 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Marion Fields of San Leandro, who was reported missing from her home November 12, was found here yesterday by Marshal J. F. Peralta of San Leandro. The girl was stopping with friends at 518 Seventeenth street.

She claimed that her home life was uncongenial and that she purposed living in Oakland and working there. She was removed to the detention home by Marshal Peralta.

Three Arrested for Violating Odinance

Anthony Filagrasso, William Ward and Fred Starr were arrested last night at Seventh and Campbell streets for violating the city ordinance forbidding expectorating on the sidewalk. The men were released on payment of $10 bail. This is the first arrest made by the police since the health officer suggested to the police that the anti-spitting ordinances be strictly enforced.

HUN RULERS HOLD SECRET, SAYS GAYLEY

That the former kaiser must explain his meeting at Potsdam on July 5, 1914, with German and Austrian military leaders before the world war which has just ended will be understood, is the declaration of Professor Charles Mills Gayley, dean of the faculties at the University of California, who is delivering a course of lectures on the present world crisis.

Evidence was introduced by Dean Gayley in his lecture to show that the former kaiser and pan-German party were the instigators of the war and that, although Germany denied knowledge of the Austro-Serbian ultimatum it was declared she participated in the framing of it.

Professor Gayley declared that at the Pottsdam meeting, attended by the kaiser, Von Hollweg, Admiral von Tirpitz, General Falkenhayen and Von Strumm, representing Germany, and Archduke Frederick, Count Berchtold, Count Tieza and Count Holzendorf, representing Austria, that the principal points of the ultimatum were decided upon, although they were not issued until fifteen days later.

"It is probable, but not certain, that the date of mobilization was fixed at the same time," says Professor Gayley. "Immediately afterward the kaiser left in his yacht for Sweden in order to throw dust in the eyes of France and England. In the face of these facts what of Germany's contention that she did her utmost to prevent the war?"

Dean Gayley lauded Prince Leichtnowsky, German ambassador to England in 1914, as one of the "best, noble-minded Germans that had ever lived." "Prince Leichtnowsky was recalled before the ultimatum and was so pessimistic about the possibility of averting war that all his London friends noticed it," said Professor Gayley. "He left England with the greatest sorrow. Leichtnowsky was later thrown in prison and tried, but at the present time it is not known whether he is dead or alive. He would be a very valuable man in the present German government."

LIEUT. IRVING HONORED AS HERO

BERKELEY, Nov. 25. — News that his son, Lieutenant Livingston G. Irving, had been ofcially cited for bringing down a German plane near Verdun in the fighting in that section last month was received today by Mayor Samuel C. Irving.

Young Irving, who has been flying in France with the Lafayette Escadrille, and a companion flier were attacked by eight German planes, according to news of the deed winning the Berkeley flier honors which has just reached here. Despite the heavy odds against them, each of the American fliers brought down one plane, the remaining six German aircraft taking fright at the fate of their companions and flying back to their own lines.

Lieutenant Irving has been flying in France for the past year, winning honors which caused him to be chosen for the famous French escadrille. In a letter received from his son this morning under date of October 21, young Irving writes:

"From the looks of things at present this war will not be over for many months."

Theft Charged; Man Held for Inquiry

MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster — does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients.

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

MUSTEROLE WILL NOT BLISTER

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Do not imagine that because other cough medicines failed to give you relief that it will be the same with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Bear in mind that from a small beginning this remedy has gained a world wide reputation and immense sale. A medicine must have exceptional merit to win esteem wherever it becomes known. MEN ONLY AT BIG U. C. SHOW; LIKE OLD DAYS

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—With co-eds barred, famous scenes of other days will be revived by the University of California at its first football show to be held in two years at Harmon Gymnasium on Thursday evening in honor of the California-Stanford game.

The show has been sanctioned by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler and will be staged for male college students only, with members of the varsity football team as guests of honor. Among the members scheduled are plenty of jazz music, a snake dancer, pianologist, sleight of hand artist and other stunts being kept a secret until the night of the show.

The program is being arranged under the auspices of the University Glee Club, which will give selections under the direction of Clinton R. Morse.

ALL ARE SAFE ON YACHT TROJAN

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 25.—A wireless message stating that the sailing yacht Trojan had been found and that all on board were safe, was received at the naval training station here this morning. The boat is being towed into port by one of the naval patrol boats that had been searching for the yacht throughout the night. No details as to how badly the yacht was crippled were given in the wireless message.

Twelve officers and enlisted men from the naval training station here were reported to have been upon the Trojan when she sailed yesterday from Catalina Island for this port in a heavy sea. When the boat became several hours overdue it was feared she had gone down with all hands aboard.

An S. O. S. call was picked up from the yacht last night. Charles Kieriff, chief quartermaster at the naval training station, Boatswain Fields and Cadet Richard Nolte were said to be among the passengers on the yacht.

HAS DEADLY INFLUENZA GERM BEEN CONQUERED

Scientific Investigation Proves Beyond Question That Disease Germs Can be Destroyed by Over-Oxidization As Well As by Direct Poison — New Discovery Creates Wide-Spread Interest.

NO DISCOVERY in the field of medicine within the past year, perhaps, has created such wide-spread interest and discussion as the announcement that a new preventive treatment for Spanish Influenza had been found. The new treatment is called Wilson's Solution or Anti-Flu, and is the discovery of Prof. Robert C. Wilson, head of the Department of Pharmacy of one of the largest universities in the country.

Leading physicians, specialists and bacteriologists give the preparation unqualified endorsement after submitting it to the most exhaustive tests. The solution is composed of some of the most powerful antiseptics and germicides known to science and experimental tests show that one of the ingredients is ten times as powerful as carbolic acid, although the preparation is harmless when used according to directions. To many this would appear impossible, but it is a well-known fact that Dakin's Solution, which has been used so extensively in the war hospitals, is fifty times as powerful as mercury. The above statement, therefore, seems mild by comparison.

It is Prof. Wilson's theory that the germs in the nose and throat and bronchial tubes can be destroyed by the powerful vapors from his solution by merely inhaling the fumes from a few drops on the handkerchief. The fact that tens of thousands have apparently received immunity from the disease after using Wilson's Solution seems to support this theory.

Scientific investigation has shown beyond peradventure of a doubt that germs and bacteria can be destroyed by over-oxidization as well as by direct poison. It is indicated that Wilson's Solution does both: and it is Prof. Wilson's theory that the germs are killed by over-oxidization when the fumes are inhaled sufficiently from the handkerchief or otherwise, and that it destroys the germs by direct poison when used as a spraying solution.

When used as a spraying solution it covers the mucous membrane lining of the nose and throat with an oily coating saturated with this powerful antiseptic and it is indicated that when the germs are inhaled they come in contact with the solution and are thus destroyed.

It is believed that spraying the nose and throat night and morning, in addition to inhaling the fumes of the solution at frequent intervals during the day, will give complete immunity.

It is also indicated that bad colds, tonsilitis, sore throat and the ordinary forms of grippe and other diseases contracted by way of the nose and throat, can be prevented by using Wilson's Solution in the above manner.

On account of its powerful antiseptic and disinfecting properties it can be used for practically all purposes where antiseptics are required, and is a most valuable household remedy.

Although it was placed on the market only a few weeks ago, the success the preparation has achieved is truly phenomenal. It is now being manufactured at the rate of forty-three thousand bottles daily, but even this amount has not been sufficient so far to supply the rapidly increasing demand.

Wilson's Solution is also known as Anti-Flu, and is sold by all druggists. A thirty-five-cent bottle is sufficient for a week's treatment. Caution: Read directions on the label carefully, as the Solution is highly concentrated and must be properly diluted. Langley & Michaels Co., wholesale distributors for this section.—Advertisement.

WHEN SLEEP DOES NOT REFRESH YOU

People who are tired out, who arise in the morning feeling that sleep has not refreshed them, are in a state of nervous exhaustion that borders on the condition that doctors call neurasthenia. The causes are varied. The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

"My nervous system was weakened," said Mr. Charles Crowley of 34 Richard street, West Lynn, Mass., "my limbs were shaky and the muscles sore. At times it seemed my limbs would give out. The muscles of my shoulders were painful and sore. I had severe headaches. My rest seemed to do me no good and I was tired in the morning. There was a trembling sensation when I walked.

"I learned of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through a newspaper and after finding the first box of pills helped me I took two more boxes. I am feeling good, the nervous twitchings are gone and I sleep and eat well."

The treatment in cases like this is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for on the blood and nerves.

IS HAPPY OVER END OF TROUBLE

Mrs. Von Borneman Had Fainting Spells and Family Feared Serious Illness.

"I have certainly had a long hard struggle with ill-health, but now I can rejoice because Tanlac has relieved me entirely." This statement was made recently by Mrs. M. Von Borneman of 2336 Twenty-fourth street, who has been a resident of San Francisco for more than forty years.

"Beginning four or five years ago," she continued, "with slight attacks of indigestion, to which I paid little attention at first, I kept getting worse until I was just suffering all the time. My food would sour on my stomach and bloat me up terribly, and the gas would press on my heart until I could hardly stand it. I would have attack after attack of dizziness, one spell right after another, and I got so I was afraid to leave the house, for when one of these attacks struck me I would just faint away. Everything would turn black before me, my head would feel numb, and I would get cold all over. My nights were just a nightmare to me; I couldn't sleep and many a night my son and his wife had to be up with me half the night trying to get me some relief from my suffering. They used to get pretty scared for fear I would die in one of my spells, and I really didn't care whether I lived or not, my suffering was so great. I had to live on the very lightest of diet—couldn't drink coffee or eat any vegetables—and the only thing in the way of meats I could eat at all was a little chicken. I was continually going to my physician and took electric treatment and all kinds of medicines, but nothing seemed to help me in the least. I was so nervous that I hated for my friends to visit me and had become discouraged and out of heart because it looked like nothing could do me any good.

"One day after reading the statement of a San Francisco woman who had been relieved by Tanlac, I telephoned the Owl Drug Store to send me a bottle. I just had a feeling, somehow, that it would help me, and honestly I hadn't taken more than half a bottle until I knew it was what I needed. I have never in all my life seen anything to equal it. It is really wonderful. I took seven bottles in all, and while it has been several weeks since I finished my last bottle I am still feeling fine. I never look to have any more stomach trouble, but if I do I'll certainly take more Tanlac. Why, I eat just anything now—all kinds of vegetables and meats, and drink two cups of coffee every day—and never feel a sign of my old troubles. Why, the other morning I made pan cakes for breakfast, ate several of them and digested them as if they had been chicken broth, and it's the same way with everything else I eat. I never suffer from gas, bloating or dizziness any more, and can go to bed and sleep like a child all night long. I have gained considerably in weight and have more strength and energy than I have had in years, and hardly a day goes by but what I tell some one about Tanlac. It is one medicine that I am going to recommend to anyone."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company Stores.—Advertisement.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

When Itching Stops

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

A little zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

Society Sponsors Attractive New Tea-Room

One of the delightful recreation spots in town is the Municipal Tea Room just opened under the direction of the Recreation Department of the city of Oakland, with Mrs. Ann Stafford in charge. Miss Helene Bassett is director of the playgrounds, which daily are filled with happy little children the year round.

The old homestead with its spacious rooms and glowing fireplaces in each room, is a pleasant rendezvous for many informal parties at luncheon, afternoon tea, or dinner. The great sun porches have been artistically arranged for out-of-doors service in the midday, while the former library of the home is now transformed into a reception room for guests. The playground maintains the tea room principally for public convenience.

There will be a number of Thanksgiving parties held there.

The biggest football event in seasons is to be staged Thursday on the University of California campus, when the first American football game will be played since 1905. Particularly will society play an important role in the game this Thanksgiving, for the proceeds above actual expenses of the game are to be added to the United War Work Fund. Alumni from both Stanford and California will come from all parts of the state.

To help in the cause, University girls in the garb of the Red Cross uniform will sell pennants, flowers and candies during the afternoon.

A long list of patrons and patronesses from north and south will sponsor the affair.

Those who will be her luncheon guests are Mrs. Sydney J. Conger, Mrs. A. E. Lorber, Mrs. Alfred Latham, Mrs. Robert E. L. Jewett, Mrs. C. A. Bradford and Mrs. F. A. Stearns.

Mrs. Lee Williams (Grace Bradford) and her family are to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, the C. A. Bradfords, in the bay section.

Mrs. Alfred Merritt is to be hostess tomorrow at her home in Thousand Oaks to members of one of the sections of the Baby Hospital Association. The members have been making desk accessories for the bazaar.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Boyes have taken apartments in this city for the season, having rented their home in Piedmont. Mrs. Joseph McCausland of Toronto, Canada, is visiting her daughter.

DUCK COSTS LIFE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Still clutching the duck for which he sacrificed his life, the body of Edward J. Larson, 447 Noe street, the hunter who was drowned a week ago, was recovered from Lake Merced yesterday. The body was found floating on the east side of the lake by Joseph Varner and was later identified at the morgue by W. J. Taylor, Larson's brother-in-law.

WANT EDITORIAL CLERK.

The United States Civil Service Commission calls attention to the fact that there is an urgent need for eligibles for the position of Editorial clerk. An examination for that position has been announced to be held on December 11, 1918. Application blanks and further information will be obtained from the District Secretary, Room 241, Post Office Building, San Francisco, California.

ALASKA LOSES MANY.

An exodus of the population of Alaska on an unprecedented scale has taken place, with the result that the "Great Northland" has lost fully 50 per cent of its inhabitants, according to G. Aarons, managing director of a gold dredging company of Fairbanks, Alaska, who arrived yesterday.

In Thick of Sea Fight With Hun Submarine

German Commander Pays Tribute to Gallantry of U. S. Naval Men

By HERMAN WHITAKER, TRIBUNE Correspondent with the American expeditionary forces; author of "The Planter," "The Settler," "Over the Border," etc. Continued from yesterday's issue

"We had already used up the deck ammunition astern and the fire amidships prevented us from bringing any from the forward magazine, so there was not left for it but to man the bow gun. To do that we had to dash through flame and smoke, for she was now burning amidships like a volcano. The captain and crew were already in the boats, and he called for us to abandon ship at once. But the armed guard takes orders only from its own officer, and our chief hadn't begun to be through.

"'Hold one boat for us!' he sang out, and carried right on.

THE FIGHT CONTINUES.

"So we took up the fight again—in smoke and heat that were almost unbearable when our circlings brought the wind astern. In the first quarter of an hour we dropped four shells so close to the sub, that she got cold feet and went full speed astern, then dropped in behind and followed up our wake so that we couldn't bring our gun to bear. The captain called out just then that his boat was taking fire and to come, if we were coming at all. The ship was liable to blow up, too, any minute, and we couldn't even see the enemy; it was no good to stay any longer. So overboard we went—into the sea—for the boat capsized and we had to right it while swimming in the water. We had no more than climbed in when the U-boat sailed up alongside.

"'Its commander seemed to be a pretty decent sort, for he called the boats alongside and shook hands with every man of the gun crew. 'That was the finest fight,' he told us, 'ever put up by a merchant vessel. You made me use up 300 shells and your shots lined so true, though a bit short, that I dared not close in. But for the accident that set you on fire you would have got away.' He added that if we hadn't wirelessed for assistance he would have towed us to land, and when he sailed away his crew lined up on deck and gave us a parting cheer."

TELLS OF ANOTHER FIGHT.

Still another lad told of an eight-hour battle between a tanker and U-boat before the former was compelled to surrender through the exhaustion of her ammunition. As with the other ship, the first shell seemed to drop out of a clear sky and they had the same difficulty in locating the submarine. They then executed the usual maneuver to bring the U-boat astern and poured in such a hot fire that for four hours the enemy made no attempt to close.

"When he tried it, once," the boy said, "we dropped a shell on him at 7000 yards, and he fell back at once and began feeling for us again at extreme range. After he got it four shells dropped squarely on us in succession.

"That threw a cold chill into the captain and crew. They wanted to surrender. But we stuck by the gun for another two hours till we had fired our last shell. Even then we did not quit till the last of the arms and papers had been thrown overboard. Our chief petty officer was, indeed, the last man to leave the ship.

"This sub commander wasn't such a bad sort, either. Sailing alongside, he ordered all gunners and the captains to come aboard. When we obeyed he complimented us on our appearance and praised our shooting—in fact, he said we shot far too well to be left at large. We had pretty nearly done him in and might sink some other U-boat. If he had had room he would undoubtedly have taken the lot of us prisoner. As it was, he ordered the captain and five of our gunners down below. When they sailed away, too, his crew stood at attention and gave us a military salute."

To be carried away a prisoner into Germany was surely a hard fate, but would that this was the worst of it. It is to be feared that the poor captives met a worse fate, for the U-boat is said to have been sunk within twenty-four hours by the next ship she attacked.

RECORD IS BLACK.

In the foregoing instances the German commanders behaved well, but it would be a great mistake to allow such sporadic cases to soften our judgment of their general conduct of the underseas war. Examples of decency such as these serve only to make darker by contrast the black record of their fellow commanders. On the other hand, it would be a still greater mistake to judge the merchant marine by the conduct of certain masters and sailors. On land or sea no class of men had acquitted itself more bravely than the merchant sailors who put to sea to keep open the trade routes and bring the Allies their daily bread before a single guard or a gun was placed on their ships. Their record in the undersea war is beyond question. Sporadic instances of cowardice such as that now related by the chief are the exceptions which prove the brave rule—and the armed guards know how to take care of them.

A friend of mine was chief of the armed guard on a vessel proceeding to France. The instant they sighted a U-boat the captain and mates tried to abandon the ship along with firemen and chief engineer. Abandoning a ship without a scrap, however, isn't in the armed guards' curriculum, and friend Bill stepped right to the bat. Before that skipper had hopped three yards off his bridge Bill had him covered with a gun.

"Back to your bridge, you cabbage," he tells him, "and get this ship under way again—and do it damn quick!"

Next he herds the chief engineer and his black gang below at the point of his gun, and five minutes later had the ship running like the wind and his stern gun popping comme ca the Fourth of July. What's more, he got away with it, and on his report the captain, mates and chief engineer all had a can tied to them at the end of the voyage.

In their duels with U-boats the guards have not lacked their victories. Take, for instance, that fine fresh morning off the French coast when the armed guard was putting a fine polish on their gun at the moment a U-boat of the largest and latest type suddenly heaved up like a great whale out of the green seas. It was barely 2000 yards away, and opening with both forward and after guns the guard ran off ten shots so rapidly that in spite of its size and superior armament the U-boat deemed discretion to be the better part of valor and dived. An hour later it reappeared at the same distance on the opposite quarter; but it had better have remained below, for the fifth shot from the guards in the ensuing duel produced a belch of black smoke from the open hatches. Evidently too badly damaged to submerge, the U-boat now steamed toward the coast, which lay in full view. Most men would have been glad enough to see it go, but not this guard. Giving chase, they landed another shell on board and never let go until the quarry was driven high and dry on the beach.

DOWN GOES SUBMARINE.

Another U-boat had come up dead ahead of a ship, intending, no doubt, to throw a torpedo as the proposed victim swung around to run. Unfortunately for this benevolent plan, running was not on the guard's program. The first shot from their bow gun just grazed the U-boat's conning tower. The second carried it clean away. The U-boat lurched heavily and listed to port. Its bows then rose high in the air and down she went stern first.

Even a Yankee sailing vessel bested a U-boat in a heavy duel that ended, if the chief petty officer's report is to be believed, in the sinking of the Hun. In other fights a lucky first shot or quick torpedoing has prevented the armed guards from making much of a showing, but in misfortune they have proved as brave as in victory.

One vessel went down so quickly that though a few of the boats got away, the armed guard was swept off the stern by the engulfing wave and left swimming in the water on a black, starless night. Presently they saw a dark form approaching through the gloom. At first they thought it one of their own boats, but when it turned out to be the submarine they all swam in the opposite direction, preferring the cold mercies of the sea to those of the Hun. Luckily, their chief had an electric torch in his pocket, and while swimming with one hand he blinked a call for help to the boats, which eventually picked them up.

They also had accounted the submarine and talked with its commander. "This is war, you know," he replied to their report of twenty-five men still in the water, and sailed away leaving them to drown. Fortunately, all but four were picked up by the boats.

WASHED OFF DECK.

On still another vessel the entire guard were washed off the deck, and though they were picked up by a boat it was but a beginning of a longer suffering. Twice heavy seas capsized their boat, drowning four men and their officer, while the others struggled in the water to right it. Thereafter, soaked to the skin and chilled to the bone by a bitter wind, they shivered through the night. Eight died before morning. Only six survivors out of eighteen eventually landed on the lonely shores of a Scotch island; and one of these, a mere lad, died from exposure, tended in his last moments by the wife and daughter of a lighthouse keeper. He now lies on the lonely Scotch cliffs overlooking the sea under a headstone erected by the vessel's owner in memory of him and his companions. After his death, moreover, those good Scotch women exhibited that touch of nature which makes the whole world kin by writing their sorrow and sympathy to his parents in the United States.

Again, so recently that the details are still not available, two survivors of an armed guard of eighteen drifted for sixteen days in the Atlantic before their boat was washed ashore. Without the details, one may still imagine what they passed through—the hours dragging by day and night through a period twice the length of a slow Atlantic passage; the eternal reaches of ocean stretching all around under the vast vault of the sky; in the midst of all, those two poor human atoms, drifting, drifting, drifting, always with eyes straining for the sail that never broke the dead line of the horizon. Their fellows, not having been heard of during a much longer period of time, have been given up as lost.

Sitting in my California garden a year ago in the midst of a riotous blooming and blowing of roses, with low quail calls drifting in from the golden hills, I had anticipated in a dim sort of way all of this. But when the conference was over and I went over the side, my hand still tingling from their chief's parting grip, I know with the positiveness of actual knowledge that these armed naval guards of ours are worthy lineal descendants of the Yankee privateer.

One picture of this particular guard will always remain in my memory. If a trifle grim, their life is not altogether devoid of humor. In one second that, the tragedy looms ever over the underseas war may flash into roaring farce. This is especially true of large convoys which, in the danger zone, are apt to develop nervousness as pronounced as that in a young lady's seminary when a burglar is known to be operating in the neighborhood. "The Battle of the Casks," "The Battle of Bordeaux," "The Battle of the Spars" and certain other combats now famous but which will not go down in history, all originated in this tendency. Once started, this U-boat hysteria is violently infectious, for let but one gun go off and the whole convoy breaks out in an eruption of fire blazing at imaginary enemies. The simile of this seminary holds true to the end in that the traditional treatments of hand slapping, smelling salts, cold water applications, or the naval equivalents thereof, have usually to be administered by some destroyer commander before the patient recovers. One rude man brought a whole convoy to its senses by replying to wild wig-wagging concerning a U-boat which he had already proved a floating spar.

"Look out, or it will get you."

To return to the last picture. While rolling on down the coast the following day a report of a periscope sighted on our beam brought us all flying up on deck from the wardroom lunch. With the aid of a powerful binocular I presently picked up a small rod in the green water about equidistant between and astern of us and my friends, the naval armed guard. Turning my glass on their ship, I made out the figure of the big chief, arm extended pointing at the periscope; behind him, the tense, eager figures of his men, all in silhouette against the sky. Our own gunners were already training at the target, but before they could fire a puff of smoke shot from the stern of the other ship—the armed guard had beat the navy to it.

Following the sharp crack of the gun, the shell explosion lifted a column of spray and wood splinters out of the water. "Boat wreckage," our executive officer commented.

JEWISH FESTIVAL STARTS THIS WEEK

The festival of Chanukah, which will be celebrated in all Jewish homes for eight days beginning with Thursday evening, November 28, embodies the elements of the present world struggle. The festival commemorates the historic incidents related in the apocryphal "Books of the Maccabees." The heroic suffering of the Jews of that day finds a modern parallel in the plight of the Belgian people. In many a Jewish household, the infamous Antiochus Siphanes of the story will be compared to his successor in spirit, the inhuman Emperor of Germany. Like his modern embodiment, the ancient tyrant of Syria found the land of Israel a stumbling block in the pathway of his ambition for territorial expansion. In order to destroy all vestiges of independence in Judea, this tyrant sought to crush the Jewish religion and to set up his pagan cult in its place. For three years his ruthless armies devastated and despoiled city and hamlet. Then Judah the Lion arose and with God's help smote the hosts of the Syrian and rolled back the armies of oppression. He swept the enemies from the land, rebuilt the cities, established safety and rededicated the Temple in Jerusalem to the worship of God. The anniversary is therefore known as the Festival of the Rededication (Chanukah.) It is a home festival and is signalized by lighting candles on each of the eight evenings. In these troubled days the heart of every Jew will go forth to the Belgian sufferers and will find encouragement in the message of the festival, which is addressed to Belgium as well as to Israel and to all humanity. It is summed up in the words of Prophet Zacharia, read on this festival: "Not by might and not by power, but by My Spirit said the Lord of hosts."

BIG AUDIENCE HEARS SCIENCE LECTURER

Dr. John M. Tutt, C.S.B., Is Speaker at Auditorium Theater; Tells of Church

Dr. John M. Tutt, C. S. B., of Kansas City, Mo., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delived a lecture on Christian Science to a large audience in the Oakland Municipal theater, Sunday afternoon, November 24th, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in this city. Mrs. Sue Slicer Wilsey, second reader of the church, introduced the lecturer with the following brief remarks:

Friends:

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Oakland, welcomes you here this afternoon to listen to a lecture on Christian Science.

Jesus said, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." Christian Science makes this same promise. It is available to regenerate the individual, the community, the nation and the world. It speaks to the sick, the sinning, the broken-hearted and the forlorn in every land out of its inexhaustible treasury of compassion. It offers everyone the sure way, the Christ way, of salvation. Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, says on page 494 of the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health, With Key to the Scriptures," "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need."

In founding the Christian Science movement, Mrs. Eddy displayed remarkable wisdom and foresight as she fashioned each detail. She established the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Through the manual of the Mother church she provided for all the various activities of the Christian Science movement, including the establishment of branch churches and societies, of reading rooms, the publication of numerous periodicals and Board of Lectureship.

It is our privilege to have with us this afternoon a member of this Board of Lectureship, Dr. John M. Tutt, C. S. B., of Kansas City, Mo., who will now address you.

"Christian Science has come to humanity in response to its cry. Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me—restore unto me the joy of thy salvation.' It has come to restore health in the place of sickness, righteousness in the place of sin, supply in the place of want, joy in the place of sorrow, understanding in the place of ignorance. Through the restorative ministry of Christian Science multitudes today rejoice in newness of life. These individuals, bodily saved and spiritually awakened, are not incompetent, but representative citizens of the communities in which they live—they are your friends, perchance. Many of these were Bible students—all are now. Many were Christians—all now are striving to be. Many, turned from disease and sin, are restored to health and responsibility. Unquestionably, there is a mighty power in this influence which has touched the lives of your citizens and blessed them, which has made bad men good and good men better.

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE.

"As one of the many who have returned from going down into the pit, I testify gladly to the power of Christian Science in my own experience. Because of the bias of medical and theological education, I was for many years deprived of the benefits of Christian Science. When my eyes finally were opened I found health and spiritual awakening I had never known in the old ways of medicine and theology. I then discovered that the growth of Christian Science is due entirely to the fact that it 'meets the heart's great need' as no other system has met it. Throughout thirteen years of the study and practice of Christian Science, in proportion to my understanding and application of its divine Principle, I have felt the abiding consciousness of God's presence and power, and have come into an ever enlarging sense of dominion over all that is unlike good. I have experienced healing and have been witness to the healing of many others. These cases include acute and chronic conditions, functional and organic disease, nervous and mental disorders. I have seen all types of disease and sin healed and their victims restored through spiritual power alone.

"My friends, I am aware that the foregoing statement accords to Christian Science a place as a restorative agency not believed by any of the prevailing systems of religion and medicine.

"Now, I do not speak incompetently, nor do I wish to speak impertinently of materia medica. To qualify myself to practice medicine, I studied three years and graduated at a standard medical college. At no place did this course of study rise above matter. The text book which has most to say about health, and the way to restore and maintain it, was omitted from the curriculum. The Bible is not studied in medical colleges! The supreme authority on cause and effect, the one exhaustive study of man and his Maker is there ignored. The entire tendency of material medicine is away from the spiritual. However much material systems of medicine may infect ordinary religion, and the infection has already deprived the orthodox church of spiritual healing, it cannot be said that religion has affected medicine, which is avowedly unreligious. Its practice requiring no Christian qualification.

"Christian Science honors and respects that class of physicians whose lives are devoted to the alleviation of suffering, whose interest in mankind is not selfish nor political. To such noble men and women Christian Scientists say: 'Let there be no strife, but to the extent that we labor for humanity, its 'we be brethren.' But the radical cure and prevention of disease must come not through drugs, not through material methods but through improved mental states. Better thinking makes better bodies, just as better thinking makes better morals, and Christian Science is the religion of right thinking.

"Before practicing medicine for three years I was forced to the conclusion that to ignore the spiritual man is to be unprepared to cope with the mental processes underlying the discordant manifestations we see in the physical body. Medical experience taught me, as it has taught others, that regardless of diagnosis and treatment, a very large percentage of patients recover, a small proportion are unaffected, or grow worse, and a few die. It became conclusive that whether my cures rang with commendation or burned with condemnation, I had perhaps done little to merit either. I came at last to know that material medicine, with its multiplied legion of diseases and its superlegion of remedies, is not, and, by its very nature, never can be a genuine curative agency.

"Today, from experience in the treatment of the sick-covering active practice in both material and metaphysical medical systems, I am able to testify to the superiority of Christian Science over all other methods. To illustrate this superiority, a single comparative instance will suffice: Shortly after I became a Christian Scientist, while on a business trip, I was seized with ptomaine poisoning. After a strenuous night I reached home in a semi-conscious condition, and was just able to call for a Christian Science practitioner. With one treatment, and a lapse of only twenty-four hours, I returned to my work entirely restored. About the same time a physician of my acquaintance was attacked in a similar manner. He was attended by five medical practitioners, lay in delirium for five weeks, and finally made a slow but imperfect recovery.

"If each individual in this audience were asked to give a reason for his presence here, no doubt it would be possible to classify the replies under two great heads—religion and medicine. These may be said to be the paramount human interests, for second only to a sin, to restore health and dominion, she gave her book to the world. This book has revived primitive Christianity. In less than fifty years millions have received its evangelic message, 'Fear not: For behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. The world as yet little knows the extent of its indebtedness to this gentle woman, but today her grateful beneficiaries unite with Isaiah in declaring the promises due unto godliness, 'Thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called the repairer of the breach, the restorer of paths to dwell in.

GOD.

"Christian Science accepts the primal order of Scripture which states fundamentally 'In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.' The most self-evident facts we can consider are that the universe, including man, exists and that it is a creation. A creation implies a power by which the thing made comes into existence, and thus we arrive logically at the Creator. That is very plain, and there have never been in the world's history any considerable number of people who would deny a supreme Cause, or God.

"Therefore Christian Science is not confronted with the necessity to establish in thought the fact that God is. Its mission is to reveal what God is, how we are to know Him, and how we are to utilize His power in solving life's problems. Mrs. Eddy knew that what humanity needs is the right concept of God; that until mankind learns something of the truth about God, its efforts to work out its own salvation are ineffective and its progress at best is slow. The restorative ministry of Christian Science includes then, primarily, replacement in consciousness of ignorant or inadequate beliefs about God with right concepts of him.

"In reviewing the history of religion it is surprising to note that however diverse the beliefs about Deity held by mankind, there is one striking similarity common to them all. Without exception, these beliefs have picturized God. Invariably he has been thought of as the image and likeness of something. Moses commanded: 'Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image or any likeness of anything——.' Now God is not image, nor is he likeness, for the simple reason that, according to the Bible, his creation is image and likeness, whereas Deity is the origin of all things, or first cause. The progress of humanity has been proportional to the proper reversal of this inversion of natural order and the restoration in consciousness of divine cause as primary.

"Mankind's concepts of Deity have ranged from the crudest forms of matter, images of stone, wood, metals, and from the most impressive manifestations of matter, the sun, moon and stars, all the way to the deification of man. My early thought of God took the form of an elderly gentleman of most benign countenance and gracious mien, who resembled no one so much as my father. And that is not surprising, since I was taught the fatherhood of God without an adequate explanation of his infinite character.

"May it not be said truly that every individual that approaches the subject of Christian Science has a concept of Deity false in some degree? Mrs. Eddy saw this, and she saw also that these finite conceptions of false beliefs about God, operate to hinder the progress of humanity—because they leave mankind to deal with effects without a true knowledge of cause. She therefore chose seven prominent synonyms of God which she said were 'intended to express the nature, essence and wholeness of Deity.' (Science and Health, page 465.) Most of these synonyms she took directly from the Bible, and all of them have scriptural authority. These wonderful words are found in Science and Health (page 465) in answer to the question, 'What is God?' 'God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love.' Note that not one of these words expresses a concept of God as finite, whether person or thing. John said, 'God is love,' and love is not a person, nor a thing, love is a principle. Jesus said to the woman at the well, 'God is a spirit,' and spirit is not a person nor a thing, it is a principle. When the Psalmist referred to Deity as God of truth, he did not speak of a person nor a thing, but of a principle. When Moses said of God, 'He is thy life,' and Job referred to God 'in whose hand is the soul of every living thing,' they used words which express in each case a principle. 'Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus,' said Paul, and showed that Mind is Principle and not a person nor a thing. These seven words each indicate, then are fully synonymous with God because they 'express the nature, essence and wholeness of Deity.'

"Now the outstanding character of Deity is his infinitude. God is infinite, incorporeal, that is, not limited, not bounded nor confined. The infinitude of God means, if it means anything at all, that God is one, without a second. Therefore God is the only principle, the only mind, the only life, truth, love, the only soul, the only spirit. 'The Lord he is God: there is none else beside him.'

"The revelation of 'the larger thought of God' is enabling Christian Scientists to understand him, to draw near to him, to see his handiwork, and to reject what is unlike the divine nature. Whatever the problem confronting the Christian Scientist, he never rests until he arrives at God. God is all, he is all his thoughts, for the presence of God means the presence of good and the absence of evil.

"It is often remarked how intimately Christian Scientists speak of God. We no longer regard him fearfully, because we have learned that he is divine love. We no longer imagine him to be a magnified mortal. We have ceased to look for him geographically or astronomically, or to circumscribe him in any way. But if to us his habitation is no longer limited to place, we have gained the understanding of God's presence everywhere. If we have lost our fear of Deity, we have gained for him love and allegiance. If we have ceased somewhat to believe in the power of evil, it is because we have learned something of the all-power of God. To all who like us are becoming acquainted with God, are learning to trust him, and are striving to be like him, Mrs. Eddy refers in the opening line of her text book: 'To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, today is rife with blessings.' (Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures, Preface VII.)

SPIRITUAL SENSE AND HEAVEN.

"How do we know God and where do we find him? Elijah in the mount before the Lord learned that God was not in the whirlwind, not in the earthquake, not in the fire—God was not in matter. He was in the still small voice. No man can understand God or know him aside through the finite senses, for 'no man hath seen God at any time.' Because he is spirit. He manifests himself spiritually. 'They that worship him,' said Jesus, 'must worship him in spirit and in truth.' So Mrs. Eddy wrote (Science and Health, page 481): 'Through spiritual sense only, man comprehends and loves Deity.' And again (Science and Health, page 205): 'Spiritual sense is a conscious, constant, capacity to understand God.

"I recently read a report of a sermon by a clergyman on the subject, 'Will Christian Scientists Go to Heaven?' No Christian Scientist can doubt that he will be in heaven just in the degree of his understanding of Jesus' statement, 'For, behold, the Kingdom of God is within you.' God and heaven are within the grasp of spiritual perception alone. Orthodox views received a just rebuke from a little child who, when asked where heaven is, replied 'out in the graveyard.' By inescapable logic he had concluded that if God and heaven were reached through death, as he had been taught, the cemetery must be the gateway to the kingdom. The Christian Scientist to whose inquiry the child responded, was able to show him that since heaven is God's home, and God is everywhere, heaven must be everywhere. She explained that God is love and God is good, and therefore where love and good are found, there is God and heaven; so to the child came the joy of knowing God's eternal nearness, even his ever-presence.

"Christian Science has come to restore the right concept of heaven, and to reveal it to be spiritual consciousness, and there is not one in this audience but may yield his material sense to that divine influence and now and here enter the realm of harmony.

MAN.

"The restoration in consciousness of God as spirit, or mind, at once lifts thought to a higher contemplation of God's creation—man. Mankind's estimate of man has risen, of course, no higher than his estimate of God. False beliefs about God have resulted directly in erroneous concepts of man. So a finite, material sense of the Creator has been reflected in humanity's thought of man as finite and material. Christian Science comes to show the falsity of such belief and to restore the concept of man as spiritual, the image and likeness of Spirit.

"Natural science declares man to be composed of chemical elements and to be confined to a physical body. It recognizes an immaterial factor in this body which it calls mind, but which it limits to brain matter, holding this form of matter responsible for mentality. Paul terms this animated brain matter the carnal mind, or the mind of the flesh, and further characterizes it as 'enmity against God.' Since this so-called mind comes in with matter, is wholly dependent on matter for manifestation, and goes out with matter, Mrs. Eddy calls it mortal mind; and its personification she named mortal man. This erring, sinning, dying material concept of a man plainly is not the man God made in his image and likeness, for the likeness of spirit could not be unspiritual, the likeness of God could not be imperfect. Divinity is never less than spiritual, while matter is never more than material. Spirit and matter are opposites in essence and qualities.

"Popular theology holds that man is both material and spiritual; that he has a material body and a spiritual soul. It will not help to argue that man is both material and spiritual, since in that case the destruction of the material body would result in the partial destruction of man. Christian Science teaches what the Bible imports, that the real man is wholly spiritual, and that the mind-matter combination described by physical science, and the spirit-flesh combination described by theology, are false beliefs about man. Indeed, the destructibility of the physical body clearly shows it to be utterly unlike the infinite, imperishable Spirit.

"Jesus furnished an illustration both of the real man and of the unreal nature of physicality when, after proving its unreal character by disregarding and overcoming physical law, he separated himself from matter and disappeared. Does anyone imagine that in the ascension Jesus was taken up as a mortal, material man? What then became of the physical body when he ascended to the Father? Is it not plain that the real Jesus was from the first spiritual, and that the material body was at all times what he ultimately proved it to be, a mere concept of finite sense which disappeared in the light of spiritual understanding? Hear the testimony of St. John: 'For all that is in the world, * * * is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever.' If 'all that is in the world,' mortal man and the physical universe, is 'not of the Father,' what claim can materiality have to reality? If the world is the author of the things that are in the world, and 'the world passeth away,' as St. John declares, it is conclusive that God is not the author of the material universe nor of mortal man. Because they lack a divine cause, the material universe and mortal man can have no reality, for 'without him was not anything made that was made.' St. John's declaration that the things that are in the world are of the world indicates that materiality only substitutes itself, in belief, for the real creation, the spiritual universe and spiritual man, and merely counterfeits genuine being.

EVIL.

"From the foregoing it is evident that Christian Science does not hold God responsible for the creation of that which Paul defined as 'enmity against God.' God is not responsible, directly nor indirectly, for evil, for sin, disease, nor death. The explanation of evil must be sought outside of infinite Mind. Whence then comes this enmity against God? People who are in trouble are not greatly concerned in the philosophic explanation of the origin of evil. Their interest centers in getting rid of evil, and the triumph of Christian Science is that it does just that. It is satisfactory to learn that God does not countenance evil nor include it among his very good works, and therefore that evil is unreal.

"However, evil is accounted for logically in accordance with the law of supposed opposites. One of the synonyms of Diety, you will recall, is Truth. God being infinite truth, there is evidently nothing beyond truth's infinitely good and true manifestation. To bring evil into the equation it becomes necessary to recognize its opposite of infinite good, but remember that this supposition, this opposite of truth, must be a lie, and hence unreal. Now a lie's deception is possible only so long as it appears to be true. It must masquerade as truth, or counterfeit truth, in order to gain credence. Christian Science has uncovered the 'mystery of iniquity.' The mystery of evil is just like any other mystery—ignorance of truth. The whole problem of evil is one of ignorance, or absence of understanding. All the trouble in the world is due to misunderstanding, to false estimates of God, man and the universe. In Christian Science men are learning neither to ignore evil, nor to be ignorant of its pretense, but are addressing themselves to the task of recognized evil as a lie, eliminating its lie from consciousness and replacing it with good. Evil is thus losing its claim upon thought, as the spiritual understanding of God and man is attained.

"But you say, Christian Science has not done away with evil. It's still here, in spite of the uncovering of its nothingness.' My friends, Christian Scientists already have made wonderful progress. We have learned much about the unreality of evil and to that degree have disposed of its claims. It is true that, although Christian Science shows man to be the image of God, perfect and spiritual now, man still seems to the physical senses to be mortal and imperfect. Some forms of evil, when unmasked, may continue as appearance, just as the sun continues to appear to rise in the east, even after one discovers that it really stands still and the earth revolves on its axis, but the illusion no longer deceives. In like manner, mortality unmasked, is shorn of its seeming power and reality.

"Evil may seem to have its day, but because it is perishable, its destruction is inevitable. Because it is a lie about something true, it must go out, and Truth must be its destroyer. Remember that truth never destroys anything true; its destructive action is exerted always upon that which is unreal. For every lie, there is a true statement which will destroy it. Every time a Christian Scientist applies the truth to a lie, he destroys that much of error, ignorance, and advances by that much the day of perfect spiritual understanding when 'they shall all know me,' (Good) 'from the least of them unto the greatest of them.'

SALVATION AND CHRIST JESUS

"In cleaning out the rubbish of untrue theories and starting again the old waste places, Christian Science is a true constructive force. It repeats the restorative ministry of Christ Jesus, whose mission, an apostle said, was to 'destroy the works of the devil,' evil, and who 'went about doing good.' He who named Saviour gave a new meaning to salvation. He who came to 'save His people from their sins' applied the restorative power of the Christ, Truth, to every sort of evil; thus he healed disease and sin by the same process. As in Jesus' time, popular theology today views salvation chiefly as a preparation for the hereafter. But Jesus said, 'I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.' Christian Science has restored to humanity the saving grace of Christian healing, proving that Christianity is a religion not to die by, but to live by.

"Where, in the scheme of salvation, does Christian Science place Christ Jesus? In the words of Peter, 'There is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.' Jesus was the name of the one individual in the world's history who has attained the perfect state of spiritual apprehension. By his understanding of God, Jesus proved that man is perfect, spiritual, indestructible. He overcame every law of matter, sin, disease and death, thus proving their nothingness. He took every human footstep in 'the passage from sense to Soul' (Science and Health, page 566), and left the path so plain that 'the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein.' What he proved was for all mankind, for he himself said, 'I am the way.'

"By this it will be understood that Jesus was not God, but was, as he himself affirmed, the son of God. In Science and Health (page 482), we read: 'Jesus was the highest human concept of the perfect man.' Jesus' unselfishness, purity and spirituality so endowed him with godliness that he was worthy to bear the title Messiah or Christ. Again (Science and Health, page 583), Mrs. Eddy has defined Christ as 'The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error.' With Jesus the Christ was so preponderant that when the human cried out 'Let this cup pass,' Jesus was able to say 'not my will but thine be done.' Let the mortal disappear and the divine appear as the representative of divinity. It was this Christ that caused Jesus to say 'If I' (the fleshly concept) 'go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you'—the restorative Truth will not become operative in your consciousness; in other words, you will continue to cling to my human personality and will fail to grasp the divine Principle which governs it.

"Christian Science teaches personal salvation through all Christ Jesus lived to do; that each individual is to work out his own salvation from all error by the example Jesus furnished in his demonstration of the Christ. Christian Science accepts the essentials of Christianity as found in the Scriptural record of the life and teaching of Christ Jesus, but restores and emphasizes the spiritual import and observance of the doctrine he taught and ordinances he established. Above all, Christian Science teaches that the essentials of Christianity involve individual practice more than profession.

PRAYER

"The modus operandi by which Christian Science fulfills its restorative ministry is prayer. By prayer the sickness is healed, sin is destroyed and harmony restored. By prayer ignorance is replaced with understanding. By prayer we draw near to God and enter into the heritage of his son. Prayer is that process by which false beliefs are destroyed and right concepts restored. To know the Truth is true prayer. Therefore the Christian Scientist when he prays, does not ask God for any material thing. He does not appeal to mind what is already existent and bestowed. He asks only for guidance, for wisdom, for true knowledge. So Soloman prayed for an understanding heart. So Hagar athirst in the desert, fearing for the life of her child, prayed the prayer which opened her blind eyes and revealed the well of water at hand. Such prayer has never failed, for it is the prayer of spiritual sense, that 'conscious, constant, capacity to understand God,' and the spiritual, real man.

"Christ Jesus, in teaching how to pray, said 'Whatsoever things ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.' Such prayer then is comprised in asking and receiving. It is both desire and realization—desire to know the will of God, desire to express that will in daily life, desire to overcome all that is contrary to good; realization of the unreality of error and the presence of God and his manifestation. Prayer in Christian Science includes the answer, and if this were not so, the loving Father would stand convicted of capriciousness and favoritism. The riches of His kingdom are available to all who claim their divine heritage.

"A little girl I know furnished an adequate illustration of the restorative prayer of Christian Science when she freed herself from the bondage of sickness thus:

"If God did not make it, how could I be it?' Very little process entered into her argument against the false sense that seemed to bind her, but she rejected the erroneous concept and realized the allness of good. She sought refuge directly in the Truth of being and knew that she and God are inseparable. She did not wonder what she had done to bring on the sickness, and did not offer the false defense that she was still mortal, she did not think of herself as in the flesh, she wasted no time in self-justification, self-pity nor self-condemnation. Her thought turned naturally to God, divine Love, her only source of relief, naturally as the flower turns to the sun, and she was free! Do you wonder that Jesus declared the kingdom of God open only to the childlike thought?

"The highest object of prayer and its ultimate answer is the attainment of the consciousness of man's inseparableness from his Maker—God. Ceaseless prayer is the demand of Scripture, and this is possible only as constant right desire and effort to be in His image and likeness, to be present with God. Of this supreme concept of answered prayer, Mrs. Eddy has written:

"'Oh Thou has heard my prayer;
And I am blest!
This is thy behest:—
Thou here—and everywhere.'

(Misc. Writings, page 383.)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE VS. SUGGESTIVE THERAPEUTICS

"It is now, perhaps, universally conceded that Christian Science restores the sick. There are those, however, who repeat the ancient mistake of attributing the miracles of Christian healing to the action of the human mind, through what these critics term mental suggestion. In Jesus' day the unbelievers said: 'This fellow doth not cast out devils but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils,' but Jesus disclaimed the human mind to be a factor in his work and insisted that his was the 'finger of God' method. Christ Jesus fully proved that the divine Mind alone was the healing power in his practice. He said 'I can of mine own self do nothing.' 'The Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.' The Beelzebub method is illustrated today in the prevalent material methods of treating the sick and in the so-called mental sciences. One and all such systems rely upon the supposed action of the human mind. Although in materia medica the medium of matter is employed, nevertheless ordinary medical practice is little else than the practice of mental suggestion. Indeed the trend of modern medical thought is toward a frank admission of the suggestive character of material medicine. Belief in the method, as well as belief in the physician plainly is requisite for successful medical practice. I have given, experimentally, a hypodermatic injection of pure water to a patient wild with pain, and have watched him go quietly to sleep. The operation would have been no less an instance of suggestive therapeutics had I injected the actual drug endowed through general belief with pain relieving power. Medicine is constituted in mental consent—it is whatever mortal mind believes it to be. Anciently human belief bestowed upon material objects superiatural power. A relic of such 'medicine' is found in the modern practice of wearing amulets. Many people believe that a buckeye carried in the pocket has power to prevent rheumatism. It is not unusual to see a child with a piece of red flannel about its neck. That, many will tell you, is good for sore throat. Indeed there seems no limit to human credulity. It is perhaps within the facts to state that there is nothing 'in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, or in the waters under the earth' but has been used as medicine. That which in the kitchen is food, becomes a medicine in the shop of the apothecary. True, mortal mind has usually abandoned its remedies about as fast as it has adopted them, but throughout the history of material medicine it has sought to find power in matter instead of in the divine Mind. It is a far journey, in point of time, from liquor of earth worms, once highly reputed in materia medica, to modern serum of horses' blood, but the same mental consent has been required to furnish each generation with its ever changing pharmacopeia.

"Mental suggestion and Christian Science are antitheses. The one is the supposed action of the human mind, which, being enmity against God, works only evil continually. The other is the power of God, divine Mind, and is wholly good. Christian Science has come to reassure mankind that all mental suggestions are mesmeric, wholly false and can have no more power than is bestowed upon them in belief.

"Christian Science teaches how to free one's self, and others, from the belief of any influence other than the power of the one Mind—God; how to separate mental suggestions from the laws of divine Principle; how to eradicate false mental pictures from consciousness and to prevent them forming there; how to overcome fear; how to be unresponsive to sin. 'But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.' Herein is the Christian method of healing found supreme—it not only heals the sick but reforms the sinner. Those healed of sickness in Christian Science invariably will testify to spiritual regeneration. If Christian Science did no more than eliminate the sinfulness of dissipation, in all its forms, it is proved the greatest restorative force the world has ever known. In Christian Science physical and social hygiene, sanitation, prophylaxis and therapeutics begin at their logical beginning in Mind, so that Christian Scientists are learning to think clearly, normally, correctly, and thus to live clean, wholesome and normal lives. A sound mind produces and maintains a sound body as surely as effect follows cause.

A PRACTICAL IDEALISM

"If Christian Science were to project merely a metaphysical system of theorizing about God and man, it would be the most impractical religion ever offered to a sin-burdened and disease-tortured race. But the idealism of Christian Science has a practical application to human interests. Because God is the infinite Principle, He is the source of all law. If, therefore, human affairs are to be ordered out of chaos, man must be governed by the law of God. This law is spiritual and its operation in human consciousness is to spirit ualize thought. To the degree of his spirituality, therefore, is a man redeemed from the discords of matter. When a man learns something of the truth about God and about himself, when he begins to understand that as the offspring of God is the expression of Spirit and possesses only the divine, spiritual attributes, he begins to see the unreality of the false belief that he is subject to the so-called laws of matter. He begins to see that discord is no proper part of his experience, and that by realizing the facts of spiritual being he can overcome all in his experience that is unlike God.

"Thus he begins to take up the work of eliminating from thought the unspiritual qualities and of replacing them with the spiritual. He learns to reject as spurious thoughts that involve sin, disease, inharmony and limitation, because all such thoughts are not spiritual, and to realize his divine heritage, dominion over all.

"As this restoration of spiritual concepts goes on in the individual, the man is changed. He learns that man is well because God is whole and man is his expression. He, therefore, no longer accepts the domination of fear, false laws of health, hygiene, sanitation, but holds himself superior to these so-called laws of matter on the ground that God made man subject only to the laws of Spirit. Since the human mind and body are one, the body improves as the thought is improved, and health becomes normal and established.

"In like manner such an individual finds his thought about sin undergoing a radical change. He finds that sin is of the carnal mind alone, and that as he comes into possession of the Mind of Christ, the fear of sin, the love of sin, and the ignorance of sin are destroyed. Thus sin and its effects disappear and righteousness is restored.

"The Christian Scientist finds also his concepts of business improve. He begins to see that all real business is the activity of right thinking and belongs to the divine Mind. God is therefore the only employer, or proprietor, and business is wholly good, thus the fears, doubts, discords, limitations and failures present or possible in the old way of thinking are displaced by right concepts and business is restored.

"Thus Christian Science touches with its restorative ministry every human activity, raising consciousness to a higher basis of the Christ-ideal, turning thought into new and brighter paths, paths of health, paths of holiness, paths of loving service.

TRIUMPH OF GOOD OVER EVIL

"The story of religion is the history of the world. To the student and thinker today is momentous with history in the making, with prophesy fulfilled. The restoration in human consciousness of the spiritual ideal has stirred to their depths the forces of evil which are ever at war with good. War is evil's self-destruction, and because it is so, now infinitely better is this just war than a false convenient peace! (Miscellany page 211.)

"At this crisis in the triumphant march of Principle against the hosts of evil, where do Christian Scientists stand? At home and at the front shoulder to shoulder with their fellow citizens and their allies, in support of a righteous cause. The ideals of Christian Science are the ideals of Anglo-American. Expressed in the words of Mrs. Eddy, they are; 'Never to take away the rights, but only the wrongs of mankind.' (No and Yes, page 40). These are the ideals which enabled Mrs. Eddy to see, beyond the shell-torn battlefields, the coming of the Prince of Peace. With true vision she saw the children of Principle, reunited, supreme over all, and the freedom of the world realized. In 1898 she wrote, in a poem, 'The United States to Great Britain,' these prophetic words:

"'For Anglo-Israel, lo!
Is marching under orders;
His hand averts the blow.
Brave Britain, blest America!
Unite your battle-plan;
Victorious, all who live it,
The love for God and man.'

CONCLUSION

"How shall we epitomize the restorative ministry of Christian Science? As Mrs. Eddy wrote of Christ Jesus, so may it be said of Christian Science, its 'sublime summary points to the religion of Love.' (Science and Health, page 138).

"Little more than fifty years ago there was but one Christian Scientist in all the world, Mary Baker Eddy. Today, through her loving ministry, the restorative Truth plentifully is reaching humanity. Because of her love for God and man, she organized the Church of Christ, Scientist, 'designed to commemorate the words and works of our Master, which should reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing.' (Church Manual, page 17). Because of her love for God and man she established the Christian Science reading rooms, where the storm-tossed and distressed find refuge and comfort. Because of her love for God and man she founded the Christian Science periodicals which, daily, weekly and monthly send out the message of Truth's restorative mission. Through all its activities the Christian Science church is demonstrating the practical character of its organization, is unselfishly and selfishly to the redemption of humanity through the regenerating power of Christ, Truth, operating in human consciousness.

"Christian Scientists desire nothing so much as that the power of God unto salvation, so richly enjoyed by them, because to them understood, shall be made available to their fellowmen. That is why all over the earth men and women are devoting their lives to Christian Science, to the restorative ministry of healing the sick and saving the sinner.

"Oh, he whom Jesus loved has truly spoken,
That holier worship, which God deigns to bless,
Restores the lost, and heals the spirit broken,
And feeds the widow and the fatherless.
Then brother man, fold to thy heart thy brother!
For where love dwells, the peace of God is there;
To worship rightly is to love each other;
Each smile a hymn, each kindly deed a prayer.
Follow with rev'rent steps, the great example
Of him whose holy work was doing good;
So shall the wide earth seem one Father's temple,
Each loving life a psalm of gratitude."

(Christian Science Hymnal, pg. 172.)"

Kansas City Leader Heard In Discussion of Work; Tells of Own Experience

EXPRESS SERVICE TO AID U. S. AIMS

Vice President D. S. Elliott, in charge of traffic for the American Railway Express Company, has informed all operating officials and agents of the express organization throughout the United States, that it is the purpose of the company to uphold in every way the request of the Council of Defense that Christmas express shipments be started on their way by December 5th.

A concerted effort will be made in every city and town of the country by the 125,000 express employees, to emphasize the importance of preventing any possible congestion of transportation facilities during these critical times. Although the express facilities are very elastic, so much of the equipment is now used for strictly war purposes, that all gift shipments for long distance travel should be delivered to the express company not later than December 5th, and for short hauls not later than December 10th. This will allow ample time for sorting and delivering before Christmas Day.

"We wish to emphasize strongly," said Mr. Elliott, "the point raised by the Council of National Defense, that nothing should be forwarded, which will interfere with essential war business. Just now the movement of equipment and supplies for the overseas forces is heavy and exacting, and there should be no domestic burden placed upon transportation, which would tend to lessen the delivery of war shipments.

"Also during the winter months there is a tremendous movement of foodstuffs to all of the larger cities. These foodstuffs are perishable and next to warshipments must be given first consideration.

"We are asking our men everywhere to bring these points before our patrons, and to emphasize more strongly than ever the vital importance of proper packing and legible marking. We are asking them to refuse all shipments which are not packed strongly enough to reach their destination with ordinary handling, and to insist that the address of the sender and of the consignee be placed on a card and enclosed inside the package."

CITY TO WELCOME FAMED ORCHESTRA

When the French national orchestra comes to Oakland on December 5 to play at the Ye Liberty Theater the famous organization from the land of the tri-color and Joan of Arc legends may be the motif for the biggest and most spontaneous patriotic celebration yet staged here with the exception of Liberty Day on November 11.

With the way paved by Mayor Davie, who Saturday issued a proclamation calling upo nthe public to extend a welcome to the galaxy of famous musicians, plans are now under way for a public demonstration which will cause the French players to carry back with them to France an indelible impression of the warmness and fervidness of Oakland's friendship toward the poilus and the part they played in the great world war.

Tickets for the concert to be given by the famous orchestra on December 5 were placed on sale this morning at the Ye Liberty Theater and at the Sherman, Clay & Co.'s store. Many reservations are coming in fgom San Francisco, where the orchestra is to play at the Civic Auditorium on December 4, and where practically the entire seating capacity already has been sold out weeks in advance.

Plans already have been completed for a monster public reception and luncheon which is to be tendered Andre Messager and his 86 noted players and the public demonstration which is now being arranged will insure that the French players will have little if any leisure time during the several hours that they are in Oakland.

FALLS FROM SWING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Johanah Theresa Shay, 6 years old, died yesterday from a fractured skull sustained when she fell from a swing in the basement of her home, 829 Howard street, Saturday afternoon. Aside from a slight headache, the child suffered no pain after the fall, and was apparently all right when she arose yesterday morning. Later in the day she slipped into a coma and died before medical attention could revive her.

"Little Teacher" Opens School At Fulton

People who remember "Mother Carey's Chickens" with its lovable kids, its homely fun and sweet sunshine, are sure to compare "The Little Teacher" with "Mother Carey's Chickens," for the teacher play which opened at the Fulton theater yesterday, has all these delightful elements that made the chicken's play such a hit at the Macdonough a few months ago.

There are a dozen tiny tots in the schoolroom scenes in "The Little Teacher," that are going to make the heart of every woman who goes to the Fulton this week thrill a little and palpitate some more, and feel warm all over, for these tots are wonders.

They range from the sweet little kiddie of seven, the daughter of the village drunkard, to the "fresh" monitor, a queer girl who dreams of the people who are in love with her. In between these two types comes Master Lucius, a colored tad who is a scream, and along with the colored youth there are a bunch of other school children who make up the teacher's pets.

It is a wonderfully realistic scene in which they appear with "The Little Teacher," not alone the women, but the men will be taken back to the days when teacher was a demigod, and it was a privilege to rub off the blackboards for her, and bring her a bunch of flowers, or a big red apple when school opened.

Rhea Mitchell is the little teacher. They could hardly have found a better play in which to have the new leading lady of the Fulton players make her debut. This is the play that Maude Fealy scored such a hit with at the Columbia theater in San Francisco last September. If Maude Fealy was as cute and lovable and sweet and sympathetic as little Rhea Mitchell, then she was very sweet indeed, for Miss Mitchell is about the limit in girlish charm.

Paul Harvey seemed to fit into the role of Pug as though it were made to order for him. Pug is a big, husky backwoodsman; one of those boys with the bark on, but with a heart of gold. You know what I mean.

The newcomers in the cast include Jerome Sheldon, who is likely to become a favorite with his buoyant ways and skill as a stage artist; Marie Van Tassel, an unusually clever character actress; Emma Melville, who appears in A Mrs. Tarberry part; Edith Searles, who was the village spinster to the life; little Eugenia Clinchard in a lovable role; Helen Audiffred as the school monitor; Connie Fredericks, who is destined to be a remarkable actor, if his present success is criterion; little Marian Levy, age six, smart enough to be 60; Charles Barton, who has been in demand in many big San Francisco and eastern productions; and a number of others. Hugh Knox announced between the acts that Wednesday night would be teachers' night.—R. S.

LIVELY BILL IS PANTAGES PROGRAM.

The vaudeville bill opening at the Pantages Sunday afternoon proved a satisfying one. There is a world of entertaining material, a wide variety and consequently appealing to almost every taste. It is headed by a bright musical comedietta in condensed form called "Olives" that has for motive power a pair of nimble comedians and a lively comedienne in the persons of Frank Sinclair, Cliff Dixon and Myrtle Lawlor. The monologist appears in the person of Britt Wood and Britt calls to his aid his trusty harmonica and banjo and as an extra, shows he is quite an agile dancer. A pair of good looking girls, the Follis Sisters, and a likable young chap, Nat LeRoy, contribute a budget of songs and dances that make the audience glad they came.

AMERICAN PROGRAM FEATURES TOM MIX.

A big double program is presented at the American, which will continue until tomorrow, including Tom Mix, the darling cowboy actor, in "Fame and Fortune," and Mae Marsh in a romantic drama, "Hidden Fires."

"Fame and Fortune" is just about the swiftest moving and most thrilling Western drama ever filmed, and the amazing stunts performed by the human whirlwind, Tom Mix, demonstrates the fact that he does not hesitate to risk life and limb to put thrills anr realism in his pictures.

The other feature picture on the program, "Hidden Fires," in which Mae Marsh is starred, is an intensely interesting play in which the clever emotional actress assumes, for the first time in her career, a dual role.

SPECIAL MUSIC IS FEATURE OF T. & D.

Song, music and two big feature photoplays vie for a monopoly of the applause that is going out to T. & D. theater attractions today and tomorrow. The songs are provided by "Some Trio" which made its debut at the T. & D. theater yesterday in the persons of Walsh, Hume and Thomas, who captivated audiences with their harmonious rendition of the songs, "Tell It To the Marines," "A Rose in No Man's Land" and "When You Come Back." The trio established themselves in instant favor with T. & D. audiences and will be retained by the management for an indefinite period.

To cap the climax of music offerings, John Wharry Lewis' orchestra is playing "Songs of Yesteryear," in which audiences are asked to find their voices and do so with a vim that is reverberating in the rafters of the Eleventh street house.

MARY PICKFORD IN KINEMA OFFERING.

Kinema audiences were given yesterday the unique spectacle of Mary Pickford as the ugly duckling—a new role for Mary—who promptly turns the tables and becomes a swan.

The transformation is accomplished by way of the beauty parlor method in a series of delicious comedy scenes called "Johanna Enlists," and there are both tears and laughter in the story of the little plain country girl who longs to be beautiful and win a beau—and gets more of them than she expected.

A military atmosphere is supplied by the 143d artillery boys, who make love to Mary, headed by Colonel Ralph Farnum, ex-superintendent of mails, and Captain Petersen, ex-chief of police.

BIG SHOW PROVES MACDONOUGH MAGNET.

Three big appreciative audiences greeted the opening yesterday of the big three-in-one show at the Macdonough, the first combination of the kind ever offered to Oakland theatergoers. Every member of Roy Clair's big musical company of twenty-five made a real hit when the Sunday crowds and, true to the title, "Something Doing" was lively from start to finish.

Never were so many laughs crowded into so short a space of time as when Pearl Jardiniere, eccentric character comedienne, clashed before the footlights with Clair, the man of many wives. Fritz Fields, in mimic an old farmer, furnished many another round of laughter.

"LET'S GO" PROVES HIT AT COLUMBIA.

"Let's Go," the title of the musical comedy at the Columbia theater, seemed to strike a popular note, for the popular show shop was filled to overflowing on Saturday night, the opening night, and the crowds continued throughout the day on Sunday, when Solly Carter convulsed his audience with laughter at his strange antics in the principal comedy role.

Lauro Vail, an old favorite, received a royal reception, as did Francis Young and Ira Robbson. Phoebe Hall, who made her debut as soubrette, won immediate approval.

SPECIAL BILL SHOWN AT THE BROADWAY.

Coming at a time when American military forces are in actual possession of German cities and are crossing the Rhine, "Berlin via America" will be found patriotically thrilling at the Broadway theater where it was shown for the first time yesterday and which will be brought to a close today and tonight. Edna Emerson has the role of a heroine who braves the dangers of the first line trenches in order to aid an American aviator who has volunteered to join the German air forces as a spy.

Spectacular Drama; Laughs At Orpheum

Capacity attendance greeted the second new show at the Orpheum last night, and the night was filled with music and laughter and applause. The applause was merited and the laughter couldn't be avoided. Some of the show is the funniest ever. Some of it is just ordinary, but mostly it is a bill of sparkling brilliancy.

Frisco created the greatest enthusiasm with his xylophone. It is altogether unusual for a performer on one of these instruments to make so much fuss. But Frisco makes music on it. And he creates enthusiasm. He plays four-part harmony with only two hands and does hits from classics as well as ragtime. When he finished his regular allotment the audience demanded that he keep on, and they howled themselves husky-voiced trying to have him hear what they wanted him to play. He puts more pep into his performance than an ordinary jazz orchestra.

Walter Brower has the funniest story that a monologist ever told to an Orpheum audience. He told it to an accompaniment of continuous laughter, and like Friscoe, the audience demanded the second installment when he had finished the first.

Two charming southern girls, the Misses Campbell, sing southern songs in southern dialect in most delightful fashion. And they sing other kinds of songs beside, of their own composing, some of the wittiest lyrics recently heard. Both the girls are artists at either song or accompaniment, and their act is one of the niftiest and most pleasing.

FRENCH NOVELTY.

Dominique Amoros comes from France, as does Jeannette, his partner, to do one of those peculiarly foreign acts that entertain by reason of their distinct novelty. The act is not capable of description. It begins with the appearance of Jeannette, like a section of rainbow, in a dashing song, and ends with Dominique imitating a bagpiper, with a chair over his shoulder to represent the pipes. He gets away with everything he starts.

An act that begins like an afternoon tea and ends with some of the strongest stuff imaginable, is that of Prosper and Maret, college athletes. The finish is a tremendously long blindfold leap from the top of a pedestal lamp into the hands of the floor man, also blindfolded. This thing without the blinds is thrilling enough, but when they do it blindfolded it raises the house. Their work all the way through is of the cleverest.

James C. Morton, the comedian, goes through a rough and tumble act that peppers you up to listen to. It is a whirlwind thing all the way and a cyclone at the end. You don't have to pay close attention to get it.

An eccentric novelty is offered by the Australian Creightons, who toy with clubs and things in the manner of experts. The way they walk up and down each other while throwing the clubs around is to be marveled at.

"All for Democracy" is a spectacular appearance at one time on one stage of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson, Robert E. Lee, U. S. Grant, Lafayette, Joan of Arc and General John J. Pershing. Can you imagine it? You can't.—J. D.

ELSIE FERGUSON IN FRANKLIN OFFERING.

Out from the Eastern centers of society and grand opera, limousines and Worth gowns, comes Elsie Ferguson on horse back, tearing through a lively "Western" with all the vim and pep of any California-bred girl, and riding a bucking horse with all the nerve of a Texan.

"The Heart of the Wilds" is a new departure in roles for Miss Ferguson, and no one can question but that she is as great an actress in the saddle among the rocks and pines of Yellowstone Park as she was in enchanting gowns of the English ballrooms of her former pictures.

THIN PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

What It Is and How It Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

"Take plain bitro-phosphate" is the advice of physicians to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, if we judge from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by The Owl Drug Co. and all good druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Clinical tests made in St. Catherine's Hospital, N. Y. C., showed that two

Miss Josephine Davis, reporting her own experience with BITRO PHOSPHATE, says: "It is remarkable what it did for me. After a few days I began to regain my strength, felt full of life, was able to sleep soundly and all my little troubles seemed to disappear. I gained twelve pounds in four weeks."

patients gained in weight 23 and 27 pounds, respectively, through the administration of this organic phosphate; both patients claim they have not felt as strong and well for the past twelve years.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Physicians and hospitals everywhere are now recognizing its merits by its use in ever increasing quantities. Frederick Kolle, M. D., editor of New York Physician's "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Jos. D. Harrigan, Former Visiting Specialist to North Eastern Dispensatory, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anaemic, or run-down, take a natural, unadulterated substance such as bitro-phosphate and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve energy, strength of body and mind and power of endurance."

Bitro-Phosphate is made entirely of the organic phosphate compound referred to in the National Standard Dispensatory as being an excellent tonic and nervine and a preparation which has recently acquired considerable reputation in the treatment of neurasthenia. The standard of excellence, strength and purity of its substance is beyond question, for every Bitro-Phosphate tablet is manufactured in strict accordance with the U. S. Pharmacopoeia test requirements. Bitro-Phosphate is therefore not a patent medicine and should not be confused with any of the secret nostrums, so-called tonics or widely advertised "cure-alls."

CAUTION—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, it should not be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Dr. Edward Parrish, a New York physician, advises people who have a pain in the stomach, caused by indigestion, gastritis or acidity, to quit dosing with secret mixtures and take a teaspoonful of ordinary serathol in a glass of water. READY FOR THE TEST.

Information from Washington is to the effect that the federal railway administration is shortly to launch a policy of permanent improvement of the roads and of the character of service rendered. A rule is to be promulgated requiring employees and executives to watch public criticism of the service and to introduce conveniences where they may economically be put into effect. On the improvement of property alone it is said about $800,000,000 will be spent during the next calendar year.

This program will give encouragement to the advocates of government ownership and operation of the railroads. Inasmuch as government operation may be continued under the existing law for twenty-one months after peace is proclaimed the government will have a chance to show what it can do with the railroad problem. It probably will be six months before peace is formally proclaimed and in the meantime much may be done toward preparation for the twenty-one-month test. Then the disappearance of the heavy war traffic that has taxed the roads during the last year and a half will be followed by a return to normal conditions. Thus government operation will get a fair test, with the advantage of much extra equipment that has been furnished or contracted for under the war program.

That there will be close watching and much criticism of the railway administration until the question of government ownership is definitely disposed of is certain. Of the many springs from which this spirit of surveillance will flow are the various State railway commissions. Federal ownership and operation will deprive the commissions of much of their importance, if it does not render existence of some of them useless. There are also the officials of the State government who view with alarm the prospect that once government control is permanent a very large source of revenue will be lost; this feeling will be reflected in the taxpayers who know how loss in revenue must be made up.

In addition there is a large portion of the people who fear for the efficient operation of the roads under government operation and for a general increase in rates. Then there are the owners of the railroad properties to take into consideration.

It may not be far afield to say that the majority of those who are opposed to outright government ownership of the railroads believe that the alternative should be private ownership and operation with government supervision of several phases of the business, including finances. The combined strength of this element and the advocates of federal ownership would seem to indicate that the American railroad system will never return to the before-the-war status.

HOPE FOR RUSSIA.

Despite the pessimistic reports continually coming out of Russia there are two circumstances upon which the hope may be based that the end of the reign of anarchy in that country is not far off. First of these is determination of the Ally governments not to make peace with any government pretenders flying the red flag. The second is that all the provinces of Russia free of the Bolsheviki are united behind the All-Russian government at Omsk. When the Bolsheviki were driven out of Siberia by the Czecho-Slovaks and the Allies several separate governments were set up, each opposed to the Lenine-Trotsky regime. But when the Cossack Hetman of the Amur province fell in line a few days ago all these provisional powers had recognized the Omsk authority.

The Omsk government is pledged to the restoration of the constituent assembly and the uniting of Russia under one national authority. While making progress across the Ural mountains toward Moscow, it is being aided by the Allies in the region north of Petrograd, along the Black Sea coast and in Poland. Cut off as they are from their German backers it does not seem possible that the Bolsheviki can hold out much longer, or even long maintain a reign of disorganized terrorism.

Force, tact and patience will be required to make Russia fit for the league of nations, however, and she should not be abandoned by the Allies. The government at Washington, which has been a factor of delay in the Ally program in Russia, must now realize that the one thing to do is to restore order as quickly as possible, assist patriotic Russians to establish a stable government and then organize for the relief of the Russian people, ninety-five percent of whom have never known what the war was about.

THE BUREAUCRACY GROWS.

In lieu of any logical explanation of the reasons for the federal government taking over the operation of the cable companies, Postmsater General Burleson, the director-general of the land telegraph and telephone companies, has ordered an increase in telephone rates throughout the country. The earnings of telephone and telegraph lines during the period of federal control are less than they were for the corresponding period last year. As usual the public must pay.

The arbitrary manner in which Mr. Burleson orders the increase in tolls is extremely disconcerting. No reasons are given. No investigation of the properties with a view to bringing about economies or eliminating improper charges against operating expenses is attempted. No review of the proposed rates by a competent authority before they are made effective is possible. The word of a cabinet official at Washington as to what 100,000,000 people shall pay for telephone or telegraph services stands without the possibility of challenge.

In many sections of the country it is difficult to believe that an increase in rates is justified. Where State commission had conducted recent investigations of telephone administration and had made a survey of the physical property on which rates were based the rates prevailing when the government took over operation must be presumed to be reasonable and just. This is at least the case until another survey should find the prevailing rates too low.

The public has endured other hardships since private control of the telephone facilities was surrendered—inferior service, changes in the rules covering installation charges and increase of those charges in some sections. Now there is to be higher rates.

NOTES and COMMENT

As to Mr. Ford's incursion in the journalistic field, it is only fair to give him a show before passing judgment. There may be newspaper men who could make automobiles. Nothing is impossible.

In contemplating Secretary McAdoo's resignation because of inadequateness of salary it is very likely to be remembered that a number of gentlemen have been helping the government out upon salaries of $1 a year.

"Where do we go from here?" must have a different meaning to the one-time kaiser than to the person who hears it jocosely sung in the vaudeville ditty.

Crisis in Argentine. If it shall turn out to be an aftermath of Argentine's deviousness during the war it will have elements of righteousness that countries which heroically met the trouble will be entitled to take note of.

The overseas cap and Sam Browne belt are banned by special and particular order of the War Department to soldiers returning from overseas duty. Civilians may wonder why. They may also inquire in considerable numbers what is the overseas cap and the Sam Browne belt.

In demanding the return of the kaiser the Paris newspapers are at least not falling in with any scheme to restore him to the throne. The French want him to return for other purposes, without doubt.

Illustrating the absolute distrust of the Hun, it is stated in a despatch that the question is raised in England whether he has actually abdicated. Such action is nowhere down in black and white, it is claimed, and the kaiser may be simply lying low, waiting for a psychological moment to come back. It doesn't seem reasonable, but we have to remember that anything is possible with the Hun.

One of the "leaders of Southern California" predicts "bitter fights" in the legislature in the effort to slough off some of the state commissions. Why bitter fights? There is nothing so generally desired as the elimination of such of these costly bodies that can be cast off.

"Dutch admit Wilhelm as a plain citizen." There was a time when the word "plain" as applied in any way to the kaiser would have been regarded as lese majeste and incurred pains and penalties.

There is a great stir in pigs. Advertisements tell you of the money in them, and realistic reminders are afforded in show windows in young porkers performing in the usual unconcerned way in the unusual environment. Which almost justifies the hope that ultimately the price of bacon will recede to the figure which will enable it to be brought home.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Thomas Conlin, highly respected pioneer resident of Davis, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his home last week. He was a cripple and confined to his bed. He suffocated before rescuers reached him. His wife endeavored to rush into the flames for her husband, but was prevented by her friends.—Solano Courier.

It is an established fact that the Salvation Army puts the dough in doughnuts and later puts the doughnuts in the doughboy. But the old, old question still arises: Who first put the hole in the doughnut, and why should we pay good dough for the dough that didn't get into the hole in the doughnut? This question is respectfully referred to Duncan MacKinnon, local food administrator.—San Diego Union.

Let Cape Cod and the rest of the cranberry districts "back east" note this new declaration of independence. They got us all worked up over a reported shortage of cranberries. But now hail, hail, what do we care! Oregon and Washington have broken all previous records and will this year send to the market the enormous total of 15,000 barrels of the holiday fruit.—Stockton Record.

In California the State Hog Raisers' Association has started a movement for getting every man who raises hogs to raise two more this year than he had originally intended. So many men already have signed the agreement that California will fairly bristle with pigs if all goes well.—Woodland Mail.

Slight damage was done to the timbering in the New Idria mine by the recent fire. It was quickly put out by the company's employees and no one was hurt. A contingent from the bureau of mines of the department of the interior is at the mines giving instructions in mine rescue work, the use of the gas masks and first aid to the injured.—Hollister Free Lance.

Automobile stealing seems to be steadily increasing in this state. In Los Angeles this form of crime has become so general that the man who finds his machine where he left it is considered fortunate. In Oakland and San Francisco during the peace celebration over twenty machines were stolen. Some of these thefts are by joy-riders who take a machine for a day and night and then abandon it. There should be more stern, retributive justice and less misplaced mercy for such offenders.—Modesto News.

Idaho: Fair, continued cold.

Oregon: Fair, colder tonight; gentle northeasterly winds.

Conditions.

The storm is central in Arizona and caused scattered light rain yesterday in California and light rain or snow yesterday and last night in other sections of the Pacific Slope. Rain or snow has also fallen in New Mexico, Utah, Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. In other sections of the country the weather is generally fair. An area of high pressure overlies the northern portion of the Pacific slope, giving colder weather west of the Rockies. Temperatures below zero are reported in Wyoming and below freezing over the greater portion of the country.

Conditions are favorable for fair weather in this district with severe frosts in Northern California.

"OUR GOD IS MARCHING ON."

Those of us who have lived through the last four years have the satisfaction of knowing that we have seen the mightiest and most stirring four years of all the world's history and are watching, from day to day, the unfolding of its most stupendous drama. Never has there been such a crashing of empires, such a falling of thrones, such righting of wrongs and deliverance of the oppressed, such vivid demonstration of the wickedness, the folly and the weakness, the nobility, the wisdom and the courage of which human nature is capable. — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

THE ANSWER HAS COME.

THE FALL OF A DESPOT.

'Tis done—but yesterday a King!
And arm'd with Kings to strive—
And now thou art a nameless thing:
So abject—yet alive!
Is this the man of thousand thrones,
Who strew'd our earth with hostile bones,
And can he thus survive?
Since he miscalled the Morning Star,
Nor man nor fiend hath fallen so far.

Ill-minded man, why scourge thy kind
Who bow'd so low the knee?
By gazing on thyself grown blind,
Thou taught'st the rest to see.
With might unquestion'd—power to save—
Thine only gift hath been the grave,
To those that worshipp'd thee;
Nor till thy fall could mortals guess
Ambition's less than littleness!

Thanks for that lesson—it will teach
To after-warriors more
Than high Philosophy can preach,
And vainly preach'd before.
That spell upon the minds of men
Breaks never to unite again,
That led them to adore
Those Pagod things of sabre sway,
With fronts of brass and feet of clay.

The triumph, and the vanity,
The rapture of the strife—
The earthquake voice of Victory,
To thee the breath of life;
The sword, the scepter, and that sway
Which man seem'd made but to obey,
Wherewith renown was rife—
All quell'd!—Dark Spirit! What must be
The madness of thy memory!

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Will a Mental Picture of Black Help Relieve Pain.

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

Memory is a wonderful thing. You can remember easily happy, interesting, useful, valuable events and things. But you cannot remember pain. Try as you may, a pain is not impressed upon your mental cosmos. The pangs of sorrow, the anguish of mind after a stroke of grief or the pains of a wound, terrible as these are in reality, once they are gone for good, there is no memory left, especially of physical pain.

These facts have led Dr. W. H. Bates of New York to suggest to the surgeon-generals of the army and navy of a simple method by which the use of "dope" and drugs to relieve pain can be avoided. It is suggested that a memory image of black, if it can be brought into thought, will blot out the real sensation of pain. The color, if it can be called a color, which, it appears, is easiest to see perfectly, is black.

To relieve pain, according to Dr. Bates, you are to close your eyes, cover them with the palms of your hands and thus shut out all light. Most individuals with good vision and a little practice are soon able to train themselves to picture a perfect black.

When black is seen perfectly, Dr. Bates maintains, a temporary relief, which may become permanent, soon follows. It is said that teeth have been drawn, bullets extracted, broken bones set, and surgical operations have thus been performed.

The sensation of cold, heat, fatigue, hunger, thirst, shock and the like are all said to have been relieved by remembering how to picture black before your eyes. Thus, if a soldier in a trench can recall the color black perfectly he may feel the icy water in which he is standing, but he will not suffer cold.

A soldier may succumb from weakness on the march, but he will not feel exhaustion if he thinks of black.

Why the memory of black should behave so beneficially as a human anesthetic is not yet clear. It is, however, evident that the textures of mankind are apparently less disturbed by pain whenever the attention and the thoughts are directed at something else and away from the physical distress.

Black, it seems, can only be remembered thoroughly when mental control is absolute; when the bull's-eye of your attention is shot directly at black.

So simple an anesthetic or a counterirritant is a memory picture of perfect black that it is logical and advisable for those who do or who may suffere pain to practice this use of their mental imagery.

A COMING WORK OF ART.

Foch's style is truly American. It was in his "private car" that he received the party the German government had sent across to get the medicine, and the scene in Foch's car is going to furnish the model for the popular historic painting of the future, and one which will become as familiar to the coming generation as "Wellington at Waterloo" was to the generation of the past, over in Europe, or as "Washington Crossing the Delaware" in America.—Charlotte Observer.

THE PROBLEM OF RAILROAD ADJUSTMENT

One of the tasks of the government and of the business interests of the country in preparation for peace is the readjustment of control and direction of the railroad system of the country. Much depends upon how successfully this is done for our future prosperity and the position of the nation in the world's commerce. The act of Congress which provided for centralized control in the hands of the government for war service, authorized its continuance for twenty-one months after peace should be finally declared. The purpose of this was to give ample time for all needed readjustment and it did not contemplate any further extension of government control in form or duration. The process for which a year and three quarters is allowed is one of great importance. It will doubtless involve considerable change from past policy, so far as regulation and supervision are concerned, but it will not tend toward government ownership or its control of actual operation.

There can be no accurate estimate or calculation now between the cost of efficiency, and financial return of the entire system or its various parts under government direction and that of corporate ownership. The conditions are entirely different and the urgency of those of war has had an incalculable effect in regard to both outlay and receipts. A large public fund has been at hand for the adjustment of these, and the government is under obligation to complete the process in a way to save the corporations from loss on account of this special service. It is not alone the corporations whose interests are at stake in the return to peace conditions. Those of the industries and commercial business of the country are equally involved. There is likely to be considerable change and some form of associated co-operation of lines which have been in competition in the past. Under the Interstate Commerce law there has been a good deal of effort in that direction under the authority of an official commission, but it has not worked well for efficiency or economy in operation or equity in practical results. It has been carried so far in some respects and been so inequitably applied as to be almost ruinous to some lines and localities.

The problem is not an easy one in a system so extensive as that of the United States and so rapidly and irregularly built up and developed in its working. Rival lines have been brought into competition where one had a serious advantage over another, both in cost of construction and equipment and in the return that could be obtained from operation. There has been no effective co-operation, either in construction or administration for the apportionment of results either for the communities served or the corporations engaged in the service. The distribution of traffic has in many cases had little relation to the facilities for handling it on different lines or the cost of the service, and has been poorly adjusted to the requirements of the various industries and commercial interests dependent upon it for costs and profits. At times some lines have been overburdened with traffic while others have lacked that which could be handled more expeditiously, but in less volume and therefore with less liberal return at corresponding rates.

There is no doubt about the stimulating advantage of private ownership and control by those who have financial interests at stake. They may act largely from sel-interest, but that affords the strongest stimulus for enterprise, foresight, keen calculation and consequent efficiency in conduct. It may not be in the least inconsistent with the observance of private rights or public advantage. With a sound policy of supervision and a clear understanding on the part of the public, regarding the rights and obligations involved, there may be a harmonious co-operation in securing the best results for all concerned instead of a special advantage for some at the cost of others. There needs to be an enlightened and conscientious co-operation for general results of the greatest benefit to all concerned, and especially the prosperity and well-being of the country, with due regard for its commercial relation to other countries.

For this there needs to be a truly national system and it should not be in conflict with State or local authority. There is comparatively little railroad service entirely independent of interstate and national interests, and State control needs to be entirely subordinated to that of the nation. Interstate and foreign commerce are alike subject to Federal authority and that needs to be exercised throughout the country in this matter of internal transportation in a way to secure the best results attainable. It is inconsistent with our fundamental doctrine of free government and the exercise of private rights to seek these results through centralized control by government agencies. It must be through a wise co-operation of these with corporate and personal agencies of the people with rights and interests at stake. The problem before us is that for getting assurance of such a policy.—New York Journal of Commerce.

OAKLAND TO PLAY HOST TO 'THE BOYS'

Oakland will play host to "the boys"—both army and navy men—on Thanksgiving day.

Headed by the War Camp Community Service, city officials, civic organizations, churches and hundreds of private citizens have joined in a program for welcoming and making joyous the day for all enlisted men who are away from their own homes in the national service.

Plans already completed provide for a monster patriotic celebration and song-fest in the Municipal Auditorium—and 10,000 turkey dinners in as many private homes for that number of soldiers and sailors.

Every family in Oakland that can provide an extra seat at their Thanksgiving day table is asked to feast a soldier or sailor on that day. Persons who wish to show their hospitality should telephone immediately to Herman Johnson, chairman of the community hospitality committee of the War Camp Community Service, Lakeside 2627. Names should be listed at the earliest possible time.

MEETING PLANNED.

A soldiers,' sailors' and people's Thanksgiving day meeting is to be held in the Municipal Auditorium at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The big feature of the meeting will be singing by 450 sailors and marines from Yerba Buena and Mare Islands, led by Charles C. Dunn, song leader at Yerba Buena. There will be a patriotic address by a nationally-known speaker, who will be brought here for the purpose. There also will be community singing, in which both enlisted men and civilians will join. The big band from Yerba Buena will provide music for the meeting.

The day will close with a big vaudeville show, to be staged at 8 o'clock in the evening at the Oakland Defenders' club. The club will keep open house throughout the day to all enlisted men.

MANY TO AID.

Mayor John L. Davie is honorary chairman of the civic entertainment committee, which is assisting the War Camp Community Service in the plans for the big "welcome" exercises. Others who are aiding in making the day a success are: H. C. Capwell, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Charles J. Truman, president of the Merchants' Exchange; Rev. F. J. Van Horn, president of the Oakland Ministerial Association; Rev. Edward P. Dempsey, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church; Rabbi Franklin, of the First Hebrew Synagogue; Fred Kerrick, representing the Christian Science churches; Joseph R. Knowland, chairman of the Oakland Red Cross; Miss Ethel Moore, representing both the state and county Councils of Defense; Harmon Bell, of the War Service League; Joseph N. Burroughs, chairman of the War Camp Community Service; Herman Jackson, chairman of the "hospitality committee," and Alexander Stewart, special representative of the War Camp Community Service in Oakland.

2000 Strike at Bethlehem Plant Over Pay Dispute

Three Shipyard Unions Vote For Mooney Walkout

Men at Alameda Ask Decision on 44-Hour Week

Work at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation is practically at a standstill today by the failure of approximately 2000 boilermakers and their helpers to go on the job this morning.

The walkout follows a meeting of the local Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union held yesterday, when by referendum vote it was decided to lay off work at the plant until a satisfactory arrangement is made with the management regarding the forty-four-hour week and payment of wages on company time. The meeting yesterday was attended by approximately 3500 of the 4500 members of the union.

The vote to strike follows a notice served on the Bethlehem Company's officials last Thursday to the effect that unless the employees were paid on company time a referendum strike vote would be ordered. Last Saturday the men were paid as usual during the afternoon hours, with the result that none of the members of the Boilermakers' Union showed up for work at the plant this morning. Officials of the shipbuilding company state that arrangements have been made to pay off the men in the future during the Friday shift, but that the notice was served on them too late to make possible a change of plan last week. They state that the plant is open to the men at any time and insist that they are not at controversy with them.

"RESTS WITH U. S."

"The entire matter of wages and working hours rests entirely with the employees and the United States government," is the way one of the officials summed up the situation. "We cannot and will not recognize the forty-four-hour week until ordered to do so by the federal authorities," he continued, "and if we did so we would be in conflict with the terms of our contract with the Emergency Fleet Corporation."

Officials of the Boilermakers' Union state that members have been discriminated against in various ways and assert they will not return to work until all the matters in dispute have been adjusted. The payment of the men on their own time is but one of a number of grievances, according to their statement, and it is purposed to clear up the entire matter at this time. "Until it is cleared up the men will not return to the job," stated a prominent official of the union.

MAY HOLD CONFERENCE.

At yesterday's meeting of the union a committee consisting of George C. Davis, E. B. Wolff and Charles Meyers was appointed to take up the grievances of the men with the officials of the Bethlehem Company. It is hoped to arrange a conference this afternoon.

The walkout today halts hull construction on ten 12,000-ton steel vessels and practically closes down the plant, as the work in general depends largely upon the activities of the boilermakers. Most of the shipyard laborers are forced to lay off as a result of the strike and unless it is settled within a few days inactivity will be enforced on all the crafts employed at the yard. This would mean the throwing out of employment of approximately 8000 men.

THE MACY REPORT

Decision as to Wages, Hours and Other Conditions in Pacific Coast Shipyards

FIRST INSTALLMENT

The Macy scale, which shipbuilders of the Pacific Coast have had under consideration since its recent submission, and the report accompanying it, will be published in full by The TRIBUNE, beginning with the installment here appearing, and continuing in daily installments during this week. The report is of such manifest importance, not only to the men affected in its establishment of a wage scale, but because of the scheme of labor adjustment which it proposes that its publication in full is deemed highly justifiable.

The report considers successively the reasons and basis for a national wage scale, the basing of future increases on the changes in the cost of living, transportation expenses, shop committees for the adjustment of grievances, discrimination, weekly pay and many other subjects. The first installment of the report follows:

SECTION I. INTRODUCTION.

(1) Reasons for a National Wage Scale: The principal characteristic of the following decision for Pacific Coast shipyards and the decision we are issuing simultaneously for Atlantic Coast, Gulf and Great Lakes shipyards is that they establish uniform national rates for practically all of the skilled trades. We have adopted these uniform national rates because experience has convinced us that by this means only can we put a stop to that shifting of employees from yard to yard and district to district which continues to be a chief obstacle to efficient ship production. Added arguments for uniform national rates are that citizens working for the government—and work on ships is now essentially government work—feel that they should be treated alike; that there are no longer any marked differences in the cost of living between different sections; and that the Federal Employment Service, rather than divergent wage rates with their unsettling tendencies, should henceforth be relied upon to effect whatever shifting of wage-earners is necessary to the carrying out of the war program. It is a special gratification to us that this change, which we believe to be in the national interest, was unanimously requested by the international and local representatives of the shipbuilding crafts, who came before us in the hearings which preceded this adjustment.

In substituting uniform national rates for the shipyard employees in the different crafts for the diverse rates previously established, so far as this seemed practicable, we have not always been able to give full weight to local conditions. Since the results will be of benefit to the great majority of the employees affected, we feel confident that the minority, who may be less benefited, will cheerfully accept the change in the interest of the greatest good to the greatest number.

(2) Basis of Increases in Wages Granted: The memorandum creating this board indicates clearly the ground for readjustment of wages. It says: "At any time after six months have elapsed following such ratified agreement or any such final decision by the Adjustment Board on any question as to wages, hours or conditions in any plant or district, such question may be reopened by the Adjustment Board for adjustment upon the request of a majority of the craft or crafts at such plant affected by such agreement or decision provided it can be shown that there has been a general and material increase in the cost of living." This provision was not intended to and does not prevent such changes in the wages of particular crafts as will serve to bring them into more harmonious relation with other rates in the general scale. It was intended, however, to preclude, during the duration of the war, any general advance in wages beyond that justified by a "general and material increase in the cost of living."

The war in which we are engaged is primarily an industrial war. To win it, we must mobilize all of our industrial resources and utilize them to promote the national purpose as we mobilize and utilize our army and navy. Standards of living are to be protected so far as practicable, but the national interests must not be sacrificed for the sake of the private interests of particular grouped citizens. We have not hesitated to demand the extreme sacrifice from millions of men we are sending to the front. Those left behind, serving their country equally as war workers, must not expect to take advantage of the shortage of man power which the war itself causes to advance their pre-war standards. For as the President said in his Labor Day message, in this struggle of democracy against autocracy, of labor against class privilege, "We are all enlisted men, members of a single army, of many parts and many tasks, but commanded by a single obligation, our faces set toward a single purpose."

(3) Extent of Increase in Cost of Living and Resulting Adjustments of Wage Rates: From the evidence submitted to the board by the Bureau of Labor Statistics in reference to the increase in the cost of living in the five Pacific Coast and sixteen Atlantic Coast, Gulf and Great Lakes shipbuilding centers, we conclude as follows:

(a) The increase in the cost of living in Seattle from October, 1917, to February, 1918, was less than the 10 per cent increase in wages granted by the Navy Department and the Emergency Fleet Corporation in December, 1917, and made permanent on February 1 1918. We therefore reaffirm our decision that no readjustments of wages for Seattle shipyards was due on February 1, as contended by the Seattle Metal Trades Council, and so advise the appeal board, appointed to pass on this contention, after complying with their request that we re-examine this issue on the basis of the cost of living statistics collected by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

(b) The average increase in the cost of living on the Pacific Coast from October, 1917, to October, 1918, was 20 per cent.

(c) Applying this average increase to the basic daily wage of $5.25 established by our previous decision, the new basic wage for the $5.25 crafts would become $6.30, or $.78¾ an hour.

(d) The average increase in the cost of living in the shipbuilding centers of the Atlantic Coast, Gulf and Great Lakes for the eight months from December, 1917, to August, 1918, was 15 per cent. In the absence of statistics for the precise period, February to October, since our first decision for these eastern shipyards was rendered, we assume that the increase for these eight months was the same as for the overlapping eight months covered by the bureau's investigation, that is, 15 per cent.

(e) Adding 15 per cent to the basic hourly rate of $.70 would make the new rate $.80½.

(f) In the interest of uniformity and to comply with the unanimous request for a national wage scale, of the international and local representatives of labor who appeared before us, we have made the basic hourly wage rate for the principal skilled crafts 80 cents.

(g) Owing to the diversity of conditions in the different sections of the country it has not seemed practicable to establish a uniform scale for laborers. Following precedents set by other departments of the government, which employ many more laborers than are engaged in shipbuilding and in the interest of a uniform national policy, we have fixed different wages for laborers and common laborers in the three districts, Pacific Coast, North Atlantic and Great Lakes, and South Atlantic and Gulf. In each district we have increased the rate for laborers and helpers upon whom the burden of rising costs of living fall most heavily, as much or more than is required by a strict application of the increase in the cost of living reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

(h) We have not deemed it necessary or wise to apply this entire increase in the cost of living to occupations already above the base rate of the scale for the skilled trades. As in assessing the income tax, the government exempts altogether small incomes while taking more than three-fourths of the income of the multi-millionaire so in adjusting wages, while granting an advance to laborers and helpers fully sufficient to offset the increase in the cost of living we have not considered it proper to grant the full increase to the more highly paid occupations. Those whose daily rates were more than $5.25 have been increased 15 per cent, except where by slight variations from this rule it has been possible to establish a uniform national rate.

(i) In some cases, as in that of crane operators in Seattle and Portland, we have made no increase since they have already been given the benefit of an increase in excess of what is required by the increase in the cost of living above the rate of $5.25, provided for "operating engineers" in the original award and adhered to (with the 10 per cent added in December) in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Workers on Both Sides of Bay to Take Action

Approximately 10,000 members of Eastbay organized labor, representing the Boilermakers', Shipyard Laborers' and Machinists' Unions, yesterday voted to walk out on December 2 in sympathy with the free-or-retry Mooney movement. Their action was taken in support of a resolution to that effect passed by the Central Labor Council of Alameda county at its meeting last Monday night and follows similar action taken last week by various other Eastbay unions.

In addition to an affirmative vote on the Mooney resolution, the Machinists' Union also voted to strike on December 9 unless the wage schedule submitted by the Pacific Coast District Metal Trades Council

LUCK STAYS WITH HEIRS OF BALDWIN

That the proverbial luck which stayed with Lucky Baldwin has fallen to the lot of his daughters is one of the interesting sidelights disclosed by the filing of the suit in Los Angeles asking a court decree declaring Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker incompetent. The immense acreage in the Montebello district which was used by Baldwin in the early days for grazing lands, has spouted oil gushers returning thousands of dollars in revenue.

The Stocker holdings may run as high as $20,000,000, an estimate only being possible, in view of the oil discoveries on land owned by Mrs. Stocker.

The petitioner in the competency suit is Albert E. Snyder of San Francisco, a son of Mrs. Stocker, who seeks to have a trust company appointed to act as guardian of the huge holdings of Mrs. Stocker, in

HONOR WEEK FOR STAMP SALES SET

Thanksgiving week, beginning today and ending Saturday night, has been set apart by the war saving stamp committee as honor week, in which the people of the community are asked to make a special thanksgiving offering in the purchase of stamps.

Alameda county must purchase $3,561,763.75 before the first of the coming year in order to complete its quota of $6,615,160.

MAN KILLED IN ALAMEDA FIRE

ALAMEDA, Nov. 25. — Fire claimed one life at the old Broadlawn sanatorium at 2529 Central avenue at 8 o'clock last night. The house of late years has been used as a rooming house. The upper rooms became quickly filled with smoke. Some one thought of one of the roomers asleep on the the top floor. Fighting his way through the dense smoke Officer Britt of the Alameda police force made his way, rescuing O. W. Emerson. The man was unconscious and was rushed to the Emergency hospital Several physicians were called, Dr. H. Keyes at last responding.

'BUY A STAMP' DRIVE TO BE CARRIED OUT

Few, if any, Oaklanders and Alameda county residents are going to escape their patriotic duties in the purchase of War Savings stamps during the next six weeks, if the plans of the committee in charge count for anything—for every time the average citizen turns around he will be faced with the demand "Buy a War Stamp."

"Alameda county has approximately five weeks in which to make up its deficit in the War Savings drive of $2,000,000—an average of $400,000 each week—and we've got to step lively to do it," declares David E. Perkins, chairman of the Alameda county committee. "There are a good many who have been 'slacking' in the accumulation of war stamps, and from now to the end of the year we are going to make it difficult for any person to say that they didn't buy 'War Savies' because they weren't asked to do so."

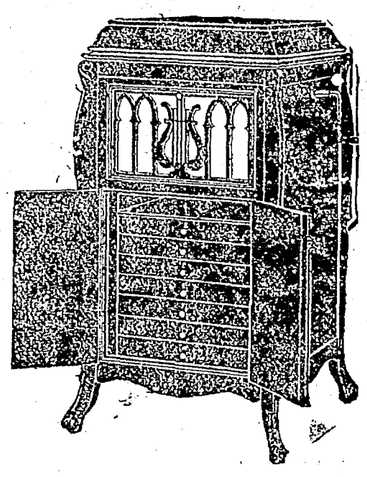
Buy a phonograph with your ears open and your choice will unquestionably be the Starr

—A Challenge to All Makes of Phonographs

"Buy with your ears open" means much to the prospective purchaser. Eliminate from your mind all possible favoritism for any more familiar make, select on merit and that alone, and there is not a doubt in the world but that your choice will be a STARR. With unquestioned knowledge of the supremacy of the STARR phonograph in all those points which go to create the ideal instrument, there is no fear of a disappointment or a failure when a comparison is made with all other makes.

Differences in the Starr "Horn"

Some "horns" are of tin or iron. And a metallic twang tinges the sounds. Wood horns are an improvement. But woods differ. Some are lifeless—do not vibrate. And tone-suffers. The most sweetly vibrant, the best of all woods is Silver Grain Spruce.



The Starr Sound Box Is the Best

The Starr "Sound Box" handles high and low notes equally as well on all makes of records.

In the Starr tone chambers Silver Grain Spruce is used instead of metal or inferior, non-vibrating woods.

WEAK SHIPBUILDERS' TEAM IS DEFEATED BY VISITING STARS

Crockett-Pittsburg Boys Ride Rough Shod Over Patched Up Local Outfit

Schick Stars in the Field Events; Moore Musicians Liven Up the Proceedings.

By Eddie Murphy

Baseball fans who yesterday afternoon wended their way to the Oakland Coast League Park in hopes of seeing what was rated the strongest team of All-Stars of the Shipbuilders' League engage in a diamond battle with the All-Stars of the Pittsburg-Crockett teams were disappointed. Some members of the shipbuilders' team failed to appear and it was necessary to draft substitutes. The Pittsburg-Crockett All-Stars won by a score of 4 to 1, but it might have been a different story had such highly-touted players as "Swede" Risberg, "Hack" Miller, Oscar Vitt, Al Walters, Harl Maggart and Jimmy Cavaney been present to do their bit. As it was, it rqeuired three pitchers and two catchers to make it possible for the shipbuilders to present a team of nine men. As luck would have it, just nine men appeared to play.

Some of these six absent stars might offer the excuse that the gloomy weather kept them from reporting, but it failed to keep the boys of the Pittsburg and Crockett teams from keeping their promise, although it was raining at the time they left their respective towns. Yesterday's game was for the benefit of the United War Work Fund, and when players fail to turn out for such an affair as that, it will give the fans an idea that the same will happen at other benefits planned for other occasions, and the cash customers will refuse to give their support. A benefit for the wife of the late Charley Swain is planned for next Sunday, and the committee working upon it will make it their business to see that none but players who can be depended upon will be selected for the teams.

Considering the patched up lineup which the Shipbuilders were forced to present, they put up a fairly good showing against the stars from Contra Costa county and the fans left the park well satisfied, as a few field events, a wrestling match, music by the Moore shipyard band and singing by the Moore quartet livened the proceedings.

GREGORY RETIRES WHEN VISITORS TAKE LEAD.

Howard Gregory for the Shipbuilders and Jack Bromley for Pittsburg-Crockett opened i.. the pitcning box, and Gregory retired after the third inning when it looked hopeless for the Shipbuilders, while Jack Bromley retired in the fifth to give Clinton Prough a chance to perform before his home town fans. As early as the third inning, the visitors had the game cinched. In the first inning after Pinelli had fanned, Roxey Middleton hit to left field for three bags, and scored when Honus Mitze playing first base, let an easy grounder from Denny Wilie's bat get by him. Billy Lane opened the first for the Shipbuilders with a double, reached third on Schick's sacrifice and died there while Jones and Kenworthy were infield outs. Bill Kenworthy and Maury Schick, who played short, tossed the game away for Gregory in the third inning. Pinnelli hit to Schick, who made a wild heave to first, Honus Mitze recovering the ball and tossing it to Kenworthy at second and he dropped it to allow Pinnelli to reach that bag. Middleton sacrificed Pinnelli to third and he scored when Phil Koerner drove a sharp single to left. Gardner was safe on Kenworthy's error, but the second sacker recovered the ball in time to catch Koerner at third.

ERROR HELPS SHIPBUILDERS TO THEIR ONLY RUN.

The Shipbuilders got men on the bases in the second and third innings, but could not shoot them over the plate while in the fourth inning, Bill Leard's error opened the way for their only tally. Jones hit to Leard and Bill decided that it was too late to toss Bobby out after he had kicked the ball around a while. Kenworthy was hit by a pitched ball and both advanced a bag when Mitze was tossed out on a bunt. Pat Kilhullen lifted a fly to Middleton in center field, and Jones scored after the catch. Kenworthy stole third and was called out for oversliding the bag.

Artie Benham was in the box when Pittsburg-Crockett added their last two runs in the fifth inning. Pinnelli fanned, Middleton beat out a hit to Schick. Wilie laid down a bunt which Kilhullen tossed to second and all hands were safe when Schick dropped the throw. Koerner connected for a hit in Kenworthy's territory and Middleton scored while Wilie went to third. Gardner hit to right field to score Wilie and went to second when a throw was made to third in an effort to catch Koerner, who was later retired at the plate when Corhan hit to Jones. Gardner was thrown out at the plate on an attempted double steal. Benham got by the next two innings without any damage being done, and then Buz Arlett showed the fans a few of his shoots by pitching the remaining two innings. The Shipbuilders nicked Prough for three hits in the four innings that he worked in the box, but could not make them count for runs.

SCHICK CARRIES OFF HONORS RUNNING AND THROWING.

Maurice Schick, outfielder of the Hanlon team, was the bright star in the few field events. In a hundred yard sprint with Babe Pinnelli and Bobby Jones he finished first with five or six feet to spare, while Jones finished second. Bill Steen, Roxey Middleton and Schick performed in the long distance throwing, and Schick again carried off the honors with fifteen or more feet to spare. Roy Corhan and Bobby Jones reported on the job with their arms not feeling any too strong, so did not complete.

A wrestling match between two colored boys furnished a little fun for the fans before the game. Clarence Martin of the Pathfinder Club downed Miner after ten minutes of tossing around on the mat which was provided by the Oakland police department. Many members of the Moore Shipyard community chorus failed to put in an appearance, thinking that the game was off, but Professor McKenzie managed to have enough to offer the fans an idea of what he had planned for them. The Moore shipyard band was not stingy with its music and helped to make a lively afternoon, while Jack Baumgarten did more work than usual by announcing the field events. He got by with the umpiring in good style.

Scout McFarlin Looking Over the Talent For Oaks

Secretary Herbert McFarlin of the Oakland baseball club was on the job yesterday looking over the talent that participated in the Shipbuilders-Crockett-Pittsburg game. Mac states that the Coast League will be on the job as usual this spring and that arrangements are being made to get the bunch together. The annual meeting of the league will be held in San Francisco next month and a unanimous vote to get busy immediately is expected.

In the meantime McFarlin, who acts as scout for the club during the winter, will buy himself a complete set of whiskers, camouflage his bicycle and visit all the "bush" games about the bay. "Mac" is a bear at picking likely youngsters out of the tall timbers and by the time the training period arrives he expects to have a dozen youngsters ready for Foreman Howard to look over.

J. Cal Ewing is at his Castella ranch, but will return in time for the league meeting.

W. H. Taft May Accept Offer Of Commission

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—It was reported here last night that William H. Taft issued today at Waterbury, Conn., the following statement concerning the request that he become the ruling arbiter in organized baseball.

"Mr. Hempstead and Mr. Frasse called on me Saturday to ask me if I would consider acting as arbiter between the National and American leagues in matters involving the league construction of contracts between the leagues and their application to transactions between them as they might arise. I said to them that I did not practice law as an advocate in courts, but that I had acted as arbiter in several cases.

"I said that if they would write me a description of the kind of arbitration in which they wished me to act and the particular function they wished me to perform I would consider it and advise them. I could not act except as a judge of law and fact, or any way take part in management of their associations. It must be work of a strictly legal, professional character.

"I said further that I wished to consult my brother Charles to be assured by him that he had parted with all interest in baseball properties, so that should I become arbiter no question could arise as to my impartiality between parties contending before us."

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 25. — Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburg Pirates, expressed annoyance yesterday because of what he terms a "leak" in the negotiations to induce William H. Taft to accept a position as sole commissioner of both major baseball leagues.

"Nothing was to be said about the matter until Mr. Taft had been consulted," said Mr. Dreyfuss. "We had men chosen to approach him and get an idea as to how he would view the proposition. But it was a case of some one not being able to keep a secret under his hat."

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Ban B. Johnson, president of the American league, arrived here last night. His visit to New York is said to be connected with a conference that is to be held looking to the re-organization of baseball.

Camp Lewis Hoopers Will Tour State

An All Star basketball team selected from the service men at Camp Lewis will make a tour of California the latter part of December if plans of Chaplain J. P. Cavanagh, in charge of the team materialize. The chaplain has written to a local sporting goods man asking to arrange games for his team with universities and the Olympic club.

Geo. Heintz' Oakland Beauty Loses in Final Match to San Toy

MERCED, Nov. 25. — In the final match of the second annual meet of the California Coursing Club, held at the Dallas Ranch near here yesterday, San Toy of the Wicklup kennels of San Francisco won the championship cup and $500 stakes. San Toy bested Oakland Beauty, owned by Geo. W. Heintz of Oakland. Last season Oakland Beauty defeated San Toy. Third and fourth places in yesterday's event were won by King F, owned by Dr. F. Clark and Roy Avery's Kildare.

Oakland Lass, owned by Davidson and Pritchard of Oakland, won in the California Futurity, defeating Vallejo Boy, owned by J. M. Coleman. The winner received the El Capitan cup and $300. The third annual meet is planned to be held at the same place, as this year's meeting drew good crowds in spite of poor weather.

RINGSIDE SIDELIGHTS

By Bob Shand

THE United War Work fund will receive approximately one thousand dollars as a result of the benefit show staged by Tommy Simpson and Gordon Gliddon at the auditorium Saturday night, but there would have been about five times this amount realized had the promoters received the right kind of backing from the boxers and their managers. In the first place Fat Larue refused to go on with K. O. Krovosky, claiming that he had not been given sufficient notice, and in the second place rumors were flying thick and fast that several of the boxers on the program would not put in an appearance and that others would insist upon selecting their own opponents.

RUMORS WERE WELL-FOUNDED

The latter rumors proved well founded, as Salinas Jack Robinson, Battling Vierra, Frankie Farren and Walter McDevitt did not appear at the auditorium. Investigation proved that McDevitt was sick, but no excuses have been offered by the others. Jimmy Dundee, who was matched with Vierra, showed up with a doctor's certificate proving that he was sick, so Jimmy is not to be blamed for not boxing. The promoters did well to give the kind of show that was staged and too much credit cannot be given the lads who volunteered their services at the last minute and saved the show from being a complete bloomer.

SIMPSON CHARGES CONSPIRACY

In regard to the absence of Battling Ortega, Frank Barrieau and K. O. Krovosky from the card, Promoter Simpson alleges a conspiracy was hatched on the other side of the bay to defeat Ortega, who is a very sick lad at the present time. The Battler, who has been ailing ever since his return from Butte, was willing to go on with Salinas Jack Robinson and the latter's manager, Jack Russell, agreed to the match, but instead of sending Robinson over here Russell told Jack Hall, a heavyweight, to report at the fights and challenge Ortega. When Robinson did not put in an appearance, Simpson sent Ortega home to bed, and then a grand-stand play was made to have Krovosky meet the Battler.

ORTEGA TOO SICK TO FIGHT

According to Simpson, the allied promoters of San Francisco offered Ortega a big medal to meet Krovosky at Dreamland Rink, San Francisco, next Friday night, but Simpson refused to take the match, explaining that his fighter was sick and was going to fight Robinson simply because the match had been advertised. With the knowledge that Ortega was in poor condition and under a doctor's care and that he had refused a "diamond medal" to meet Krovosky, the San Francisco delegation came to the auditorium determined to force Ortega into the match. Krovosky was introduced from the ring with the explanation that he was willing to fight but that there was no "suitable" opponent for him. Frank Barrieau followed him into the ring and offered to furnish the opposition, but Krovosky refused, and he also refused, according to Simpson, to meet Jack Hall.

KROVOSKY AVOIDED BARRIEAU

Krovosky's explanation of his refusal to box Barrieau is that no boxer can make a good showing against the Canadian middleweight, but he offered no explanation for refusing to meet Jack Hall, who holds a decision over him. As an aftermath of the argument Saturday night Frank Lawler, manager of Krovosky, wanted to take a couple of punches at Tommy Simpson and all diplomatic relations between the local promoters and the allies of San Francisco were severed. Simpson intimates that San Francisco interests tried to hurt the local show as they did on the occasion of the last big benefit held here when Benny Leonard refused to fight Joe Miller and insisted on boxing with his sparring partners. There is a wide breach between the local and San Francisco promoters as a result of the trouble Saturday night, and it will be a long time before the contending factions get together again.

MERINO ACTED LIKE HOODLUM

Eddie Price, whose real name is Eddie Mahoney, was the big surprise of the show when he knocked out Harry Bramer, the Mare Island marine, in less than a round. Some of the ringsiders felt sorry for the local boy, who is still very green. They did not think it right to match him with an experienced boxer like Bramer, but Eddie more than made good. An unfortunate incident, however, was the conduct of Eddie Merino, Bramer's chief second. Merino climbed into the ring while his fighter was still semi-conscious and claimed he was able to continue and used language of the most disgusting kind that was plainly heard by women in the boxes. He wanted to take a punch at everyone connected with the show and altogether acted like a hoodlum. Tommy Simpson stated after the show that Merino would not be allowed to second any more boxers at any of his entertainments either at Emeryville or the auditorium.

DUFFY WILL BE HEADLINER

The next flock of bouts to be staged here will be seen at the auditorium a week from Wednesday. The promoters are lining up a card of seven bouts with Jimmy Duffy as one of the headliners. Duffy gave Johnny Arrousez a boxing lesson Saturday and the weight he has taken on recently seems to have done the local sailor a lot of good. Jimmy has lost none of his speed and he is boxing better than ever. Battling Ortega will not be in shape to fight for at least another month, but there is plenty of talent available without including those boxers who failed to keep their engagement at the benefit show.

Gossip for Baseball Fans

By MAURY PESSANO

Jack Bromley, pitcher for the Crockett Sugarites, had his spitter working at its best against the Shipbuilders' All Stars and those four hits off his shoots were well scattered. Jack whiffed four batters in the five innings he pitched.

Cy Forsythe was on the oaching line for the first few, innings and then Phil Koerner gave "Cy" a chance around the first sack, and how he did go! He had the fans on their feet all the time the way he was picking them out of the dirt.

The teams in the Alameda County Midwinter League took things easy and most of the managers and players being present at the big game. Lawrence Ratto of the Commission Merchants wants to play the postponed game between his club and the Vitt Grays, Thanksgiving Day, at Fruitvale, and he is sure that a good crowd will be on hand if the game is played.

Roy Corhan shows some speed around the short patch. Roy pulled off a great play Sunday that almost got his man at first when he ran over second for a grounder fielding the ball with one hand. Besides playing a stellar game in the field Roy got a hit off Gregory.

Tom Cahalan, manager of the Crockett Sugarites, along with Bill Steen, had charge of the All Stars from Pittsburg and Crockett, and after the game Tom had a big smile on his face.

Honus Mitze had a chance to show as a first sacker in place of Risberg, and went good. He was kept busy jumping in the air after bad throws from the fielders, two of them being from Schick. Honus got a couple of hits for himself, but could not make them count in the scoring.

That same club that represented Pittsburg and Crockett All Stars could give any of the shipbuilders' team a battle, and few fans will admit that the Shipbuilders have better pitchers in their league than Bromley and Prough. Bromley is a hard man to beat.

nTWO J

The absence of the six "stars" of the Shipbuilders made quite a difference in the team. They missed the hitting of all those "stars," and Howard Gregory would had had more confidence with these boys behind him.

In several innings the shipyard boys had good chances to score, but lack of hitting was their chief fault. Only five of them were able to solve the shoots of Bromley and Prough, three of them were Hanlon players. Five of the seven hits were divided among them. Lane, Schick each got two, while Kenworthy got the other.

After "Babe" Pinelli was out in the first inning, "Roxy" Middleton hit the first one that Gregory threw in there for a long triple to deep left.

Every player in Sunday's game was well known. Sacramento, the Oaks and the Seals were well represented. Bromley, Pinelli, Wilie, Forsythe and Easterly all played with Sacramento last year, while McKee, Leard, Corhan and Koerner drew pay from the Seals. Our Oaks were represented by Middleton, Arlett, Gardner, Prough, Lane and Honus Mitze.

Billy Hollander who was picked in the earlier part of the week to take care of the short patch for the Shipbuilders, was present but not in a uniform on account of a bad ankle. Before the game started, he did his bit helping the boys in the field events.

For the first time Bill Steen and Tom Cahalan left the ball park happy. Both had charge of the All stars from Crockett and Pittsburg, and it's the first time since both men have been managers of their teams that they were acting together.

Hollander Finds Broken Ankle After A Year

Billy Hollander, who did some shortstopping for the Oaks last year, has just discovered that a bone in his right ankle has been broken since last March.

While training with the Oaks at Boyes Springs Billy felt the ankle give way, but did not pay any attention to the injured member, thinking it was only a strain. He played with the Oaks for six weeks and finished the season with the Hanlon team of the Shipbuilders' League and when the ankle pained him again he visited a surgeon. An X-ray revealed a broken bone and an operation was necessary to put the leg in working order again. Hollander is hobbling about and will be able to play ball again in a few months.

Billy will not return to organized baseball, but will remain in the shipyards and do a little coaching on the side. He is an expert football, basketball and track coach and his services are in demand by the universities.

Local College Eleven Loses To Fort Baker

With three of their regular men out of the lineup, the Varsity football team of St. Mary's college went to Ewing Field yesterday afternoon and lost to the Fort Baker squad by a score of 10 to 7. Captain Westbrook, fullback, dropped a goal from the field in the third quarter that brought about the defeat of the locals. Herrero, center for the collegians, was out of the game with a broken finger, while Hadley, right guard, and Snow, left guard, were also missing. After the first few minutes of play, the game went in favor of the Fort boys when Hasbrook scored a touchdown, the ball being taken on the kick-off and carried light down the field. Kauhane passed to Valencia, the leader running for eighty yards to score a touchdown for St. Mary's in the second quarter. St. Mary's came within a few inches of scoring a touchdown and almost scored a goal near the end of the contest, Silva dropping a punt to spoil the chance.

Billiard Notes

Fred Barbeau won three out of five games of straight rail from Paul Jackman.

Ernie Brown and A. Matlos had a long session at three cushions. Brown won five and lost four.

Frank Grasso lost to Bob Barclay at straight rail and three cushions.

Manuel Rose, with the aid of an unknown, defeated Al Mather and Dan Clifford at pocket billiards.

Frank Caltano, the disappearing kid, won from P. Appeldorn at straight rail billiards.

"MIDDIES"-PITT GAME OFF.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 25.—Officials at the naval academy today said it was unlikely that the middies' football team would accept the challenge of the Pittsburg university to a game in New York December 7. The midshipmen would be allowed to play Warner's champions here, however, it was said.

"Pots of Gold" On Display At Berkeley

Old Man Climate One of the Many Features When California Won.

Old Man Climate took a hand at Berkeley Saturday and pulled the biggest football rooter's stunt since the world was made.

There have been confetti clouds and flocks of toy balloons, and even the late Lincoln Beachy has tossed about like a leaf in the wind, but a made-to-order rainbow with both ends upon the playing field was the new one.

Not only was the bow on display but one end was plainly seen to rest among the California players in a lineup near the south end of the enclosure. Pots of gold at the foot of the rainbow have figured in nursery tales since Adam, but a football eleven in that fairy investiture is something different.

California could not fail to win under such auspices.

Whether to watch the University of California football team cleanly outplay and win over their bitter northern rivals, Oregon, or to keep an eye on the overhead was the problem of the attendants at the game. Three times during the contest there were hard pelting showers and three times afterward the sun shone through the clouds and enveloped the field and the bleachers and the trees and hills in flashing glory. After the bow which appeared in the arena another big one was set outside the field for the edification of the departing crowds.

As an all-coast display the weather probably had something of interest for frost bitten easterners.

SOME GAME.

And it was some football game at that. The rains of the morning had rendered the field soaking and when the players tore along the turf they left wakes like ferry boats. The ball was heavy and slippery, but the clean way it was handled by the teams was remarkable. Fumbling figured in not more than three plays.

Oregon has a fighting bunch as promised. The way they opened up the play in the last quarter and attacked the California goal with passes and end runs out of trick formations was a wonder. California had to uncover a desperate defense to save themselves and that they did it was very much to their credit.

Aside from the offensive playing of young Sprott who did everything that three men ought in advancing the ball, the defensive playing of Walt Gordon stood out. The Oregon boys had a line of chatter which they spilled from the kick-off with the idea of getting Walter's goat and Walter chipped one young man under the chin with a straight left which put an end to the specialty. The officials heard the offending remarks and the Oregon man was warned to lay off. It was well that he did, because Gordon is a crackerjack boxer as well as football player and probably nothing on the other side could prevail against him at fisticuffs.

Berkeley stood to lose by a single point had Oregon scored. The U. C. boys carried the line the length of the field from the first kick-off and shot Sprott over in six minutes. But the punt out failed miserably and the six points might have been topped by an Oregon seven had the northern chaps carried it over.

The Berkeley line showed the ripping defensive strength which has been the season's surprise.

Light Oregon backs could do nothing in rushing the ball. They found it out early and when they had the pigskin they ran around the weaker California ends or tried the passing game.

B. F. Jacoberger, who ought to get his moniker changed, or shortened or deleted, was the star running back for the losers. He seemed to have been dipped in oil when loose in the open and has a soothing way of being just an inch or two too far from would-be tacklers. Rugby players have a sharp swerving dash through an open field, but this bird only sways easily to make his getaway.

Big Wilson tackled him from behind after a long run and saved an Oregon score in the second quarter.

For a man who weighs not more than 165, Sprott is a marvel. He can advance the ball four times out of five for distances of five to nine yards against any set of tackles that have shown here this season. He always falls his full length toward the opposing goal and has an uncanny way of slipping through holes in the line. The strong California guards and tackles are entitled to much credit in making smooth the way for Sprott but at that he outclasses other backs easily.

Because of the wet field, California used no tricks and played a mighty fine game of straight football.

Bears Ready For Cardinal Thanksgiving

Defeat of Oregon University Gives Berkeley Boys the Necessary Confidence.

By HERBERT HAUSER

The United War Work Fund will be the beneficiary of the Stanford and California University football game Thanksgiving Day. Both colleges have come forward to further this worthy cause by the re-establishment of what in years gone by was the greatest athletic event on the Pacific Coast. It is to be hoped that the weather man will realize this and give the thousands of enthusiasts an opportunity of once again seeing the elevens of these two great colleges battling for the supremacy of the state.

For four years the Cardinal and Blue and Gold have not met in football and it is eight years since they met in the American game. For the past four years the public has been clamoring for the return of football relations and at last the call has been heeded and let us hope that it will always be continued.

It is many years since the game has been on Thanksgiving, so many years that the writer dislikes to think back that far other than to remember that in those days the "big game" was the one topic of conversation the state over. Every store window in towns about the bay section for a week ahead would be togged out in the colors of the two colleges. Every youngster in grammar school even, wore the colors of one or the other for weeks ahead of the game and when the great day came it was a wonderful sight to see the outpouring of multitudes first out to the old Haight street grounds, then to Central park, then the Sixteenth and Folsom street field and finally the Richmond district. Every section of San Francisco had its fling. It was a sad day when the contest was taken away from San Francisco on Thanksgiving day.

Now that the game is on once again let us hope that the keen interest of former years will be revived and that the same good natured rivalry not alone between the two colleges but their followers as well will be revived.

THE OLD "STUNTS" AGAIN.

Both colleges intend to put on some of the stunts of former years. It is true that the war has taken away many of those who this very moment are yearning and wishing that they could once again be on hand for this contest. Many a former Stanford or California man in army camp or on shipboard, either in this country or abroad will watch with eager eye for the result of this contest.

This is Stanford's first year at American football and we cannot expect too much of her. California well remembers her first year with its discouraging defeats. Stanford has started out this season under many difficulties and has improved with each game and will be at her best on Thursday. California has its best team in four years. One cannot expect the Cardinal to win, yet every one knows of the Palo Alto boys' fighting ability. They have never lacked in it and this year will be no exception. The team will go into the contest with every idea of winning and they are sure to make the Bears fight to the very last minute of the contest. It is bound to be a contest worth while witnessing. It is for a very worthy cause. The United War Work fund needs every cent it can get. The Y. M. C. A., the Salvation Army, the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish Welfare Board and American Library Association and the War Community Service have and will do a most wonderful service to our boys. The profits of this game are going towards this fund. The game takes place at California Field at 2:30 on Thanksgiving afternoon. The price of admission is $2 and all seats are reserved. People on this side of the bay can procure their tickets at Spaldings, Maxwells and Sherman & Clay's beginning today.

Olympic-Sailors' Game Is Postponed

VALLEJO, Nov. 25.—Through a misunderstanding over the condition of the playing field, the game advertised for yesterday between the Mare Island Sailors and the Olympic Club failed to take place.

Football Star Is Killed in France

PITTSBURG, Nov. 26. — Lieutenant Joseph Duff, former All-American football guard and a noted gridiron star of many seasons, was killed in action in France October 10, according to word just received here by relatives. In 1912 he graduated from Princeton, in the same year being named an All-American guard. He coached the Princeton varsity team that fall and the University of Pittsburg elevens of 1913 and 1914.

Moore Shipyard Soccer Team Wins by Odd Goal

At Emeryville ball grounds yesterday, before a disappointing attendance, the Moore Shipyard club defeated the Alameda Unions, 3 to 2, in an exhibition of soccer football for the benefit of the United War Work fund, that will be long remembered by those in attendance. The game, which was handled by Referee J. Askham, was started at 2:45 p. m. Right from the kick-off the Moore boys made tracks for McFarlane and after some fine combination, came within an ace of scoring, fine tackling by Middleton saving the situation.

Play thereafter centered in midfield for a time, the respective halfbacks being masters of the situation. A fast combined run on the Moore left again carried play toward McFarlane, Harrison ending the pressure by missing by inches. From the goal-kick, Nicholson got possession and showing a clean pair of heels to the Moore defense, finished with a rocket shot which Ferrero handled in masterly fashion.

After 25 minutes' play, clever work by Boyd placed Melbourne in favorable position for scoring and Moores stood one goal ahead. Till the interval, play was fast and interesting, but half-time arrived without further scoring. Play ranged from end to end, both goalkeepers making some splendid saves, the Alameda boys perhaps having a trifle the best of matters. However, the Moore boys were soon overruning the Alameda defense, a splendid shot from Horneman putting them two goals ahead.

Right from the kick-off the Union forwards carried play to Ferrero, where Hay reduced the leeway making the score 2 to 1. Play, if anything, became faster, with Alameda again putting on the pressure, Robertson scoring the equalizing goal. With their record now in danger, the Moore boys went out after the leading goal but luck was against them and it seemed as though the game would end in a tie when Harrison after some fine work by the Moore forwards, put his team in the lead with a brilliant shot.

To the end the exchanges were fast but time arrived with the Moore gang leading, 3 goals to 2, and one goal just about represents their superiority, the Union boys putting up a surprisingly good game; Middleton, Paice, Garside showing to advantage; while on the Moore side Wood, Boyd, O'Donnell and Harrison were a little better than the others. The gate receipts and collection by the Boy Scouts totaled $85, but the sale of tickets is expected to net over $250 for the fund.

The teams:

Moores — Ferrero, Davidson, Milne, Elliott, Boyd, O'Donnell, Dyer, Melbourne, Harrison, R. Wood and Horneman.

Alameda Union—McFarlane, Middleton, Ewen, Garside, Paice, Lumsden, Nicholson, Haig, Hay, Foster and Robertson.

S. F. Winter League

RESULTS YESTERDAY.

Jeffersons 11, North Beach Federals 4.
American Eagles-Sanborn Vail, rain.

American Eagles	4	2	.666
Federals	4	4	.500
Sanborn Vail	1	6	.142

Only one game was played in the San Francisco Midwinter league yesterday, the morning game having to be postponed because of wet grounds. The Jeffersons increased their lead for first place by defeating the North Beach Federals, 11 to 4. Pierotti and Bersotti were the pitchers for the Federals, while Richards hurled for the winners and allowed six hits. All but two players on the Jefferson club got two hits each.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
North Beach Federals	4	6	4
Jeffersons	11	15	3

Batteries — Pierotti, Barsotti and Crespi; Richards and Lamey.

SEVENTEEN INNING GAME.

Another transbay game went extra innings when the Mountain Outlaws and Palo Alto met in a double-header. The Outlaws won both of them, the first being nine innings and the second seventeen innings. The scores:

First game:	R.	H.	E.
Outlaws	2	6	0
Palo Alto	1	6	1

Batteries—Roland and Walker; Pine and Callahan.

Second game:	R.	H.	E.

Batteries — Gibson and Walker; Price and Callahan.

NEW WALKING RECORDS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Richard F. Remer of the New York Athletic Club, established two American walking records here today in the United War Work eight-mile handicap. He covered eight miles in one hour, one minute and thirty-four seconds, lowering the record 24¼ seconds. He then lowered the one-hour record by 119 yards, covering seven miles and 1437 feet.

Stan Miller Wins 20-Inning Battle

The longest baseball game to be played in San Francisco this season took place yesterday when Jack Brown's Colma club defeated San Carlos in 20 innings by a score of 4 to 3. Stanley Miller hurled for the winners and allowed five hits, being invincible after the second frame. Errorless ball was played by both teams.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Colma	4	11	0
San Carlos	3	5	0

Batteries — S. Miller and McIntyre; Mathews and R. Miller.

Watch the Little Pimples; They Are Nature's Warning

Unsightly and Disfiguring Signals of Bad Blood.

Don't close your eyes to the warning which nature gives, when unsightly pimples appear on your face and other parts of the body.

Not only are these pimples and splotches disfiguring, but they lead to serious skin diseases that spread and cause the most discomforting irritation and pain. Sometimes they foretell Eczema, boils, blisters, scaly eruptions and other annoyances that burn like flames of fire, and make you feel that your skin is ablaze.

When these symptoms appear on any part of the body, take prompt steps to rid the blood of these disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal as a purifier is S. S. S., the purely vegetable blood medicine, which has been on the market for more than fifty years. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disease, do not expect to be cured by lotions, ointments, salves and other local remedies, as they can not possibly reach the source of the trouble, which is in the blood. Begin taking S. S. S. to-day, and write a complete history of your case to our chief medical advisor who will give you special instructions, without charge. Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Extensive covering on the part of shorts ran up prices today in the corn market after moderate initial declines. Opening quotations, which ranged from ¼ to 1c off, with December $1.24 to $1.24¼ and January $1.25½ to $1.25¾, were followed by an advance to well above Saturday's finish. Oats swayed with corn. After opening unchanged to ¼c lower with January 72¾c to 72½c, the market receded a little further and then made a quick ascent.

Higher quotations on hogs lifted provisions. Strength of the hog market was ascribed to speculative demand.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, old, $1.47; No. 3 yellow, old, $1.40@1.43; No. 3 yellow, new, $1.35@1.40; No. 4 yellow, old, $1.30@1.38; No. 4 yellow, new, $1.33@1.35. Rye, No. 2, $1.61½@1.64. Barley, 90c@$1.02. Timothy, $7.00@10.20. Clover, nominal.

The close:
Corn—Dec., $1.22⅛; Jan., $1.22⅝.
Oats—Dec., 70⅝c; Jan., 70c.
Pork—Nov., $43.75; Jan., $45.90.
Lard—Nov., $26.65; Jan., $25.97.
Ribs—Nov., $25.75; Jan., $24.52.

Subsequently sharp breaks in values took place, owing to hedging pressure, modification of the car per mile system northwest and to predictions of much larger receipts in the near future. Besides, it was announced that Argentina corn was being shipped to Belgium. The close was heavy, 2⅞@4⅞c net lower, with December $1.22⅛ and January $1.22⅝@1.22¾.

Dock and Deck

All bar harbors along the northern coast are closed on account of the rough weather, and it may be several days before vessels can leave these ports. At Coos Bay the tug Relief is ready to tow the hull of the new steamer Fort Leavenworth to Oakland, where she will receive her machinery. The steamer Coolgardie started out of the Golden Gate for Australia, but Captain Thompson found the bar too rough, and he put back to port. All steamers arriving here are several hours late, owing to the bad weather along the coast. So far, no accidents have been reported.

The United States Government has ordered coal from Japan. A steamer is now en route from a Japanese port to Honolulu with 6000 tons of coal for the Government station. After she unloads this cargo she will take on 250,000 cases of pineapples for this port.

Captain Mike Hogan, a pioneer skipper of the Southern Pacific company, is on the retired list. He was master of the ferry steamer Newark for many years. Hogan has resided in Oakland for over thirty years.

The British steamer War Tyee came into port yesterday for engine repairs. She is a new craft and was en route to the Atlantic coast for Victoria. Captain Cross is master of the vessel.

Two sailing vessels arrived from Australia yesterday—the British bak Rona, which brought a cargo of 2700 bundles of wool, and the schooner Thistle, which had 2100 tons of wheat. There are several other sailing vessels on the way to this port from Australia with wheat cargoes. Many of them are due before the end of this month.

The Merchants Exchange of Seattle is working hard to try and get the Matson Navigation Company to run a triangular service between the Golden Gate, Seattle and Honolulu. This was tried before by John S. Kimball of Oakland, who had the steamship by the same name. After a year of service he found out it was not profitable and withdrew the vessel. A few years ago the Matson company sent a few of its steamers from this port to take cargoes for Honolulu, but with no success.

The barkentine Olympic arrived in port after a good passage of 70 days from Sydney, with a cargo of 1500 tons of copra. This is her first voyage rigged as a barkentine. She was formerly a bark, but on her last voyage to this port she ran into a hurricane and lost her mainmast, and when she reached port her owners changed her rig.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Custom House: Captain John Benedikson, steamer Bertie Hanlon; Captain C. F. Hall, steamer Tatoosh; Captain P. Stanbourg, steamer Caspar; Captain G. Reich, schooner Dora.

PILGRIMAGE DOES HONOR TO SERRA

By LAURA BRIDE POWERS.

The 205th birthday of Fra. Junipero Serra, the Father of California, was celebrated yesterday in San Francisco and in Carmel, where in the famous old Mission San Carlos de Borromeo, he lies buried.

A committee from the Landmarks League, with simple ceremony, placed a wreath upon the heroic bronze figure of the Franciscan padre that rises from among the shrubs near the museum in the Golden Gate Park.

At Carmel an impressive ceremony took place in the old mission that Fra Junipero had caused to be established in 1770. The religious service was conducted by Father Mestres, in charge of the mission and the old Presideo church in Monterey. In the beautiful vestments that had come from Spain with the intrepid pioneers, Father Mestres sang the mass, with Father Smith of San Francisco assisting. Representatives from various organizations were present, among them the president of the Y. M. I. of Oakland, M. A. McInnis. Joseph R. Knowland, who was to have delivered the principal address, was unable to attend on account of illness, and Michael Williams, representing the Knights of Columbus, took his place on the program. Frank H. Powers then presented four little pine trees grown from cones that had been sent to him from Petra, Spain, Fra Junipero's birthplace. Despite the rain, these were planted at four corners of the cross that marks what is thought to have been the cell wherein the padre passed his last hours.

The Ave Maria and the Te Deum were sung, as was the habit of the Franciscans when, blazing their way through the wilderness, they achieved the establishment of an outpost of civilization.

It was determined at the gathering to forward the creation of models for all the old missions in California, in accordance with the terms of the legislative bill that created the History Commission of California, wherein provision is made that hearings may be heard by the commission in various centers of the State, of all persons who have information that may throw light upon the construction and design of missions now gone to ruin.

Thus authoritive models will be established, and all work of restoration in the years to come will conform to the accepted design, thus eliminating the possibility of an inaccurate and unacceptable rehabilitation of California of characteristic architectural features.

National Help for Education Is Urged

Approval of Senate bill No. 4987 and measures provided in the bill for the establishment of a national department of education, the head of which shall be a member of the President's cabinet, and for the appropriation of funds to aid the states in establishing Americanization machinery and means of wiping out illiteracy, is embodied in a resolution to be presented by Director W. H. Edwards to the Board of Education at its meeting tonight. The resolution says in part:

"The great war and its recent victorious outcome have made clear to the American people the possibilities of the development of universal democracy among the nations of the earth.

"Such a competent democracy demands the Americanization and amalgamation of all elements of our population into a citizenship in whom the universal ruling motive and universal civic attitude shall be common good.

"A system of public school education which shall provide for all the youth of the country up to an age approaching maturity the common elements of a civic attitude of genuine Americanism, a universal preparedness of physical well being, and an ability to use the English language is fundamental to such a democracy.

order that "evil and designing persons may not impose upon her."

Walter T. McGinley, at present manager of Mrs. Stocker's interests, is named in the petition as having "obtained from the said Clara Baldwin Stocker, without consideration to him, transfers of property in excess of $1,000,000."

EMPLOYS MANAGER.

When Mrs. Stocker broke off her business relations with Attorney Gavin McNab of San Francisco, whom she had retained as legal counsel for her properties, McGinley was employed as manager.

How Mrs. Stocker met McGinley, said to be a former circus man, after a period of twenty years, furnishes the preliminary setting for the present action.

About two and one-half years ago Mrs. Stocker, who was then residing at Venice, met McGinley in the Ship cafe. It had been twenty years since she had seen him. He was less than 30 years of age when she first met him.

"McGinley proposed marriage to Mrs. Stocker and it was because of his attentions that Mrs. Stocker deeded immense property holdings to McGinley," declares Attorney Cross of Los Angeles, who represents Snyder. "Despite statements made to Mrs. Stocker by members of her family that McGinley is married, Mrs. Stocker's faith in McGinley has remained unshaken."

Some time ago Mrs. Stocker deeded property in the Montebello district, a part of the old Baldwin estate, to McGinley. Oil was recently discovered on this property and acreage that formerly could have been purchased for a nominal figure is now conservatively estimated to be worth millions

EXPLAINS HER SIDE.

"The land is not worth anything and I did not give McGinley much when I gave him that property," Mrs. Stocker is quoted as saying. Even after oil was discovered and the revenue from the wells became enormous, Mrs. Stocker up to the present time, it is charged, has made no effort to have the land returned to her. On this land four wells are now gushing forth oil and other wells are to be put down.

Recently Mrs. Stocker and her sister, Mrs. Anita Baldwin, former wife of Hull McClaughry of Berkeley, leased 3000 acres of the Cienega ranch, located southwest of Los Angeles, to the Standard Oil Company, for the purpose of drilling for oil, this land being contiguous to oil fields which have produced untold millions in oil. If oil is discovered the two sisters are to receive one-sixth royalty of all that is produced. The lease figure was $160,000. An effort will be made to determine what became of Mrs. Stocker's half of the lease money.

WALKOUT VOTED TO SAVE MOONEY

to the Macy Board at Washington is granted prior to that date. Should the strike be ordered it would affect every shipyard in the Eastbay district and would ultimately throw 25,000 shipyard craftsmen out of employment.

MACHINISTS TAKE VOTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—It was announced today that 96 per cent of a secret vote cast by 2000 members of Machinists' Union, No. 68, last night, favor a general strike as a means of securing executive clemency in behalf of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings. The question as put to the meeting was:

"Are you willing to strike when called upon by this local in behalf of Mooney and Billings?"

A telegram was sent to President Wilson, saying in part:

"May we plead with you that, prior to your departure to Europe, you again say a word in behalf of Tom Mooney, who is about to be unjustly murdered."

COMMITTEE IS NAMED.

The following is the special committee appointed by the San Francisco Labor Council to wait on Governor Stephens in behalf of Thomas J. Mooney:

Daniel C. Murphy, president State Federation of Labor; Paul Scharrenberg, secretary and treasurer of the State Federation of Labor; Daniel C. Haggerty, president of the Labor Council; George Tracy, civil service commissioner and president of the Typographical Union; James Flatley, business agent of the Electrical Workers; B. B. Rosenthal, president of the Upholsterers' Union; John P. McLaughlin, labor commissioner; John O'Connell, secretary of the Labor Council.

It is understood that Attorney Edwin V. Mackenzie will be attached to the committee.

A. F. L. OPPOSES.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The American Federation of Labor is not in sympathy with the strikes threatened in protest against the pending execution of Thomas J. Mooney.

Officers of the federation are doing all in their power to effect executive clemency for Mooney because they believe there is a reasonable doubt of his guilt.

They are opposed to the use of the strike weapon because they believe that such tactics tend more to injure than to help Mooney's chances for a new trial.

This statement of the attitude of the American Federation of Labor was made to the International News Service by Frank Morrison, secretary of the body, who had just returned from the labor conferences on the Mexican border.

MASS MEETING IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Two mass meetings will be staged in New York tonight in protest against the execution of Tom Mooney. The Socialists will meet in Madison Square Garden while the United Hebrew Trades and other labor bodies will meet in Cooper Union.

PASADENA, Nov. 25.—Upton Sinclair, novelist and former leader in the Socialist party, has sent the following telegram to Governor Stephens:

"If you permit Mooney to die you accomplish two results: First: You greatly weaken the influence of President Wilson with labor and Socialist forces abroad upon which he must depend for support of his program of international justice. Second: You make almost impossible a peaceful issue of the impending struggle between labor and capital in America."

THE STRUGGLE
BY ZOE BECKLEY

THE MALINGERER.

The next morning the sun came out and smiled over its spring cleaning of nature. All the charm of late spring in a pleasant residential country beckoned to old and young to come out of doors and revel. At the clubhouse tennis courts a dozen young men and women were sun-kissed with an inspiration.

"Let's all go down in canoes to Rainbow Dam!" one cried.

"And stay there over night!" another added. "We'll take silk tents for the boys and put the girls up at the Rainbow Inn."

"Horoo! Hooray!"

An hour later the clubhouse float was swarming with gay young Arcadians. A little fleet of canoes, in each of them a young man and his Most Likely Girl, was ready to start. In a cedar skiff, a little aloof as befitted the chaperoning couple of the expedition, were Al and Lily Blake.

Ned Flowerton and Fay Summers were the last to leave the float in their canoe. The slight delay had been caused by Edith's wistful inquiries.

"You're sure, dear, you won't forget your appointment with Mr. Brock Monday morning?" she asked wistfully.

"No, no, Ede!" Ned cried impatiently. "We get back Sunday night."

Edith looked upon his eagerness to be off with the unease of one whose child is leaving for an outing from which danger is not altogether absent. With Lil Blake to chaperone the party, gayety and sentiment was sure to be the mood throughout. With her keen design to bring Ned to a definite engagement to Fay, Lil would certainly create the proper and irresistible occasion for the young man to propose to her niece.

But Edith did not allow herself to dampen the gayety of Ned's starting. After all, he had earned his good time. He had brought his invention to a successful working. The prospect of realization on it was brilliant. She watched the little flotilla leave and an ineffable longing for a little respite from anxiety filled her.

"Come on, hon, we'll take a paddle ourselves, you and I!" she heard John say to her. He had been watching her quietly and guessed right and did the right thing.

They got into a canoe by themselves—the children were playing at the Fenns. John paddled her to where the green of trees shadowed the lakeside and a little path at the end of a pretty inlet invited them to enter the cool young wood. John talked quietly of things that drew her mind to a holiday mood and courted her in the quiet way of lovers of long standing.

The next day he took her and the children on a little picnic to the same spot and Edith had the respite she longed for.

But on their way back a neighbor stepped out on the clubhouse porch and called out to them that the canoeing party had telephoned they would not be back to Arcadia until the following morning.

"They had stopped to swim; and for a dance at the Woodvale Country Club, where they were invited; and they sat up too late around the campfire. So they're all fagged. The girls are staying over at the Rainbow Inn. The boys who have to be at work Monday are paddling back. They'll be at it all night and expect to get home in time," the man called out.

Ned Flowerton, sun-baked and sleepless, unshaven and tired, came into the house Monday with only twenty minutes in which to make the train for the city. If he missed it he would also miss his appointment with the manager of the Universal Heater Company.

Edith knew all this. She did not know how Lil Blake had fared in her design to make Ned propose to her niece. Both what she knew and did not know gave Edith a sufficient burden of anxiety. But she did not show it to her brother beyond trying to help him to catch the train.

He did not catch the train. The one he did take brought him two hours late to his appointment. When he returned early that afternoon Edith saw at a glance that he had suffered a setback.

"Brock bought the other fellow's invention," he said sulkily. "Well, he's welcome to it. There are as good fish in the sea as Brock. The nerve of him trying to lecture me on keeping appointments! Huh!"

And he tramped up to his room to sleep.

Housing Movement Be Launched Tonight

The meeting of representatives of banks, mercantile interests, manufacturers, public service corporations, land-owners, women's organizations, and labor, called for tonight by the Oakland housing committee, is expected to mark the beginning of a definite movement toward the development of housing resources of Oakland. The report of a sub-committee which will be presented at the meeting is said to show that the growth of the city has now practically stopped due to the fact that virtually every habitable house is now occupied while new building is on the lowest level in years. Seattle is stated to have built about eight times as many houses this year as Oakland, despite the fact that one year ago the amount of building in the two cities was practically equal. The Seattle plan will be explained at the meeting, which will be held in the rooms of the Commercial Club, seventh floor Hotel Oakland.

Wants Bigger Work for Women of U. S.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—There must be something besides matinees and clothes for the girl of the future in the opinion of Miss Florence M. King, one of the best known women attorneys in the United States, who today called a Business Women's Reconstruction Conference to meet in Chicago the first week in December. Miss King, who is the only woman who ever won a case before the Supreme Court of the United States, says that the subjects for discussion will be (1) urging a woman to sit at the peace table; (2) suffrage, (3) food conservation.

ELOPES WITH DAUGHTER OF MILLIONAIRE

In a night letter asking "forgiveness and parental blessings," received by Mrs. Millard F. Fillmore of this city, the first intimation of the marriage of her son, Lieutenant William H. Fillmore, U. S. A., of the aviation corps and Miss Mildred Peet, daughter of Albert W. Peet, millionaire soap manufacturer of Kansas City, was made known to Eastbay society today.

Albert Peet, father of the bride, left this city Saturday and is now en route to his home in Kansas City, when he will be apprised of the wedding.

A telegram telling of the sudden marriage of the couple, in all probability an elopement, was received this morning, saying that the service was preformed Sunday evening in Kansas City, and that the couple were en route to Ellington Field, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed. This was immediately followed by a night letter, asking forgiveness of the bridegroom's parents.

The meeting of young Fillmore and Miss Peet took place two years ago, when the bride was a guest in this city and honored at a dinner at the Palace Hotel by Oakland friends. From then on, when on leave, Lieutenant Fillmore was often a guest at the Peet home in the eastern metropolis.

News of the marriage of the couple came as "out of a clear sky" to Eastbay society. Lieutenant Fillmore, who formerly made his home in this city, having married, in June, 1914, Miss Pearl Cawston, daughter of Mrs. Tyler Henshaw of Vernon Heights. Their marriage was of short duration and in 1916 a final decree of divorce was granted. Shortly after Fillmore entered the service of the army.

Mrs. William Fillmore (Mildred Peet) has played a prominent part in war work and during a recent influenza epidemic in her home city gave her services as a nurse in her father's factory to the sick employees. She has adopted several Belgian babies to care for as well as doing Red Cross work.

MRS. WILLIAM H. FILLMORE, bride of Lieutenant William H. Fillmore, U. S. A. air service, who before her marriage Sunday evening, was Miss Mildred Peet of Kansas City.

New Dry Law Will Hold, Says Decoto

That the statute extending the radius of the university dry zone to one and a half miles will hold, closing the saloons within that distance of the campus, is the informal opinion of District Attorney Ezra W. Decoto as expressed today. He has been giving careful consideration to the statute and has taken the matter up with attorneys representing the saloons affected.

The only question is a technical one as to whether the general law extending the dry area will hold over the specific statute fixing it at the distance of a mile. The newly discovered statute was enacted later than the specific act establishing the dry zone, and is a general law.

COMMITTEE WILL PLAN MEMORIAL

Mayor John L. Davie today announced in the City Council, upon a request for information from Commissioner W. H. Edwards regarding the proposed soldiers' memorial, that he would shortly appoint a committee to formulate plans to erect a memorial hall in honor of Oakland's soldier dead.

Commissioner Edwards suggested that a memorial bridge, with an honor arch, across Lake Merritt would be a fitting and useful memorial, but he agreed that the mayor's plan for a memorial hall would probably be the better plan. This hall could be used by the veterans of all our wars and the Red Cross also and should contain a bronze tablet with the name, date of birth and death, regiment and date of enlistment, of every man who gave his life to the great cause of humanity.

The committee will be named in a few days and the City Council will cooperate with the mayor in the furthering of the plan, which was first proposed by The TRIBUNE.

The reply of the capital issues committee has been received and it suggests that the matter is a splendid idea, but should be held in abeyance for a few days until they can get time to go into it more thoroughly. They will in all probability approve of the plan and as soon as this approval reaches the mayor the work will be pushed with vigor.

In the meantime the committee will be given power to take all preliminary steps looking to the securing of the cooperation of all social, commercial, patriotic and labor organizations.

"Johanna Enlists" Is Offered at Kinema

This is "Victory Week" at the Kinema Theater and "Johanna Enlists" is drawing crowded houses. In addition to the movie feature a special program is rendered at 3 p. m. and 9 p. m. every day. Mayor John L. Davie will preside at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening and F. W. Kellogg, newspaper publisher, who visited the battlefront, will tell of his impressions abroad.

The Oakland War Service League, with a membership of 32,000, has made arrangements with the theater management whereby the proceeds from the sale of all tickets outside of the theater box office will be turned over to the league to be used in liquidating bills contracted in furthering the war program. Tickets will be on sale at all nearby drug stores and in the lobby of the Central Bank building.

Boathouse Clerk Beaten in Dispute

Thomas Bacon, employee at the Municipal boathouse, was knocked unconscious by a sailor yesterday afternoon, following a dispute over the payment of a deposit on a canoe. According to spectators, there were many sailors present and the minute the dispute started a crowd gathered. A sailor from the crowd is said to have struck Bacon and then disappeared. The police are investigating.

GIRL HEROINE OF ROMANCE IS MISSING

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—A shattered romance coupled with an annulment of a hasty marriage, and new tangles in which the uniforms of Uncle Sam's men in the navy play an important part, are coupled in the disappearance of pretty 17-year-old Alberta Meals, daughter of A. N. Meals, insurance man of 2932 Pine Terrace, reported to the police this morning.

Involved in the disappearance of Miss Meals are two naval men, one her former husband, Frederick W. Fitzpatrick, from whom she has obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce, and the other a sailor named Randall, who called at the Meals home yesterday shortly before the young woman dropped from sight.

Mrs. Meals, mother of the young woman, scouts the theory that her daughter has eloped with either one of the men. According to a report made by the girl's father to the police shortly after midnight last night, Miss Meals disappeared from her home during the early part of last evening after having received a call from Randall, whom he states is stationed on the U. S. S. Ward, now in San Francisco bay.

ASKS POLICE AID.

Waiting until after midnight, when the girl failed to return home, Meals called upon the police authorities to aid him in the search. Up to noon today no trace had been found of Miss Meals despite a search by police on both sides of the bay.

Miss Meals, who is an unusually pretty girl of the Titian type of beauty, figured in a romantic elopement on October 22, 1917, when she slipped away from home and married Fitzpatrick, who was then in the navy. Parental objections to the marriage caused by the youth of the girl resulted in the latter filing suit for divorce several months ago, with the result that interlocutory decree has been granted.

According to friends of Miss Meals she still retained an affection for her former husband and had been meeting him clandestinely. Whether Randall bore news of Fitzpatrek to the girl last night or whether he pressed his own suit for the hand of the pretty young woman, the police and family are endeavoring to solve today.

Mrs. Meals declares that her daughter had severed her relations with Fitzpatrick entirely and that she is done with him for good. "She gave him up voluntarily" is her declaration. "I have never seen this man Randall, although he has called at the house on several occasions. It is ridiculous to state that my daughter eloped with him."

HAD BEEN ILL.

According to Mrs. Meals, her daughter had been ill for the past week with an abscess in a tooth. "Her face is still swollen from the abscess and she has not been out of the house for a week," she says. "However, the pain may have become so great last night that she became demented and is wandering about the streets."

Miss Meals is a talented musician and has devoted much of her time to musical study the past few years. She is well known in the younger social set in Claremont.

At the time of her disappearance last night she was attired in a sand colored suit, a full-length American beauty coat, a tan corduroy hat, black shoes and stockings. She is described as 5 feet 7 inches high, red gold hair, gray eyes and slight in build.

Turkeys to Be Plentiful for Holiday Trade

Plenty of turkeys to meet the Thanksgiving demand are expected by local dealers, as fair weather will greatly improve shipments. Dealers announced today that the retail prices of turkeys are expected to range from 45c to 50c a pound.

A trainload of turkeys is being assembled in different parts of the state, principally in the great interior valleys, according to dealers, and is expected to reach the bay cities tomorrow night or Wednesday morning. Generally speaking, they say the birds are in good condition. Under government instruction fewer small and immature turkeys will be sold this fall.

The supply of chickens, ducks, geese, pigeons and other poultry are expected to be plentiful in the local market. Prices remain firm.

The United States food administration announces that all kinds of poultry is expected to be quite plentiful for Thanksgiving in all parts of the country. Housewives are advised by the administration to prepare a menu with a view to conserving the food supply of the world.

GIRLS ESCAPE FROM 5TH FLOOR

Escaping from the custody of their aunt who intended turning them over to the police for alleged petty larceny, Rita Griffin, 16 years of age, and Josephine Percar, 18, now enjoy a record of descending by means of the fire escape from the fifth floor of a San Francisco hotel, girlish finery in their arms, grips and suitcases tagging after them and the police and aunt in hot pursuit.

The two girls escaped from the local detention home several days ago and departed hurriedly for San Francisco. According to Captain of Inspectors James Drew, the girls have a penchant for expensive clothes and are not particular whether they get them honestly or not. Several local stores have detailed their best shop-lifting experts to watch for the girls, but in many instances the sleuths have been outwitted.

The police have no clew as to the present whereabouts of the girls, and declare that the get-away was complete. A special detail of officers has been placed on the case by Captain Drew and the officers are co-operating with the girls' aunt in their efforts to land them back in the detention home.

ALAMEDANS SEE BIG TRIBUNE FILM

Alamedans saw themselves in the films yesterday, when the great TRIBUNE "Smiles" picture, taken at Lakeside park, of the relatives and friends of local boys at the front, was shown at the Alameda theater, 2418 Santa Clara avenue. The film will be shown again tonight and tomorrow matinee and night.

This film, a copy of which is on its way overseas, is The TRIBUNE'S Christmas gift to the boys "over there." Thousands of wives, parents, or sweethearts marched in the picture, carrying banners, calling the attention of the particular soldier they wished to attract. The film will be shown wherever Oakland, Berkeley or Alameda boys are stationed at the front.

The second copy is being shown locally, that those who marched in the film and their friends may see what was accomplished.

Old Established Concern Makes Profitable Offer

The offer of an exceptional rate of interest to its depositors by a local banking concern is creating widespread interest. Seven per cent interest was earned by the shareholders in the last series of stock that was matured by the Cosmopolitan Mutual Building and Loan Association, an organization that has been in business in Oakland for over 39 years. Depositors in the Association pay $1.00 or more per month and their deposits mature in some eleven years at the rate of $200.00 for each $1.00 monthly deposited—the $200.00 being the accumulated deposits and interest. Building and Loan Associations have been under the direct control of the State Building and Loan Commissioner for some years and are safe in every way. The offices of the Cosmopolitan Mutual Building and Loan Association are at 1130 Broadway, where information regarding this exceptional form of investment may be had.—Advertisement

CITIES ARE OFFERED NEW WATER PLAN

A resolution, adopted at a meeting of city officials of Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Richmond and calling for the appointment of a commission of three members from each city to consider the development of a joint water supply, was filed with the Oakland city council today. The meeting at which the plan was drawn up was called by City Manager C. E. Hewes of Alameda last week.

The plan of the joint meeting proposes "investigation of all feasible sources" of a water supply. Hewes was elected chairman of the conference, and says that the supply can be developed under the state law of 1903, which does not necessitate the formation of a utilities district.

The communication was supported on the floor of the city council by Judge A. F. St. Sure, city attorney of Alameda.

The city council informally assured Judge St. Sure that the proposal met with their entire approval, and Mayor John L. Davie announced that he would appoint City Attorney Hagan and Consulting Engineer Ralph A. Beebe to act as a committee to cooperate with this joint committee in working out plans to acquire a new and adequate water supply.

Judge St. Sure's remarks were listened to with marked attention, and upon the conclusion of his brief address the council referred the matter to Mayor Davie for action.

Mayor Davie expressed his willingness to drop his public service commission plan and adopt the plan suggested by the three sister cities for the securing of an adequate water supply. He stated that he had not yet named his commission of five, pending the sanction of one member to use his name.

THE RESOLUTION.

The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference that the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond each appoint a commission of three members, pursuant to the act of March 24, 1903, to consider and act upon the question of joint action to acquire and develop a water supply for their respective cities;

Resolved Further, That in order to minimize expense it is the sense of this meeting that such commission should in each instance consist of city officials only, and it is also the sense of this meeting that two members of each commission should be the city attorney and the city engineer.

There were present at the meeting last Friday which sponsored this movement, the following city officials: C. E. Hewes, city manager of Alameda; Judge A. F. St. Sure, city attorney of Alameda; Burnett Hamilton, city engineer of Alameda; H. L. Hagan, city attorney of Oakland; Perry F. Brown, city engineer of Oakland; Ralph Beebe, efficiency engineer of Oakland; E. J. Sinclair, city attorney of Berkeley; C. C. Kennedy, city engineer of Berkeley; B. D. Marx Greene, associate counsel of Berkeley; H. D. Chapman, city engineer of Richmond.

HEWES IS CHAIRMAN.

Hewes, who was elected chairman of the meeting, explained today his purpose in calling the conference:

"Popular agitation in favor of lower rates and sufficient water has been so insistent during the past few months that all city officials of the Eastbay Cities have been made to realize that some immediate solution munity has definitely repudiated the formation of a public utility district, upon the ground that it was merely adding to our present complex system of government another political entity with paid officials and large expense.

"We find upon the statute books a very simple act passed in 1903, which authorizes cities to jointly acquire a municipal water supply must be found. The Eastbay communities without the necessity of forming a district or being bound by the cumbersome restraints, expenses and limitations of other acts. The plain import of this act is that each city shall own its own distributing system, and that together the co-operating cities shall acquire and operate a joint supply.

ASKS FOR APPROVAL.

"If the various city councils approve of the form of procedure which we have recommended, it will be the duty of the commissions to investigate all possible sources and make a joint recommendation as to feasibility, cost and proper apportionment of expense. The act itself points out a fair basis of cost apportionment based upon the consumption of water in each community.

"We sincerely hope that we have finally reached a real and logical solution of the most perplexing municipal problem that we have before us."

Schools Not to "Rush" Children Hunter Refuses to "Speed" Courses

No attempt will be made on the part of the Oakland schools to make up the time apparently lost during the five weeks of enforced vacation during the epidemic period, according to the statement of Superintendent of Schools Fred Hunter this morning. Superintendent Hunter goes thoroughly into the reasons for this order in a communication which is addressed to the directors, supervisors and teachers of the Oakland schools. He says:

"No attempt will be made on the part of the Oakland schools to make up the time thus apparently lost. The 30,000 children of Oakland will be undoubtedly the gainers if the classroom teachers of the city are enabled to prosecute the remaining portions of the work of the semester and of the year in the prime of vigor and physical vitality.

DEPENDS ON TEACHER.

"The most indispensable factor in effective teaching is not a full complement of subject matter, but a teacher who is filled with enthusiasm for her work and who has the physical vigor to realize her best ideals. If we attempt to make up the time we shall sacrifice teachers and pupils to subject matter. We may be able to realize a larger area of scholastic ground covered, but we shall sacrifice immeasurably in the finest educational results. The pressure of events during the war months and the lingering effects of the epidemic make it very advisable that the best physical resources of our whole teaching body be carefully conserved and invested to the best advantage in enthusiastic classroom procedure. The service period is to be used for announcements and community purposes. Principals' visit to classes should be for supervision of instruction only.

"We have lost five weeks, or one-fourth of the semester. Satisfactory completion, then, of three-fourths of the work of the semester will be counted as a full complement for promotion in all grades of our schools. It will be incumbent upon the head of each department in the high schools and upon the principal in the elementary and junior high schools to call into consultation his teachers and to decide upon the essential elements of the remaining portion of the work to be done.

TO CONSULT HEADS.

"In deciding upon the above stipulated requirement, heads of departments and principals will consult supervisors and directors in special subjects where there are such supervisors and directors in making a choice of subject matter. The most essential elements to the carrying on of the work of the next higher grade should, of course, be chosen. The material selected should constitute a sort of outline of minimum essentials. The standards in making promotions will be thus already outlined and circulated among the teaching body by the committee of promotions and rates of progress and by Mr. Dickson's department. Under no circumstances should there be a feeling that an increased number of failures should result because of losing the five weeks. The loss of five weeks or more is practically universal throughout the country, so in a comparative sense there is virtually no loss. Principals and heads of departments will therefore follow carefully the spirit of the above directions."

The calendar of the remaining portion of the semester and the following term will remain unchanged. Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays will be followed out as originally planned. The semester will close January 24, the new semester to begin January 27. The schools will close in June.

Superintendent Hunter tenders his thanks to the teachers of the city who assisted in a body and individually in conquering the influenza epidemic.

OAKLAND SCHOOLS AGAIN OPENED

The Schools of Oakland opened today after an enforced vacation of five weeks while the influenza epidemic was at its height. The Board of Health and school authorities, after a careful survey, determined that all danger of contagion and further spread of the disease was unlikely and ordered all classrooms opened today.

A return of 30,000 school children to the schools was made this morning. The utmost caution and watchfulness will be observed by teachers and pupils. Those developing colds of any nature will be asked to take precautions.

It was after an average daily absence of 7000 students and teachers was recorded that the schools were temporarily closed. The suspension of the studies has given an opportunity to the educators to participate actively in the stamping out of the epidemic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Today the school bells rang out for the first time since October 11, when the schools were closed by order of the health department.

This enforced vacation, which didn't anger the pupils, will necessitate the shortening of the Christmas vacations. One week will be the allotment for the holiday period.

Superintendent of Schools Roncovieri has made himself the sworn enemy of all pupildom by submitting a plan for extending the school day twenty-five minutes. Action on the proposition has been postponed.

Youth Is Accused of Robbing Store

Charles Betts, 13-year-old boy of 2907 Linden street, was arrested today, charged with having rifled the till of Frank G. Tsukahara, 2935 Market street on October 26. According to the police, Betts rolled a dime under the counter and under the pretense of helping the owner of the store find the coin, stole over $400 from the till.

Betts, however, declares there is nothing to such a report, and claims to have been far away from that store on the date mentioned.

Legal Staff for Railroads Chosen

The personnel of the legal staff of railroads in this district under Federal Manager W. R. Scott has been made public. Guy V. Shoup is named general solicitor of the Southern Pacific, Western Pacific, Tidewater Southern and Deep Creek railroads, operating in the Central Western region. Shoup has appointed the following as his associates: Henley C. Booth, Foshay Walker, Elmer Westlake, H. H. Gogarty, Arthur L. Clark, F. B. Austin, D. R. Sessions, as claims attorneys; D. V. Cowden as tax attorney, and the firm of Baggerly & Ashton to serve as local counsel.

M. E. McKirahan has been appointed freight claim agent for all lines under Federal Manager W. R. Scott. His assistants are R. G. Fagan and W. S. Whiteman.

Traffic on Bridge Must Wait Repairs

Beginning Wednesday of this week and continuing until the repair work is finished, the Webster street estuary bridge will be closed to all traffic except foot passengers, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. daily.

The order was made today by the Board of Supervisors after a conference with the contractors, the transportation company and the surveyor's office.

Street cars will stop within 100 feet of the work and passengers will be transferred across on foot, during the closed period. Automobiles, trucks and other vehicles will have to go around by way of Park or High streets.

Water Company Is Granted Extension

The Eastbay Water Company was granted an extension until February 12, 1919, by the State Railroad Commission today within which to file its plan for the disposal of superfluous land and also the filing of a plan for the construction and putting into operation modern filtration plants.

CHILDREN IN PILGRIMAGE FOR ROMANCE

By EDNA B. KINARD.

But, ah, the home-coming is another thing.

Louise Kagel, age 14, and Billy Goodwin, age 8, know that high adventure ends sometimes in family displeasure and maternal chidings. When the two romantic young companions returned yesterday morning to their homes with shining eyes and brilliant cheeks, all alive because they had seen the world and ready to relate to the grown-ups the wonderful tale of the great white way which they had discovered for themselves, they found that Mrs. Otto Kagel, 5702 Ayala street, and Mrs. J. D. Goodwin, 552 Miranda street, were not at all interested. The adults gave all their attention to an endeavor to find out minutely where the hours since Saturday afternoon had been spent, and a determined effort to pin the youngsters down to material facts rather than exciting joys.

The Kagel and Goodwin homes are within the same square out Idora park way. Louise Kagel, blessed with a vivid imagination and a desire to go exploring, invited the youthful boy to be her companion. The same spirit which moves men to climb the air on a flimsy piece of stick and a bit of canvas, or to seek through terrible snows the North Pole, urged the youngsters to adventure.

LURE IS STRONG.

There were the 'movies' with their pictures of young maidens who ventured forth, protected by a little boy, with marvelous happenings along the way, fairy coaches, dashing steeds and bowing multitudes. Romance must be sought, not tarried for, does one hope to shine. The stage was all ready set when Louise suggested to Billy that they go to the big city across the bay. Billy's father is a soldier fighting in France and Billy has a truly martial outlook on life. Maybe, if he went far enough, he could see soldiers and ships and other things. The wireless that had once decorated the woodshed had been dismantled and there was not much to interest a small boy but his imagination. Word had gone round that school would open on Monday. It was enough to kindle any high soul to swift and irrevocable action. Why start something by mentioning the journey to their families?

So Louise and her small companion, Billy, had a beautiful time Saturday. They were entirely unconscious that the quiet neighborhood where their comfortable homes were situated was all a-flutter over the disappearance of the children. Police of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Francisco, families and friends were making a determined search.

Night fell and the children grew weary. Anyway, they were lost. So they dropped in "somewhere" and asked for a room. Childhood has no time to worry and sleep came gently and soon. They were braver in the daylight and decided that they would go home. It was then that the youngsters discovered what a terrible thing they had done. Their respective families between kisses and hugs and frowns informed them. School opened today, so the finale is written to that beautiful chapter of adventure.

UNCLE IS ANGRY.

Harry Goodwin, uncle of young Billy, has declared that he will take action against the Hotel Edgas, 91 Turk street, where they registered as Dorothy and Eddie Mason. He is firm in declaring that no proprietor should have permitted the girl and her small boy companion to remain without making an effort to communicate with their people.

Victim of Collision Dies in Hospital

James E. Johnson, victim of a collision between his motorcycle and an automobile at Stanford avenue and Marshal street last night, died at Fabiola Hospital this morning at 7:15 o'clock. The police inspectors are investigating the accident. The automobile was driven by John C. Caughlan, 6161 Telegraph avenue.

Johnson, whose age was 25 years, was married and the father of two children, who lived with their mother at 5606 Telegraph avenue.
